GERMANS ARE NOW STRIKING ANOTHER MIGHTY BLOW

SEEK ANEW TO BLAST WAY THROUGH TO SEA

London, Nov. 6.—(1:33 p. m.)—What has now become another well defined stage of the battle in West Flanders—that is to say, a second concerted attempt of the German army to blast its way through to the sea—was flaming and roaring from Nieuport to the French frontier today without definite result so far on either side.

The area near the coast, formerly held by the extreme German right and from which the invaders were forced by the allies after many days of hard fighting, is held only by dead, dying and wounded, the inundation having made the vicinity uninhabitable for the living and having prevented an advance of the British, French and Belgian allies.

Hundreds of Germans left behind in the retreat doubtless will perish, as many were marooned like drift wood on a lowland in time of flood. Thousands more on both sides are yet to perish in the struggle now progressing, the outcome of which decides whether the Germans are going to reach the French coast this winter.

An official dispatch from the British army headquarters at the front today pays tribute to the way the invaders are meeting with death and speculates as heretofore whether this is due to patriotism or to ironclad discipline. Whatever the explanation, Col. E. D. Swinton, of the British army intelligence department, who writes these eye-witness accounts, says:

"The German troops have won our respect for the way in which they have advanced."

Only a vague picture can be formed up to the present as to what is happening on the Russo-Turkish frontier or in Egypt. Experience has shown that both sides will for days claim the first victories as their respective troops clash near the borders.

FIGHTING IS VIOLENT.

Paris, Nov. 6.—(2:50 p. m.)—The French official announcement give nout in Paris this afternoon says yesterday passed without any perceptible modification on the front. The fighting between Dixmude and the Lys continued without any marked advance or retirement.

The text of the communication follows: "There was no perceptible modification during yesterday anywhere on the front. The fighting continued between Dirmude and the Lys with the same characteristics as previously and without any marked advance or retirement at any point. There was violent cannonading to the north of Arras, and also directed upon Arras, without result for the enemy.

"The German effort in Belgium and in the north of France continues. The Germans seem to have undertaken changes in the composition of their forces which are operating in this region and are reinforcing their reserve corps, composed of new organizations which have been severely tested with active troops with the idea of undertaking a new offensive movement or at least to mitigate the bloody checks which have been inflicted upon them.

"Between the Somme and the Oise and between the Oise and the Meuse there have been minor actions. We have consolidated our advance on the village of Andechy, to the west of Roye. A column of German wagons has been destroyed by the fire of our artillery at long range in the region of Nampoel, to the northeast of the forest of Aigue.

"Near Berry-au-Bac we have retaken the village of Sapignul which had been captured by the Germans.

"There has been a furious fight in the Argonne, where, as a result of fighting with the bayonet, our troops drove the Germans back."

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Germany is striking another mighty blow along the whole line of battle. Recrudescence of activity is indicated by today's official French statement which mentions severe encounters at various points between Flanders and the Swiss border.

Meanwhile, fighting is proceeding actively by land and sea in the new war zone created by Turkey's entrance into the conflict and a British warship is said to have met with disaster in the attack on the Dardanelles.

The battle in Belgium has resulted in no decisive advantages for either side. The fiercest encounters center about a sharp bend in the German line forming a triangle, with the northern base at Dixmude, the southern at Ypres and the apex at Roulers. Around this comparatively small area are compressed great bodies of men engaged in so deadly a struggle that heedless of the effectiveness of artillery fire, the opposing forces have pushed forward until they have come into actual physical contact. Only sheer weight of men and metal is sufficient to win a temporary advance. The plains of Flanders thus have been transformed into something like a gigantic football field.

Reports from British and French sources make the claim that the German attack is weakening and that the allies have a reasonable hope of driving back their foes to the interior of Belgium and thus compelling a general retirement along the rest of the line. German advices, however, offer no basis for such a conclusion.

Apparently the Germans are bringing in heavy reinforcements with the determination of increasing instead of decreasing the fury of their attack. Emperor William is said to be at the scene personally directing the attack. Forty heavy German guns from the Krupp works at Essen are on their way to Arras at which point the attack is developing with violence in pursuance of the supposede new plan of the Germans to pierce the French line at that point. Along the rest of the line the offensive generally remains with the Germans.

In the east the Russians claim a decisive victory over the Austrians. They have recaptured the town of Jaroslau, near the fortress of Przemysl, Petrograd reports, capturing 5,000 Austrian prisoners. The Austrians are now said to be in retreat.

Russia is prosecuting vigorously the war against Turkey. Petrograd advices are that Russian forces have entered Armenia by two routes and that several Turkish regiments have been annihilated. The Turkish fleet has [illegible] Russian [illegible]

BOTH BRANCHES ARE DEMOCRATIC

Indianapolis, Nov. 6.—A resume of Tuesday's voting for members of the Indiana legislature which meets next January, shows that the democrats retained a good working majority in both branches. The membership will be as follows:

House—Democrats elected 59; republicans, 40; progressives, 1; total, 100.

Complete official and revised unofficial returns from every precinct in Indiana give the following: For United States senator: Benj. F. Shively, democrat, 272,902; Hugh Th. Miller, republican, 222,389; A. J. Beveridge, progressive, 108,396. Shively's plurality, 50,513.

The vote for secretary of state was: Homer L. Cook, democrat, 262,036; Ed Jackson, republican, 232,683; W. A. Pierson, progressive, 92,775. Cook's plurality, 29,353. The rest of the democratic state ticket was elected by pluralities ranging between the pluralities of Shively and Cook. Cook, according to incomplete returns, ran far behind the rest of his ticket. Returns have not been received on the socialist and prohibition tickets.

BITTLER, POWERS AND UNDERWOOD

Especial interest attached to the Allen county vote received by the three Twelfth district men who were nominees on the state tickets—George A. Bittler, democrat, for treasurer of state; Homer C. Underwood, progressive, and Frank M. Powers, democrat, for judge of the appellate court for the Second district.

Allen county gave Mr. Bittler 8,816 votes as against 5,479 for Job Freeman republican, making Mr. Bittler's plurality in the county 3,337.

Judge Powers, of Angola, received 7,903 votes in Allen county as against 5,584 for his nearest republican competitor, and led the democratic state judicial nominees in this county. Mr. Underwood's vote in Allen county for the same position was 1,310. He led the progressive candidates for the place.

STEEL RAILWAYS WIN BY RULING

Washington, Nov. 6.—In a supplemental decision today in the industrial railways case, the interstate commerce commission directed trunk line railroads to re-establish allowances or divisions with United States Steel Corporation railways which are concededly common carriers. Tens of thousands of dollars annually will accrue to the industrial lines through the decision.

In its conclusions the commission said: "We shall expect the trunk line railroads under the modification here made of our original findings to re-establish allowances, divisions, or demurrage, or per diem arrangements with the industrial roads only in instances in which the transaction is bona fide and in which it is clearly lawful and proper. Each case must be judged by its own facts and merits."

The commission modified its original findings on account of the decision of the supreme court in the tap line cases.

FIND POTATO DISEASE.

Powdery Scab Discovered in Two New York Counties.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Discovery of powdery scab in Franklin and Clinton counties, New York, caused the department of agriculture to consider today the advisability of putting into effect in that state federal quarantine regulations against this potato disease. A decision will not be reached, however, until after a public hearing on the question to be held Nov. 13 at the department.

HILL HAS 1,800 MEN ABOUT NACO

Washington, Nov. 6.—Conditions on the battlefield around Naco, Sonora, reported today by Brigadier General Bliss, were summarized in this statement by Secretary Garrison:

"General Hill is entrenched in a semicircle about Naco, Mex. He has about 1,800 men, well armed with plenty of ammunition and about 100 cavalry, fourteen machine guns and one small field gun. After the recent engagement Maytorena withdrew and now has about 1,000 men at Villavorde, about 18 miles southwest on the railroad to Cananea. He also has 500 men at Cananea and 900 Yaqui Indians about seven miles north of Villavorde but not on the railroad. He also has 250 men at San Cedo, between Dedrid and Nogales. It [illegible]

SOLDIERS REACH PRAIRIE CREEK

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 6.—The arrival of federal soldiers to preserve order in the Prairier Creek mining district, the concerning of the special grand jury in the United States court and the burning of two more buildings at Hartford, marked the march of events today in the judicial an dmilitary departments of the federal government to bring peace to Hartford valley. According to telephone reports from Hartford two stores were burned there early today. The origin of the fire was unknown. That the state authorities have failed to do their share in pacifying the mining regions, where arson, murder, assault and pillage have been perpetrated in the last six months, was intimated by Judge Frank Youmans in his charge to the grand jury.

FIVE YEARS IN PRISON.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 6.—M. B. Summers, former cashier of the First National bank of West Union, W. Va., and C. B. Martin were yesterday sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary by Federal Judge A. G. Dayton today on a charge of embezzling $30,000 of the bank's funds. The men were associated together in a brokerage business. The court expressed regret in imposing sentence upon Summers, and that he could not make the penalty lighter as the convicted man had turned state's evidence.

DANIELS VERY INDIGNANT.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Secretary Daniels was indignant today when he received a report that four bluejackets in uniform, had been barred from a New York theater. "This is nothing less than an outrage," said Secretary Daniels, "and I shall instruct the commandant of the New York yard to see that the rights of the men in question are protected when the complainants come up for hearing."

PLAGUE IS NOW IN TEN STATES

Quarantine to Check Foot and Mouth Disease is Extended.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Federal quarantines to check the spread of foot and mouth disease were extended today over the states of Iowa and Massachusetts by Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture.

Department officials stated that as no new cases had been found outside the infected areas in Michigan and Indiana they hoped they had the epidemic under control in these two states.

The presence of suspected cases in Mississippi became known through a letter addressed to the secretary of agriculture. The owner of a herd at Como stated that for some time his cattle had been afflicted with sores about the mouth and hoofs and in treating them he seemed to have contracted the disease himself. The symptoms were those of foot and mouth disease.

The infection was discovered in Massachusetts at South Attelboro, Bristol county. The Iowa cases were discovered at Parnell. The disease has now appeared among cattle in ten states.

Stock yards at Buffalo, Pittsburg and Peoria, Ill., are among the new points to close as a safeguard against the disease.

COLORADO QUARANTINES.

Denver, Col., Nov. 6.—On account of the foot and mouth disease prevalent among live stock in the central and eastern states, Governor E. M. Ammons last night issued a proclamation quarantining any movement of cattle, sheep or swine from the territory east of the Missouri river, including all stock yards at Missouri river points, into the state of Colorado.

STOCK YARDS TO CLOSE.

East St. Louis, Nov. 6.—The stock yards here will be closed for fumigation for several days, beginning tomorrow. An order to this effect was received from government officials today.

BULLETIN.

London, Nov. 6.—(4:10 a. m.)—An Amsterdam dispatch to the General News states that forty heavy guns arrived at Aix-la-Chapelle yesterday from Essen, destined for Arras. Twelve long empty trains are also proceeding to Nomur and sixty armored automobiles, with mitrailleuses, have left Aix-la-Chappelle for Ostend, according to the same advices.

SWIFT CALL OF WET BET

TOWNSHIP VOTED WET WEDNESDAY

Washington township, outside the city held an option election Wednesday and gave a wet majority of 18.

Following this verdict at the polls a prompt, not to say precipitate, effort has been made to reopen the notorious Hiser roadhouse, which was put out of business several months ago by the county commissioners.

In a morning newspaper Friday, November 6, within thirty-six hours after the result of the election was made public, Lewis Smith gave legal notice to the citizens of Washington township of his intention to apply to the board of county commissioners on Monday, December 7, 1914, for permission to open a saloon "in a room fronting on the Goshen road in said Washington township, Allen county, Indiana, on the ground floor of a one-story frame building situated in the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section twenty-one (21), north, range twelve (12), east, Washington township, Allen county, Indiana." This and further detail describe the location and premises of the old Hiser roadhouse.

Remonstrance Only Recourse.

By reason of the election held Wednesday there can be no other option election held within a period of two years from that date. The township has been declared wet and the only recourse of the people is to file a remonstrance. This will have to be on file in theauditor's office not later than Wednesday, December 2, in order to be valid and effective.

Both wets and drys in Washington township were nonpulsed when they learned Friday that an effort to reopen the Hiser roadhouse had followed so fast upon the heels of Wednesday's election. Several persons who voted wet as a matter of principle forthwith declared they

GIVES A LINE ON TRADE CURRENTS

Washington, Nov. 6.—Two months' experience has developed certain facts of great importance regarding the probable trade currents through the Panama canal. Nearly six hundred thousand tons of cargo passed through the waterway from the opening up to October 15.

Based on this traffic the conclusion is reached that about half of the canal's business has been the traffic between the east and west coasts of the United States, conducted in American bottoms. This shipping would have been exempt from toll and the canal would have been deprived of 50 per cent. of its revenue had not congress repealed the section of the Panama calan act exempting American shipping from such charges.

This purely American trade included manufactured goods of great variety, which was carried on forty-nine American ships.

Next in volume and importance was the traffic between the western coast of the United States and the western coast of South America, including large quantities of nitrates from Chile and raw material generally from South America coming northward, and manufactured goods from Europe and America passing southward. Sixteen vessels engaged in this trade during the two months, of which thirteen came northward with raw materials.

The Pacific coast grain trade, including British Columbia with Europe, was carried in ten heavily laden vessels passing eastward, while freight vessels passed westward in ballast to return with grain cargoes.

Eight vessels made the passage with petroleum from the Atlantic seaboard and Gulf of Mexico to China and Japan. Finally the coal traffic between the middle Atlantic seaboard states and the Pacific coast of North and South America showed a notable development, employing seven vessels carrying 34,545 tons of coal. It is understood these will return with Pacific coast cargoes.

WARSHIPS CONVOY INTERNED LINER

Bar Harbor, Me., Nov. 6.—The three months' stay here of the interned North German Lloyd line steamer Kronprinzessin Cecelie ended today, when, convoyed by the United States destroyers Terry and Lanson, she started for Boston. The weather was fair with a moderate breeze when the steamer, with a destroyer a short distance ahead and the other close astern, departed at 4 p. m. It was expected that she would reach Boston late in the afternoon.

The change in the port of internement was made because it was considered that the anchorage here would be dangerous during the winter storms. Although it was intended to steam within the three-mile limit so far as possible, no interference was anticipated, as the governments at war with Germany had given official assurance that none of their war vessels would molest the steamer on her voyage to Boston.

KAISER'S TROOPS IN STAND ALONG WARTHE

London, Nov. 6.—(10:00 a. m.)—The latest reports from the western battle front reaching London from Dutch sources indicate that the Germans have retired from the Yser, but the fighting is said still to be proceeding within the triangle of Ypres, Dixmude and Roulers.

The latest official communications give evidence that the German assaults are becoming less intense and there are some indications of teh resumption of the offensive ono the part of the allies with the Belgians reported as occupying both banks of the Yser and forcing the Germans in that neighborhood to retire on Bruges.

Allies Not Overconfident.

In spite of these reports, however there is no disposition among the allies to be overconfident. Some hint of this feeling is found in the revived interest in London in the Russian military campaign. Many military critics are voicing the hope that the advance on the east German frontier will become such a menace that Berlin will be compelled to recall several seasoned corps from the western front to meet the new danger.

It is not believed here that Turkey's entrance into the field of combat will greatly affect the Russian campaign against the Teutonic allies. Russia has three army corps in the Russian Caucasus, none of which has been drawn for service elsewhere. Russia is said to have successfully invaded Armenia, with four army corps and the Turkish forces in that district are said to be today much weaker than they have been for some weeks past.

Russian troops are reported as already well across the Turkish border and the fighting is proceeding along a battle front estimated at from 100 to 160 miles.

To Check the Russians.

Berlin reports little activity along the Russian border and indications are not lacking that the German forces, having reached selected positions along the river Warthe, are prepared to check the onrush of the Russian armies. Vienna admits the Russians have crossed the river San, but the Austrian armies facing the Russian left wing evidently are still intact and in a position to maintain a stubborn defense.

England's warfare against Turkey is still naval and is likely so to remain until Turkey invades Egypt. Such a move, the allies hope, will prove the final straw to induce Italy to embark her fortunes with the entente powers Great Britain, France and Russia, for the reason that such an invasion would be a direct menace to Italy's newly won African possessions.

War on non-combatants among the alien enemies in the countries of the various belligerents has reached such an acute stage that both sides have virtually asked the diplomatic intervention of the United States. The police in the British Isles have lessened their activity in rounding up alien enemies because the military authorities are unable to supply quarters for their internement but the sensational newspapers are demanding that every German and Austrian in the country, including those recently naturalized, be interned. The German press is equaly keen in demanding lretaliation, and both sides are making charges of ill-treatment of prisoners. It is in connection with this phase that the United States has been requested to make investigation.

England, still without official news of the naval battle in the South Pacific is consoling itself with the hope that the German reports of this engagement may prove exaggerated for the reason that the British diplomatic representatives in Chile cable that no evidence of the battle in the form of wreckage has been washed ashore.

LOUISIANA STANDS ALONE.

Only State Where 20-Round Fights May Be Legally Staged.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—After it became known that the anti-prize fight measure had been passed in California a contract was let here for the erection of a fight arena that is expected to seat at least 10,000 persons. Louisiana is now said to be the only state in which twenty-round boxing contests may be legally staged.

BULLETIN.

Amsterdam, Nov. 6.—via London, (12:26 p. m.)—The Vossiche Zeitung has published a dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, stating that Turkish cruisers have successfully bombarded the Russian fortified seaport of Batum, on the east shore of the Black sea.

14 STATES ON DRY LIST NOW

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Fourteen states now have laws prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages as a result of Tuesday's election on the face of late returns, which show that prohibition was adopted in Arizona, Washington, Oregon and Colorado. The states which prohibit the sale of liquor are: Arizona, Colorado, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, North Dakota.

Alabama at one time adopted a prohibition amendment but later rescinded it. South Carolina is largely prohibition under various acts. A score of states have local option laws.

While the population of France increased in 1913 by 41,901, that of Germany increased by about eight hundred thousand.

BERLIN SHOCKED BY BIG CRUISER'S LOSS

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Only the scantiest details of the sinking of the German cruiser Yorck are available here. The admiralty has received from Wilhelmshaven little beyond the announcement of the time and place of the accident and the number of men saved. A fuller report it is expected, will probably be available soon.

It is definitely announced, however, that the sinking was due to a German mine and not hostile attack. The ship, which was under way, presumably swung outside of the channel through a mine field and touched one of the powerful German mines which made short work of the big cruiser.

The conduct of the crew in the moment of disaster, is described as exemplary and there is much regret over the destruction of the cruiser, the heaviest individual loss as yet sustained by the German navy.

The loss of the Yorck is counterbalanced in the German opinion by the news of the daring raid of a German squadron into British home waters to indulge in what is described here as "a bit of raiding on its own account."

The commander of the squadron states that the Germans suffered no loss or damage to men or material and returned safely to its base, wherever that may be.

The retirement of the German squadron is stated here, may not prevent [illegible] the [illegible] will not be published and there is the same reticence regarding the identity of the submarine which sank the cruiser Hermes.

In well informed quarters the British report of the sinking of a German submarine by the destroyer Badger is strongly questioned. So far as known no German submarines have been destroyed beyond those whose loss was reported earlier.

The admiralty authorize a positive denial of the assumption that the mines off the northwestern coast of Ireland were laid by commercial steamers under a neutral flag. The mines it is stated, were laid in a manner fully conformable to the usages of war. The exploits of the German submarines and the appearance of a German squadron at Yarmouth, it is pointed out, are the clearest indications that the Germans do not need to resort to any illegal methods to conduct activities in British waters.

The British announcement warning neutral ships using the northern entrances to the North sea is regarded here as merely a step in the campaign to control neutral shipping which might possibly benefit German industry and is not based on actual danger. The potentialities of mine-laying in those regions, it is said, are practically null because of the depth of the water. It is also stated that the route recommended by the British [illegible]

NOSTRILS AND HEAD STUFFY FROM A COLD OR CATARRH?

Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges. Dull Headache Goes.

"No, Joe," she said, "I don't know Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passage; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Garrett Man Out for Honors of Next Indiana House.

Garrett, Ind., Nov. 6.—That Fred L. Feick will be the speaker of the 1915 Indiana house of representatives is more than a possibility.

Mr. Feick is one of the strongest men elected to the assembly in the state Tuesday and he has a large following among the legislators.

Through his work for a dozen years as the trainmen's legislative chairman, he formed a valuable acquaintance with the politicians. His thorough knowledge of legislative affairs makes him very conspicuous for a first-term member.

Since he was nominated for representative last April many of Mr. Feick's influential friends have been active in promoting his candidacy for the speakership. Now that the people of DeKalb have given him such a great vote his strength will be increased.

The speaker will be chosen by the house immediately upon the convening of the legislature in January. DeKalb county would certainly appreciate having Mr. Feick thus highly honored by his selection.

HAS PAID LOSSES OF $12,000.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 6.—That the amount of loss to the DeKalb County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company was $12,252.09 for the past fiscal year and that 81 per cent. of this loss was by fire, 10 per cent. by lightning on buildings and 9 per cent. on live stock by lightning is brought out in the report of Phillip S. Carper, the secretary of the company. The total amount of loss to the rodded properties for the year was $8,370.14, and the amount of loss to unrodded properties $3,881.95. The insured capital of the Farmers' Mutual is $6,955,230, and the rate this year is 17 cents on each $100 and 2 cents additional.

TRACE STOLEN AUTOMOBILE.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Police officers from Ligonier and the owner of the Ford automobile which was stolen on Tuesday evening from that place arrived in this city on Thursday afternoon in search of the lost car. The car has been traced to the vicinity of this city and the officers have every reason to believe that Raymond Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, now of Ligonier, but formerly of this city, is in possession of the car. Young Cook's past record and the fact that he was seen in this city on Wednesday, have convinced the officers in their belief that he is the thief.

FARMER BUYS ROAD BONDS.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The first sale of bonds for the Washington township gravel roads that were voted upon some time ago was made Thursday by the county treasurer when he delivered to David Brodbeck, Cleveland township, twenty bonds amounting to $6,720, and received in return for the same their equivalent in cash. The bonds are the ones that represent road number six in Washington township and are in denominations of $336 each and they bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent. per annum.

SELLS 1,000 BUSHELS OF NEW CORN

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 6.—Ernst Isch, living east of Bluffton, near the Wells-Adams county line, has just marketed 1,000 bushels of new corn and the remarkable part of the transaction was that the 1,000 bushels of corn was all shelled. Farmers report that it is unusual for new corn to be marketed shelled this early in the season. Mr. Isch's corn brought him over $1,100.

YOUNG FARMER DROPS DEAD.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 6.—Russell Reed, 32, died unexpectedly at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, northeast of this city. The cause of death was due to hardening of the liver and enlargement of the heart. Mr. Reed had just returned from Montpelier to make preparations for a trip to a Fort Wayne hospital with the intention of undergoing an operation if necessary. Returning home he began taking off his hoes, remaking to his mother that it was no use. "I'm going to die. Goodbye," he said as he fell forward dead.

MUCH CHOLERA IN STEUBEN.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Ellsworth DeWitt, a farmer living near Salem Center, Steuben county, was in Kendallville Thursday getting some hog cholera medicine. He says there is a great deal of cholera among the herds of farmers in his vicinity and that already Steuben county farmers have suffered heavy losses. He asserted that Sumner Hugres, who lives near to him, has already had 30 head die and has others that are sick. Others have lost from ten to twenty-five head.

KOSCIUSKO PIONEER IS DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Allan Morehead, one of the oldest residents of Kosciusko county, is dead at his home near North Webster. He was 82 years of age and had resided in the community practically all his life. His death followed an illness of about one week. The deceased is survived by two brothers, Frank and Joseph Morehead, of North Webster, and one sister, Mrs. Maggie Huffman, of Los Angeles, Cal.

GRABILL NEWS

Grabill, Ind., Nov. 6.—William Autry, who was formerly a resident here, enlisted in the United States army.

Mrs. Andrew Gerig, who had a stroke of paralysis, is in a very critical condition.

Roy, Tom and Jay Snyder were business callers in Fort Wayne Wednesday.

The funeral of Solomon Yoder, which was held Thursday afternoon, was very largely attended. Beams and Beams were the undertakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben S. Gerig and daughter, Francis, have returned from a four weeks' trip through the west, where they had been visiting their son and brother.

L. H. Hursh has purchased the hardware building on State street of J. M. Klopfenstein.

The seniors of the New York university college voted to forbid the wearing of mustaches by all students. Formerly only freshmen were forbidden to wear this adornment.

WINTER'S CHILL HITS WAR ZONE

But It's Not the Real Arctic Variety of Cold on the Field.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—They won't be able to build trenches in the snow and bridges of ice in the war zones of east and west Europe.

Prof. Charles F. Talman is the European weather shark in the United States weather bureau at Washington and he dug up a lot of data for the Sentinel about temperature and such things in the districts where they are fighting.

In the extreme northwestern part of France, in Belgium, and in southern Germany, the average of the lowest temperatures reached from year to year is 14 degrees above zero, Fahrenheit. Within this area, which includes practically all of the present western battlefield, the lowest temperatures ever recorded have been 13 and 14 degrees below zero. This area includes Lille Amiens, Calais, the Belgian towns, Metz Nancy, Strassburg and the Vosges mountain region.

Taking the month of January as the typical winter month, the temperature line which shows the prevailing average temperature of 35 degrees above zero for that month over a long period of years, runs from the coast through Belgium just north of Brussels, curves south just east of Wiesbaden, passes

In the eastern battlefield in Russian Poland and East Prussia and Galicia the weather is considerably colder. The average of the low temperatures from year to year shows that the thermometer may normally be expected to fall frequently to 5 degrees above zero and further east in Russia the records show average low temperatures of 4 degrees below zero. This means that the thermometer frequently goes below these figures, and in fact temperatures as low as 27 degrees below zero have been recorded in this region.

Prof. Talman turned to the Encyclopedia Britannica and read as follows:

"While the average summer temperature of Germany is 60 to 62 degrees, the January temperature average falls to 26 to 28 degrees in West Prussia, Posen and Silesia, and 22 to 26 degrees in East Prussia, and upper Silesia. The navigation of the rivers is regularly interrupted by frost. Similarly the upper basin of the Danube on the Bavarian plain has rather inclement climate in winter, the average for January being 25 to 26 degrees."

"That may be taken as authoritative," said the professor.

The January average temperature at Berlin, 32 degrees, is the same as the January average for Philadelphia, Pa., Wichita, Kas., St. Louis, Mo., and Cincinnati, O. The January temperature at Posen and Breslau, which is 29 degrees compares with the temperature of New Haven, Conn., 28 degrees; Indianapolis, Ind., 28; Columbus, O., 29; Denver, Colo., 29, and Santa Fe, N. M., 29.

While the bureau has no records of snowfall in either of the battle areas the temperature records show, and the fact is, that snowfall is frequent. Already the troops are reported to be suffering from cold and wet, with snow in the mountains on the border of France and Germany.

Easy to Darken Your Gray Hair

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, we have at small cost, with

Head Stopped Up? Can't Breathe? Try the New External Treatment

Vapor treatments are best for all inflammation of the air passages. The vapors carry the medication direct to the inflamed surface without disturbing the stomach as do internal medicines. A cheap and very convenient vapor treatment is a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve over the throat and chest, covered with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases vapors of Thymol, Eucalyptol, Menthol, Camphor, and Pine Tar, that are inhaled with every breath, through the air passages to the lungs. These vapors open the air passages, loosen the phlegm, and heal the raw surfaces. If the cold is in the chest, apply hot wet towels to open the pores. Vick's is then absorbed through the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness.

A little Vick's applied up the nostrils and over the temples is very beneficial for head colds and catarrh and will relieve most cases of headache and neuralgia. Vick's is also excellent for Asthma, Hay Fever, and Bronchial Troubles. Three sizes, at all dealers—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 32:1-11.

1 After these things and the establishment thereof, Sennacherib king of Assyria came, and entered into Judah, and encamped against the fenced cities, and thought to win them for himself.

2 And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib was come, and that he was purposed to fight against Jerusalem,

3 He took counsel with his princes and his mighty men to stop the waters of the fountains which were without the city; and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who stopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midst of the land, saying, 'Why should the kings of Assyria come, and find much water?

5 Also he strengthened himself, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made darts and shields in abundance.

6 And he set captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the street of the gate of the city, and spake comfortably to them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous, be not afraid nor dismayed for the king of Assyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with us than with him:

8 With him is an arm of flesh; but with us is the Lord our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 After this did Sennacherib king of Assyria send his servants to Jerusalem, (but he himself laid siege against Lachish, and all his powers with him,) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of Assyria, Whereon do ye trust, that ye abide in the siege in Jerusalem?

11 Doth not Hezekiah persuade you to give over yourselves to die by famine and by thurst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1914.

Measuring a Man's Worth.

Walter Johnson wants $20,000 a season, which is at the rate of about $600 for pitching each ball game.

Caruso gets $2,000—or is it $3,000?—a night for singing a role in opera. Is he worth that?

Who knows? We confess we don't. Those who want to hear Caruso sing appear to be willing to pay at a rate to make his fee possible. And Walter Johnson is to baseball what the Italian is to song.

This is to be said of both men: Neither has any strangle hold on his job. If a better singer than Caruso should appear, or a better pitcher than Johnson, it isn't in the power of anybody else to stop him from entering the competition. The field in which each works is an open one, with the chances pretty fair.

So who can say what is the measure of either's commercial value? The only thing of which you may be sure is that excellence soon or late tends to command its price.

Hence the obvious moral is: Do your best. And then try each day to do a little better. Whether the basis of the world's recognition be in money, blue ribbons or monuments after you are dead, the surest thing of all is that you won't get it unless you strive.

And if you are in the job that fits, the mere striving will be the greatest reward.

Two Years Ahead.

Striking an average throughout history, conservatism and liberalism have run about neck and neck, with radicalism far ahead as pacemaker.

The course of business during the next eighteen months will most likely determine whether the next president shall be a progressive or standpatter.

The election just past fell at a time when, on top of the disturbance to business resulting from tariff and currency changes, there had come the unforeseen shock of a world-wide war. It found many Americans out of work and many other scared.

Such a condition is not permanent. From the war scare and from the war hurt there will be a rebound. To the tariff and currency changes business is already adjusting itself and, once adjusted, will not wish a new disturbance.

A month, six months, a year hence, the course of business may be onward and upward with a rush. The signs are plain that it is to be better, though no man can foresee how swift the improvement will be or how far it will carry us.

Therefore, while there is fascination in the pastime of political guessing, we confess that we don't take much stock in the prophecies for 1916 which are being spawned in 1914.

In these tumultuous times, two years make a long and a risky stretch for prophecy to span.

Fort Wayne's need for a convention hall is so pressing that it is much to be hoped some way may be found to supply the need that will grow increasingly greater until an adequate auditorium is provided. Admitting that the question of providing funds for the project will require some ingenuity and not a little effort, the matter is so important that it is amply worth the endeavor. Fort Wayne simply must have that convention hall—and the sooner the better.

Terre Haute is still running true to form. There are charges of fraud and threats of a contest of some of the [illegible] in that city.

"South Cannot Dictate."

Troy Record:—"The new system will make the presidential and vice presidential candidates of the republican party represent the feeling of the party. The south cannot dictate a decision when it is unable to deliver a single electoral vote."

"The Issue in 1912."

Washington Post:—"What effect the reapportionment will have upon the progressive party cannot be predicted with certainty, but in view of the fact that this was the one issue on which the republican party split in 1912 it would seem that a complete reunion should now be possible."

"Republicans to Be Congratulated."

Pittsburgh Post:—"The republicans are to be congratulated upon the opportune time for the introduction of this reapportionment reform. When the convention of 1916 is convoked there will be no officeholders to bow beneath the lash of the patronage dispenser."

"Reform Through Chastisement."

Boston Post:—"After many years comes reform through chastisement, a reform that might, had it been brought about earlier, have changed the whole trend of national politics and perhaps the national destiny itself, but hardly for the better."

"Removes a Grievance."

New Orleans Times-Picayune:—"The change is designed to remove a familiar grievance and prevent the recurrence of conditions in the party convention that many republicans openly denounced as 'scandalous.'"

"Provide Against Conflicts."

Pittsburgh Dispatch:—"In addition to the readjustment of representation the new rules provide against conflicts between state laws or rules and the national organization's requirements. This will remove one of the chief sources of contesting delegations."

"South Accepts."

New York Evening Post:—"The convention of 1916 will have eighty-nine fewer delegates than the convention of 1912, and most of this loss will be in the delegations from the south. It is noteworthy that the south itself has accepted the reduction. Texas being the only state to vote against it."

HASTY MATRIMONY.

(Indianapolis News.)

According to a news item, $800 is the price an Indiana woman paid to find that a man in Rochester, N. Y., who had advertised for a wife, was a swindler first and a lonely bachelor, willing and anxious to take a life partner, afterward. Another dispatch says that within two years five persons in one county in Maryland have gone into matrimony with persons whose acquaintance they made through advertisements. It is said that a weekly journal flourishes on such advertisements, and in addition prints news of matrimonial prospects in various sections of the country. Brokers do a thriving business in some cities, interviewing a client and agreeing to undertake the search for a desirable partner.

These are merely a few of many instances which go to show that this is a country of cheap matrimony. That women and men are constantly being duped by fake advertisements is evidence not only of the gullibility of the victims, but of the popular tendency to look lightly upon a very serious institution. It is possible that now and then such alliances turn out well enough to warrant the unconventional means by which they were brought about, but to the average men or woman who undertakes the obligations of matrimony only after a considerable period of friendship, the thought of advertising for a husband or wife is peculiarly repellant.

With a persistence worthy of a better cause, an elderly spinster appears year after year before the Massachusetts legislature in an endeavor to get a bill passed compelling bachelors to pay an annual tax of $5. Massachusetts has 56,000 more women than men, but this difference would hardly be diminished to any appreciable extent by such a law. It would only serve to emphasize a view of matrimony which is entirely too material for the well-being of that or any other state.

California Man, Going East on a Visit, Clings to His Pets.

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 6.—Will L. Te Walt, of 710 Sacramento street, has a herd of ten Toggenburg milk goats which he values so that he will allow no one else to care for them or to milk them, even for a day.

They are his pets and have grown very fond of him. When he learned that he would have to make a business trip to his former home in Anguilla, Miss. he was in a dilemma—for a while. He did not know what to do with his bluebicoded "kids." And had he not cared so much for them he would have found them a few "white elephants" on his hands. But because of his fondness for them he soon found a way out of his trouble. They make the trip with him He had them shipped by express and paid $100 for the "tickets" one way.

He got permission to ride in the car with them whenever he wished, so that everything possible could be done to make them comfortable and so that he could milk them three times a day.

St. Paul, Nov. 5.—James J. Hill, railroad builder, has cabled $25,000 to King Albert, of Belgium.

The dire need of the Belgian king and nation was the only reason assigned by the railroad builder for his action.

This was Hill's personal contribution to King Albert for relief of the war-stricken country. It is not part of the fund Miss Clara Hill is raising, nor connected with the supplies gathered in St. Paul last week by Mrs. L. W. Hill and others for Belgian war victims.

Mr. Hill is personally acquainted with King Albert, who was a guest at the Hill home when he was in the United States several years ago.

Rockefeller's New Labor Investigator Active Sort of Citizen.

(Who is MacKenzie King, recently appointed, at a salary of $12,000 by John D. Rockefeller's $100,000,000 foundation, to investigate the whole problem of capital and labor in the United States and find a remedy for the bitter enmity between the two? King is a Canadian, and the following is written by a Canadian who is friendly to him and knows him like a book.—Editor.)

(By W. B. Berry, Canadian parliamentary correspondent.)

Ottawa, Canada, Nov. 7. If sociologists and labor leaders in the United States expect W. L. MacKenzie King just appointed director of the world-wide Rockefeller investigation into labor troubles, to do anything sensational, or to precipitate action of any kind against the vested interests, they are in for a distinct disappointment.

Mac Kenzie King

In spite of the fact that he comes from a fiercely violent liberal stock, in spite of the fact that he is a great-grandson of William Lyon Mackenzie, fiery chieftain of the famous 1837 rebellion, Mackenzie King is a man of the most conservative instincts.

Yet he is a thorough student of labor problems.

After Mackenzie King had taken all the degrees possible at Toronto university, and a few more at Chicago university, and a degree at Harvard with the privilege of traveling abroad, expenses paid, he came back to his latest American alma mater and settled down for the time being as a Harvard instructor in sociology.

Sir Wilfred Laurier was leading the then liberal government of Canada, and he knew all about young Mackenzie King, and his distinguished lineage. When King returned to Toronto and joined the staff of the Toronto Globe, Sir Wilfred Laurier's unerring eye still rested upon him. And one day Laurier made him deputy minister of labor, a position then dependent from the postmaster general.

Pretty soon King made his job so big that the deputy part of it began to interfere with the chief, and the only solution was to make a new job and take on Mackenzie King. Sir Wilfred Laurier therefore created another cabinet portfolio and Mackenzie King held the new labor ministry up to September 21, 1911, when the Laurier government was driven out of power. Since then Mackenzie King has been seen at the drawing rooms and other formal functions, in his minister's uniform—a gorgeous and resplendant affair of gilt and knee breeches.

But what are the ideas of this student with regard to labor? What has been his attitude toward it?

Just one speech, made in the house of commons on the subject of the Springhill coal strike in 1911, sums up significantly his ideas on a certain phase of the labor war:

"The company owning the mines," he said, "is not willing to recognize the organization, and the men say they will not go back to work until the organization is recognized. I do not know any power that can settle a difference of that kind. I am afraid that as long as the resent attitude is maintained by each of the parties, the present struggle will continue."

Mackenzie King's acts, however, despite his conservative tendency, have been admirable. His last act, almost before the Laurier government went out of power was to negotiate with the United States owners of the sesqui-sulphide patents so that they could be freely used by Canadians in the manufacture of matches, thus taking away from the cruel and selfish manufacturers who were apparently responsible for the terrible "phossy jaw" disease, their last excuse for making the wicked old phosphorous match in Canada.

In legislation regulating the sale of habit-forming drugs, in the abolishment of sweat shops, King has been the absolute pioneer in Canada. Under his direction a "fair wage" policy was adopted, and laws were passed against the importation of strike-breakers under unjust conditions.

Agriculturists in the Bombay district are advised by the government to raise wheat and other grains instead of cotton.

Knitting is a Scotch invention of the fifteenth century. Soon after its invention a guild of stocking knitters was formed, with St. Fiarce as its patron saint. Hand knitting was supplemented by machinery as early as 1589, when William Lee invented the knitting frame.

ROMANCE NOT ENTIRELY LOST

London, Nov. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Horrible as the experiences of the refugees from Louvain, Malines, Antwerp and Ostend have been, romance has not been entirely lost in the wave of agony and sorrow which the war has brought to English shores.

Dulwich was the scene of a wedding two days after the fall of Ostend which joined the fortunes of two luckless wanderers who fled for weeks before the oncoming Germans.

When Brussels was about to be taken the bride became separated from her father and mother just on the eve of her marriage. The entrance of the Germans upset all wedding plans, but the young girl found her fiance a few days later among refugees at Malines. They drifted with friends into Antwerp and finally found their way to England. Not being able to communicate with her parents, the young woman decided to marry even if her relatives could not attend the wedding. The mayor and mayoress of Camberwell honored the young couple with their presence at the wedding and the wedding guests were other refugees who had shared the hardships of the contracting parties in their flight from Belgium.

Failure of Germany to exhaust its supply of petrol is attributed by writers in the London press to a supply of oil supposed to be shipped from the United States to Germany by way of Norway, Denmark and Sweden. According to Albert Lidgitt, who contributed an article on this subject to the current issue of a prominent motor journal, Germany has planned to get its petrol in ships flying the Danish, Swedish and Norwegian flags and carrying the oil in barrels.

H. Massac Buist, writing in the Sunday Observer, says: "There is proof positive that up to the end of the last month Germany had received some thousands of tons of motor spirits in this manner, and according to the present chartering arrangements that other large consignments are either being loaded or are on the Atlantic at this moment on the way to Denmark, Norway or Sweden." He says that up to the corresponding period last year there had been shipped from America to Denmark 16,275 gallons of motor spirits, but owing to the mysterious activity in cargoes of late the motor spirit shipments to Copenhagen alone have been nearly 12,000,000 gallons this year, of which half a million gallons left during the last week in September.

BEST COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburg one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. INJURED WABASH MEN RECOVERING

John Ross, W. A. Brumfield and W. Ruby Will Soon Leave Hospital.

The injured Wabash employes will recover, according to the news brought here by Assistant Trainmaster A. E. King this morning. Mr. King dropped off here to look after some railway business while on his way from Toledo to Peru. While in the first named city he called upon Engineer W. A. Brumfield and Fireman William Ruby, who were injured in a wreck at Liberty Center, Ohio, about a week ago. Engineer Brumfield suffers from a sprained back and two broken ribs and Fireman Ruby had his skull fractured and had to have a piece of the bone removed from the forehead, over the right eye. Both patients will be out soon, Mr. King says. John Ross, the passenger engineer, who had both feet injured by falling from his engine in the Toledo round house, two months ago, is still in the Peru hospital, but is recovering and will soon be able t work. He is walking around now with the assistance of canes. All of the injured are former Fort Wayne men and are well known in the city. The frequent inquiries as to their condition is evidence of the interest their friends are taking in them.

WILL HOLD SOCIAL.

Electro-Technic Club Plans Nice Time for Members.

The next entertainment to be given by the Electro-Technic club will be on the evening of November 27 at the assembly hall at the Fort Wayne Electric works and it will be for members only. This arrangement is the result of the meeting of the club members last night who named J. B. Mills as chairman of the entertainment committee for the occasion. Mr. Mills has not fully made up the program, but one feature will be a moving picture show of the great works of the General Electric company at Schenectady, showing every department in operation. There will also be other moving pictures, but their character has not been determined and Mr Mills could not announce them today A "big eat" and a smoker will close the entertainment.

H. A. Philley Adds 92 to Y. M. C. A. in a Month.

Hiram A. Philley, who last August took temporary charge of the secretaryship of the local Railroad Y. M. C. A., to work until the management secured a successor to W. S. Whitbeck, resigned, has proven to be one of the best hustlers for membership the association ever had. When he took hold there were 114 names on the roll; today there are over 300. During the month of October Mr. Philley got ninety-two new members, the greater portion of them being railway men. December 1, when Mr. Philley will turn the office over to A. J Cash, the membership will probably have passed the 350 point. On that date Mr. Philley will resume his duties as chief clerk to Road Foreman of Engines C. R. Colmey, of the Pennsylvania.

YARDMASTER AT DECATUR.

G. R. & I. Places Appointment on David Rowan.

Decatur, at present the greatest freight producing point in Indiana for the Grand Rapids and Indiana company, has developed so much business for the company that it has become necessary to locate a yardmaster there. Conductor David Rowan, one of the old men in point of service on the road, has been assigned to the position and has commenced the duties of the office. The railway company has maintained a switching crew and engine at Decatur to take care of the business at the sugar beet factory and other industries for three or four weeks.

WILL TALK TO TOILERS.

Rev. A. J. Folsom Plans Series of Sermons for Workingmen.

Rev. A. J. Folsom, of Plymouth Congregational church, has planned a series of Sunday evening lecture-sermons especially for the workingmen of Fort Wayne. The series is:

Nov. 8—"The Wage-Earner and His Problem."

Nov. 15—"The Syndicate vs. The People."

Nov. 22—"The Voice of Humanity."

MANY ATTENDED MEETING.

The second annual meeting of the Ladies' Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers of the state closed at Peru yesterday. It was attended by 200 ladies representing the local societies in Peru, Fort Wayne, Huntington, Logansport, Elkhart, Terre Haute and Indianapolis. Hyacinth lodge, No. 38, of Fort Wayne, took an active part in the work and received praise for its excellence. The Peru Chronicle says: "The ritualistic work was demonstrated in a beautiful manner by members of Hyacinth lodge No. 38, of Fort Wayne."

The next meeting will be held in Indianapolis.

REPAIRED SIX ENGINES.

During the thirty-two hours which constitute the working schedule at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this week, six engines were given general repairs and turned over to the operating department for service. This was at the rate of an engine every five hours, which "is not so bad," one of the shop foreman said. The shops were closed on election day.

GENERAL MANAGER MILLER HERE.

Henry Miller, general manager of the Wabash, passed through the city in his private car on train No. 1 at 1 o'clock today. He has been in New York and is en route to St. Louis, his headquarters city. Mr. Miller is accompanied over the line by the superintendents of the various divisions and some of the other division officials.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Engineer A. E. Mills, of the G. R. & I., is off duty on account of sickness.

Yard Firemen E. W. Mahrt, of the Pennsylvania, reported for work last night. He was sick several days.

E. C. DesPrez, who had been sick, was able to resume work at the Pennsylvania erecting shops this morning.

Claim Agent John P. Murray, of the Pennsylvania, was in Chicago yesterday on business for the department.

C. A. Sweeney, Grand Rapids and Indiana dispatcher, left last evening for Rome City.

T. E. Blackwell, Pennsylvania dispatcher, is quarantined at his home for diphtheria. One of his children is ill with the disease.

N. J. Turner, Grand Rapids and Indiana freight brakeman, went to Ridgeville yesterday to be at the bedside of his mother, who is ill.

The G. R. & I. paymaster completed his work in Fort Wayne at noon today and left for Grand Rapids to begin his cash distributing trip over the Northern division.

Pennsylvania Baggageman Henry Henschen is off duty on account of the illness of Mrs. Henschen, who sustained a light and temporary attack of paralysis a few days ago.

Mrs. Ida Remley, daughter of Dietrich Schiefer, Wabash tinner, arrived yesterday from New York city for a few weeks' visit here. Mrs. Remley recently returned from Europe.

The Wabash shops will be operated eight hours tomorrow to meet the requirements of a forty hours' week for the employes. The shops were closed on election day.

Relief Operator J. J. Wilkinson, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway who underwenet an operation recently at St. Joseph's hospital, reported for work yesterday.

Foreman George Swart, of the air brake department of the Wabash shop has returned from a three days' hunting expedition, well supplied with rabbits and other game not protected by law.

D. C. Moon, general manager; General Superintendent A. S. Ingles, Assistant General Superintendent F. H. Wilson and M. L. Reynolds, of the Lake Shore, spent the night in the city. They are inspecting the Lake Shore property.

The American Steel Dredge company has just completed a revolving steam shovel for general contract work, which will be found, the management says, of great service to contractors. One of the shovels is on exhibition at the works.

Factory Superintendent E. A. Barnes, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, and Dr. Fred Schulz, the factory surgeon, will witness the football game at Ann Arbor tomorrow afternoon. They will leave for that city early Saturday morning.

A. T. Klotz, assistant cashier of the Wabash freight office, resigned his position yesterday to take up other work, and he was succeeded by O. O. Goddard, a clerk there. E. Sullivan, son of Conductor Sullivan, of the Wabash, succeeded Goddard.

IS INVENTION OF ENGLISHMAN

Shrapnel Bears Name of Officer Who Devised It Long Ago.

London, Nov. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Shrapnel, which has done far more damage to the allies than the German rifle fire, is a British invention over a century old. Its inventor was General Shrapnel, an English officer who was born in 1761 and given a commission in the royal artillery in 1779. The thought came to him during the war in Flanders, where he was impressed by the trifling effect of round shot against troops and the limited range of grape. His shell, filled with balls and powder and ignited by a time fuse, was adopted by the British army in 1802 and played an important part in the Peninsular war under Wellington and also at Waterloo. The secret of its action was unknown outside of Britain until 1834.

With the customary ingratitude of governments, General Shrapnel was never reimbursed for the expense of his experiments. All he received was 1,200 pounds a year ($6,000 and the offer of a baronetcy he could not afford to accept. He died in 1842 a bitter old man.

Dr. Louis Seaman, the American expert who has visited the hospitals of the allies at the front, says that the German shells break into large pieces and do little damage compared with those used by the Japanese against Russia, which were torn into showers of steel splinters. But the shrapnel bullets make ragged wounds and also carry infecting material with them, causing a large percentage of deaths from blood poisoning.

Only in cotton spinning is British industry suffering. In addition to supplying the expeditionary force and the new army with clothing and equipment, Russia has placed orders for a million pairs of boots and the British woolen mills and shoe factories have other contracts they are yet unable to place, which could be easily taken by American manufacturing agents, were they in the field.

The greatest wastage in the war has been in the motor vehicle line. Not only are the cars racked to pieces by hard service, but large numbers are destroyed by shell. British manufacturers have not the equipment to supply this wastage.

Russia is not a manufacturing country, and the factories of France have been largely destroyed in the north and in other parts are shut down because of the lack of hands.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticidal, but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.—Adv.

Admiral Sir John Fisher.

London, Nov. 3.—Admiral Lord "Jack" Fisher, who succeeds Prince Louis of Battenburg as first sea lord of the admiralty, is known as "Reformer of the British navy," as he has been studying naval reforms ever since he took command of his first ship.

He began his career as a mid-shipman during the Crimean war in 1855. He founded the British "torpedo schools" and he is practically the creator of the torpedo as a serious weapon of war.

Academician Writes Letter to Man Who Never Gets One.

Paris, Nov. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A well known member of the academy has written a "letter for the man who never gets one," to be distributed in the French trenches. In it he says:

"Apparently there are very few amongst our soldiers who never receive any letters. But if there is such a one it is to him that I address this letter.

"I see you from here, my dear young fellow, I see your disappointment and your sadness when the quartermaster appears in sight with a number of letters in his hand and calls out first this name and that, and deals out to eager hands envelopes which contain the good wishes of the family and a mother's kisses. Everyone is grave, and everyone listens for his name to be called out. Nothing for you. * * *

"You fight, however, just as well as your comrades. And whilst you only do as well as they do, you really do something more. The other soldiers are fighting for the homes of their ancestors and for the defense of their property. You have neither home nor ancestors nor property, and you fight with as much courage as those who are getting letters by every post. * * *

"Don't be ashamed because no one has written to you. Be proud. Others have been born in a family whose position is made. You will have the satisfaction and the pride of making your own.

"Once more, my son, courage and good luck. And let me send you a kiss, I who have no son, and you who have no father.

(Signed.) "BRIEUX,
"French Academician."

How an unnamed lieutenant colonel in the French army stiffened the courage of his men and his own, when they were about to charge the enemy for the first time, is told in the Figaro. The colonel, wounded, but convalescent, is described as relating the anecdote on the train as follows:

"It was in the course of one of the numerous battles on our right wing. For the first time my regiment was about to go under fire. The moment was decisive; the regiment had their battle formation and now it was necessary, over open ground, to march straight and resolutely at the enemy. Their fire was hot, and already had produced ravages in our ranks. It was scourging. I had taken my position at the head of the regiment and given the order 'forward,' but, separated from their base, my men hesitated. In vain I repeated the command. Then returning toward them I said:

"'What? You flinch? All you will gain out of this turn-about is death on the spot without having been of any use. Attention! Take my arm one of you, and all of you lock arms, and arm in arm, gun in hand, we'll advance. You'll find that's not so bad.'

"My word! the idea decided them, and arm in arm we started forward. They soon got warmed up and for a little I was nearly forced to hold them back. Oh! the brave fellows."

A lady who was listening said:

"It was fortunate, colonel, that you yourself were not afraid." "Not afraid," exclaimed the colonel. "Oh, madam, if you knew what shivers went through me! But when I saw them hesitate, I had to set an example. I was bluffing."

REMARKABLE CURE OF CROUP.

"Last winter when my little boy had croup I got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I honestly believe it saved his life," writes Mrs. J. B. Cook, Indiana, Pa. "It cut the phlegm and relieved his coughing spells. I am most grateful for what this remedy has done for him." For sale by all dealers. —Adv.

PARSON PASSES HAT TO WED.

Colored Preacher Pays for License from Collection Basket.

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—Not until he had taken up a collection in his church was the Rev. James W. Dupiee, colored, able to secure enough money to take out a marriage license.

According to the story he told at the office of the clerk of the court of common pleas, he had waited some time for the necessary financial aid. He paid for the license in pennies, dimes and nickels, the fruit of the collection basket. He gave the name of his bride-to-be as Mary M. Courtney.

American Mediation Woman's Peace Plea

Mrs. S. R. Schwimmer

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—With credentials from women's organizations in twenty-six European countries, Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, peace advocate, has come to the United States from Hungary to plead for American mediation in the European conflict.

Mme. Schwimmer will present her "peace plan" to the American people in a series of addresses. She will be one of the speakers at the National Woman's Suffrage association convention November 12, at Nashville, Tenn.

DESPONDENCY DUE TO INDIGESTION.

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa.: "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried every thing that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago, when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Plant Life Fiber

What is it? Here is the answer. The latest scientific method of growing bulbs without earth. A fine fertilized fiber properly mixed so as to give every possible nourishment to the plant that it may need to insure a quicker growing and larger flower. No earth required. Just place the bulb in the fiber in a non-porous vase. Keep fiber well moistened and a surprising fast growth will follow. Full directions on "How to use and apply plant life" given on request. Fall bulbs are now ready.

OFFICIAL COUNT NECESSARY.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 6.—Revised election returns from practically every county in Wisconsin as compiled by the Milwaukee Journal, but with estimates made in a few precincts not heard from give Husting, democrat, for United States senator, 125,760, and McGovern republican, 124,308, showing a plurality for Husting of 1,442. It is generally conceded an official count will be necessary to decide the winner.

DISCUSSES EXPORT TRADE.

Papers Read by Charles J. Scheiman Before the Quest Club Friday.

"Export Trade" was the subject of an interesting paper read Friday noon by Charles J. Scheiman, treasurer of the Packard company, at the regular weekly meeting of the Quest club at the Commercial club. The paper followed the customary banquet.

Mr. Scheiman dealt principally with the importance of this country building up its foreign trade, methods of preparing goods for foreign shipment and the necessity of complying with the foreign methods of doing business, even though they differ from the methods in vogue in this country. He declared that the United States ships only 4 per cent. of what it produces to foreign lands, and now has only 15 per cent of the otal foreign trade.

Mr. Scheiman said that the shippers in this country cannot sell abroad unless they buy and that it is imperative to build up the banking system in this country so as to be able to lend money to foreign peoples.

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 6.—In excellent health in spite of her advanced years, Mrs. Samuel Sipe, Cumberland county's oldest resident, a personal friend of Molly Pitcher, the heroine of Monmouth, has just celebrated her 102d birthday.

Her health is good, and although she is unable to walk, she can hear clearly and her mind is a marvel for cleverness of recollection. Mrs. Sipe was born in Switzerland, October 5, 1812, and came with her parents when only six years of age to this country. The trip was made in a sailing vessel and the voyage consumed sixteen weeks. She lived in Philadelphia for a time and came to Carlisle ninety-five years ago. She remembers the old stage coaches that made this a stopping point on the road to Pittsburgh, and also the running of the first train on the Cumberland Valley, July 4, 1857.

Her stories of Molly Pitcher, with whom she was personally familiar, contain many unique incidents in the life of this peculiar heroine.

BIG YEAR FOR ASPHALT PLANT

Superintendent Droege, of the city asphalt repair plant, has just submitted to the board of works his report of the operations of the plant for the present year. The five months of operation 15,750 yards of concrete 1,045 square yards of binder, 633 square yards of cushion mixture and five square yards of asphaltic concrete mixture. The department has sent out bills amounting to $3,473 to private parties for repair work done. The cost of the asphalt laid for maintenance of streets out of guarantee has been 91 cents per square yard, which, in view of the $1.35 formerly paid to contractors to do the work, means a great saving to the city. The plant has closed down for the year.

DEFER ACTION ON THE WALL.

Board of Works May Order Plans to Extend St. Joe Wall Farther.

The board of works at Thursday night's meeting decided to postpone until next Monday confirmation of the resolution for constructing a concrete wall along the St. Joe boulevard drive from Columbia avenue to Forest avenue. This was done because the petitioners for the improvement [illegible] leave the river, along the banks to State street, thus affording protection to property lying west of the original line of the wall. Two of three remonstrances filed against the resolution were withdrawn, one of them being by residents dwelling between the river and the proposed line. They object to the earlier plan because it would simply hold water against them in case of flood. Residents of Spy Run, Bloomingdale and Nebraska had signed petitions remonstrating against the wall on the ground that it would serve to make their condition worse in event of an overflow. Dr. M. W. Tinkham appeared at the meeting to advocate the attitude of the petitioners and he charged Lakesiders with being selfish and having no thought for dwellers in other exposed regions of the city. L. P. Sharp, of Lakeside, warmly replied to Dr. Tinkham, saying that residents in other parts of the city were not prevented from taking measures for their own protection as Lakesiders were doing. Dr. Tinkham declared there were [illegible]

the paving of some streets and for the construction of several cement sidewalks. The board awarded to Hilgeman & Schaaf the contract for a sewer in the alley west of Calhoun street, Rudisill to Lexington. The firm owns the real estate affected.

TO TALK CONVENTION HALL.

Council Committee of the Whole to Listen to Discussions.

Notwithstanding the confusion that has been injected into the municipal convention hall project by the expression of many conflicting views as to law, public policy and financial ability, the city council will meet in committee of the whole Friday night and open the meeting to the big crowd that is expected to be present to urge some action by the council. The meeting for Friday night has been scheduled since the last regular meeting of the council, and a large attendance is looked for. By some it is forts to obtain from public sources, to be augmented by individual subscriptions. Under this law the county may raise two-thirds of the amount needed if the people approve it. It likewise has been suggested that the legislature soon to assemble be asked to include Fort Wayne in the operation of the law passed to enable Indianapolis to procure a convention hall, which would authorize the city to pay two-thirds the cost. The matter will be given a thorough thrashing out before the committee of the whole.

WILL FILE AFFIDAVITS.

Secretary J. H. Gilpin, of the board of health, announces that he will vigorously prosecute persons who persist in hauling manure to the city dump on Clinton street and unloading it there. He says he has one case on hand that he means to prosecute. Some time ago the dumping of manure there was forbidden, but this

BOULEVARD RESOLUTION UP.

At the Saturday meeting of the park board the principal business of the session will be the hearing on the confirmation of the resolution for grading Anthony boulevard from the Maumee river to State street.

HARDSHIPS MADE HIM AN UMPIRE

Crowd Chased Sheridan and Woodman Took Up the Task.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

Jack Sheridan is dead. Dean of the umpires, one of the grandest veterans of the game, he ended thirty-two years of service as player and umpire at Oakland, Cal., where, early in his career, he came as a star infielder.

Off the field Sheridan was one of the few umpires who loved to mingle with players and owners, and who enjoyed a yarn or a fanning match as well as any. On the field he was a good fellow, respected by the players, patient yet firm, and even when he was bad, or had a bad day the players remembered and were considerate.

Sheridan had one yarn he told. It was of his start.

"I had been playing in the Southern," he said, "and was sold to the Oakland club on the coast. They sent me money to come on—but the landlord or someone took it and I could not get to the coast. The Oakland team was going in bad form. I think it lost fourteen of the first sixteen games.

"The club sent me more money and I wired I would be there. The next three days the Oakland papers were printing seven column lines announcing that Sheridan, the greatest of all second basemen, was coming to rescue the team; that Sheridan would make the team a champion.

"They printed my picture five columns wide, and got out extras announcing that I was approaching, and bulletins announcing my progress were posted all over the city. The whole town turned out to meet me and escorted me to the ball park. That afternoon I made five errors and kicked away the game.

"The next day I made seven errors and the next day six. At the end of that game the long suffering public leaped from the stands. I saw them coming and fled.

"Hour after hour I fled, with the sounds of wild pursuit, cries of 'lynch him' following me. At dark I had outdistanced them and at midnight I threw myself exhausted in a giant redwood forest.

"The next day I dodged through the forest, going further and further from Oakland until at last I came upon a lumber camp. I was hungry and desperate. I was glad to see that they did not recognize me and I applied for work. The boss gave me an ax, took me into the forest and marked two redwood trees for me to cut down.

"All day I worked, chopping at that tree. It was late afternoon before I got through the bark. I chopped around and around and, toward nightfall the boss came with a team of oxen expecting to drag in two logs. He was angry and cursed me. I was starting to fight when a windstorm came up, blew down the tree which fell upon the oxen and killed them.

"The man seized an ax and sprang toward me. Again I turned and fled deeper and deeper into the forest. For days and days I fled, subsisting upon the bark of trees, roots and berries. I dared not go near the haunts of man. On the eighth day, exhausted and worn I sat down upon a log in the depths of the forest and soliloquized:

"Here I am," I said bitterly, "an outcast, a pariah, hated and hunted by all men; an Ishmael, driven from the haunts of man; a fugitive with all human beings seeking my life.

"I sat there, thinking thus bitterly for an hour. Then suddenly an inspiration came. I brightened up.

"Why, then, shouldn't I make a good umpire?

"That is the way I started umpiring."

EDDIE PLANK TO THE TIGER CAMP

This is One of the Possibilities of the Hot Stove Season.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—"Battery for Detroit, Plank and Stanage!"

How would that sound to you, Mr. Fan, if the megaphone boy at Navin field should shout it out some fine day next spring? It would be strange no doubt, but when you come to think it over, not so hard to take.

There is a possibility that it will go through too. President Navin is prepared to talk business with the veteran left-hander and is willing to offer Eddie a good salary to come here. He has not made any advances as yet and will not do so until he talks with Connie Mack.

"I would not want to pay any big money for Plank," said Mr. Navin, "but if I can get him to come here I will hand him a contract for one year. I couldn't afford to take a chance on him with a long contract, but would be willing to pay him just as long as he delivered the goods.

"You never can tell how long one of those old fellows is going to last. He may lose his arm at any time and he may be good for several years but it would be foolish to pay much for his release. There is no doubt that Mack is through with the veteran southpaw, and I do not think that he will expect to get very much for him. He will be disappointed if he puts a fancy price on the player. As soon as I find out just what Connie is really up to, I'll be prepared to talk to Eddie himself.

"It would be better to give the pitcher the money in the form of a contract or bonus than to pay the Philadelphia club cash for him. If he were getting the coin he would do his best to earn it, while he might not exert himself if Mack made all the profit."

Plank might be a very valuable asset to the Tigers for a season or two. He proved in 1914 that he still retains his cunning. He is not able to work as often as he once could, but by nursing him along, Jennings should be able to get fifteen victories a season out of him as long as his arm lasts. It would be a good investment to buy the antique hurler for Detroit just to keep him from pitching against the Tigers. He has been a thorn in the side of the Jungaleers for years, almost always giving them trouble when right. His percentage of victories over Detroit probably is as high as that of any curver in the business, barring Walter Johnson.

DODG HIS OWN SURGEON.

Performs Operation on Himself That Veterinarians Overlooked.

New York, Nov. 6.—"Medical degrees are not conferred upon canines," remarked H. T. Galpin, owner of the life-saving Great Dane Jim," but if they were my dog Jim ought to have one, summa cum laude.

"When Jim was struck by a big automobile some months ago and crippled in the hip, besides receiving other injuries, I sent him to the dog hospital for a week and he had the attention of two veterinaries. They got him all right except the hip, and that kept him lame until last week and seemed to get no better.

"Two weeks ago I took him up the state with me—he loves an auto even if one did nearly kill him—and one morning Jim showed up with two holes knawed in his ham, one about six inches lower than the other, over the affected spot, and so situated as to act as a drain. They were not good to look at, but Jim was in better spirits than usual, and within two days he was walking almost as good as new, and now the wounds have healed, and I guess it won't be much longer before his leg is all right.

"He did what the vets couldn't do or didn't do, and just how he knew how to do it is more than I can tell you."

ROUT THE GERMS FROM FOOT BALL

Individual Cups for Men to Drink from Between Periods.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—These are germless days for Harvard football players out practicing in the stadium, or if there are any germs about they keep out of sight. They were shunted off from the players' clothing by sterilizers long ago. And now, when the tin dipper drinking cups have kissed themselves goodbye, microbes are sad indeed.

The latest wrinkle to protect the football players from the invasion of the "bugs" is that of the individual drinking cup. There are no split drinks on Soldiers' field any more, for every fellow on the squad has his own little water cup—not one, in fact, but as many as he likes.

Dr. F. H. Nichols, '86, professor at the medical school, athletic committee member, erstwhile baseball coach and for many years medical and surgical adviser of the football mend inaugurated the new precaution, and if the microbes are sore on any one it should be on him. But the reform has come to stay.

No more will the football crowds see the players rush to the water bucket between the halves to quench their thirst first hand from the flowing bowl itself, from the rusty dippers or even from the rubbers' dripping sponges. Hereafter the drinks on and off the field are going to be pure, or there will be no drinks at all. It will be the high life on the side line and the rough stuff is a thing of the past.

The new drinking envelopes which soon are to be discarded for real cutglass stems, it is said, are pretty little things. They have no monograms on or handles, but hold water, all that a thirsty football player should be allowed to drink at one sitting. "Pooch" Donovan, the trainer, is head water inspector, of course, but his handy man, Bob Fowler, is the dispenser in chief. Bob is an old Marathon runner, but he's now the handiest little fellow in the world with the water supply.

In the old days Bob had time to practice drop kicking while the varsity was working and there was time also for him to entertain the substitutes with his stories about his gruelling races. There are no stories now. Bob is busy—eternally busy—filling up the water envelopes. He has a little tray with a handle on it and there is room on the tray for about twenty-two cups—one for every player—for naturally no one shares his drink. Bob takes the refreshment out onto the field also, and then, when the melee is over, he picks up the empties—some 100 a day there are—and these belong to Bob if he wants them.

"Pooch" Donovan thinks the scheme is a dandy. He dislikes "bugs" as much as Dr. Nichols does, but passes the palm to "Nick" because the doctor thought of the individual drinking cups first, while "Pooch" only had figured that maybe if the players used individual straws and dipped them in the same bucket the germ might forget to slide through.

Look Who's Coming! None Other Than Gwendolyn, Girl Caddie

It used to be—"Se here, you blinkety-blankety, wooden-headed chump, where have you been with those golf balls, and why in Halifax don't you bring me sticks?"

But that was before golf was reformed, before it knew the refining influence of the "girl caddie."

Soon, but not yet, the conversation of the links may be like this: "My deah, Miss Gwendoline, pawdon me for this intrusion, bbut may I be so presuming as to awsk you to lug that bag of sticks over to the 'steenth hole, and is it awsking too much to put a dozen balls in the bag, and if you don't mind I'll awsk you to lug my sweater along. Oh, thanks, awfully. Charmed to have had a moment's chat with you."

The girl caddie was an established institution on French golf links before Frenchmen threw aside golf balls to play with cannon balls, and some American golfers who have played abroad rather like the idea of having "sweet young things" tote their golf sticks about for them, and they feel sure that Miss Caddie would have a refining effect on the "tired business man" who isn't permitted to do his cussing at home.

© A. B. K. Co.; 1914

Has met with universal favor, not only because of its thorough workmanship, but for the cosmopolitan style that in nowise detracts from its serviceability. The shawl collar means warmth and ample protection, and the convenient length is an additional aid to comfort.

There are Chinchillas and Chinchillas, but to be on the safe side buy one of the new Kirschbaum Overcoats just received from the tailoring shop. You know it's only short knap chinchilla this season; the kind that give good service.

All wool, too.

The True Mirror of Mid-Season Coat Styles

Belted models are also very much favored, and these are placed at the normal as well asbelow the waist line.

All collars, no matter how they differ as to lines, are such that they may be worn high at the throat and the new military collar and coat is fast coming to the front.

We invite you tomorrow to a special exposition and sale of these new developments in coat styles which will now emphasize the style situation through the winter.

Coats at 10.00, 11.50 and 12.50

Broadcloth, zebelines, Persiana, chinchilla, plaids, checks and many novel weaves in excellent grades of cloaking. Every garment at either of these prices is offered with the assurance that the values are incomparable and the styles the very newest. A splendid assortment at these prices awaits the coat buyer tomorrow.

Coats at 15.00, 16.75 and 18.50

FUR TRIMMED COAT 19.75

This garment reflects a world of beauty and smartness. Large plaid zibeline is used. The coat has a front belt effect below normal, straight back and shows a large collar of blended opossum. Self covered and large fancy buttons materially aid in the trimming as well as for practical use in the fastening.

BLACK BROADCLOTH COAT 25.00

Imagine a rich chiffon broadcloth in cloaking weight with black wolf collar, velvet piping and velvet buttons for trimming; lined throughout in the best of satin, designed in moyenage effect with wide flaring bottom, and you have the exact picture in your mind—it surely is a beauty.

A HANDSOME CAPE COAT 40.00

For the price it should be handsome. This coat is of imported broadtail pile fabric with beaver collar and reveres and trim of beaver on cuffs. It has a deep cape effect which makes it unusually attractive. Both cape and coat are lined throughout with Skinner satin. Can be worn for any occasion.

Miscellaneous Special Values

$3.95 WALKING SKIRTS TOMORROW ... 2.95

$7.50 WORSTED DRESSES; REDINGOTE STYLE, AT 5.95

Made of fine French serge showing V shaped yoke and flaring collar of white pique. A becoming style, a good quality fabric and a very special value for this price.

$5.00 GIRLS' COATS, MILITARY STYLE, AT 3.95

Made from the best grade navy blue melton, military collar and Epaulets, half belt at back, military buttons, red piping.

$5.00 PILE FABRIC MUFFS AT 3.50

Hindu Lynx, Persiana, broadtail, plush—If you have a coat in any of these fabrics or if you buy a new coat in any of them, you can match a muff at the above low cost.

New Distinctive Blouses

Our own people who "live among the blouses" are stirred to unusual enthusiasm at the beautiful blouses which are now coming into the department.

The Cossack or basque, the flaring and standing collars, the waistcoats and girdles—a bewildering collection of delightful blouses exceeding any blouse collection of recent months.

Prices also are of the usual moderate kind.

BLACK AND WHITE VEILED WAISTS; $5.00 VALUES, AT 3.75

This special assortment of fashionable models consists of five styles—Black shadow lace, chiffon and net veiled over white chiffon, or net—the effect is most beautiful, and the dainty trimming effects, aided by the pretty collars, add a charming exclusiveness. These combination effects can be worn with almost any color skirt or tailored suit.

VELVET JUMPERS AT 2.50

Velvet and messaline jumpers are amongst the latest things shown in the waist department. They can be worn with a guimp or over a lace waist with wonderful results in beauty effect. We've just secured a jumper made of good velveteen, fastening with a medium size jet button and having a messaline bow at back. At $2.50 it is a splendid value.

WHITE MESSALINE SILK BASQUES AT 5.00

An exceptionally handsome and striking model in a basque blouse of fine white messaline silk with collar and cuffs of black messaline. The below normal waist line is added to in effect by the addition of a long sash forming a large bow at back. The blouse showing the front effectively shirred and fastening with large self covered buttons. Value important for the price.

LACE, NET, CREPE TAFFETAS, EXTRA VALUES AT 5.95

SWIFT CALL OF WET BET

would sign a remonstrance against the granting of the license and there is certain to be one filed.

It was stated there would be no great difficulty to get a majority of the legal voters of the township to sign a remonstrance.

Lewis Smith, who applied for the license, is not known to the commissioners. The only Lewis Smith given in the directory is described as a farmer residing in rural route 3 and owning 137 acres of land assessed at $4,500 and situated in section 7 of Washington township.

The commissioners decline to state what action they will take on the application, but point out that there must be valid reasons for refusing a license and that should they peremptorily refuse Smith one he still would have recourse on appeal to higher courts.

Hiser Place Long an Eyesore.

For many years the Hiser roadhouse on the Goshen road had been notorious as a boozing ken much resorted to by men and women from Fort Wayne. Complaints from residents of Washington township were numerous, but Hiser somehow always "got by" and continued to run his place until a few months ago, when the commissioners put Hiser out of business and the place was closed.

Since the closing of the old roadhouse there had been different rumors that the place was to reopen. Notice of an application for license was published, but it was withdrawn. In fear the place might be finally licensed again people of the township several weeks ago petitioned for a local option election, hoping that the township, which now has no saloons outside the city, would be voted dry and kept so for at least [illegible] Many voters who are opposed to reopening the roadhouse were opposed to voting the township dry and the wets carried the election by a small margin.

JOYRIDE BUNCH HEAVILY FINED

Drunken Layout That Made Assault on Gaskins Pay Penalty.

For driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated George C. Lockwood, of Auburn, was fined $50 and costs, and for assault and battery on Fred Gaskins Al McKee, an alleged Fort Wayne prize fighter, was fined $35 and costs and given a suspended sentence of thirty days. Judge Kerr promised Lockwood that he would exert his efforts to have his automobile license revoked by the secretary of state. Cora Smith, Anna Fisher and Eva Swope were fined $5 and costs each on charges of disorderly conduct. The cases were tried in the city court Friday morning and grew out of a drunken joyride taken Wednesday evening by McKee, another man unknown, and the three women in Lockwood's car. After spending some time drinking in a downtown saloon McKee, his unidentified pal and the three females picked up Lockwood and the sextet drove out to the Four Mile house on the New Haven road and spent three hours drinking. After entering the city limits upon their return trip about 9 o'clock Lockwood's car broke down. Fred Gaskins, who was walking along Maumee avenue, stopped to inquire about the trouble and the drunken auto crew became abusive and when this treatment was resented McKee and the unknown man assaulted him, knocked him down and then gave him the boot. Mr. Gaskins was seriously cut and bruised about the head and face. When Officers Brown, Fry and Buuck reached the scene soon after Mr. Gaskins had reported the affair the unknown man had escaped and the Fisher woman avoided arrest by yprotesting that she was merely an onlooker attracted from her nearby home by the racket. McKee, Lockwood, Mrs. Swope and Mrs. Smith were locked up. The Fisher woman was arrested Thursday [illegible]

Smith was keeping an immoral place upstairs at 210 East Columbia street, and that the Fisher woman had been taking men there. McKee pleaded that he had not been under arrest for three years, and that, moreover, he is to make a California girl his happy, happy bride the 22nd of this month. He couldn't pay his fine and went to jail, as did Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Fisher. Mr. Swope, proud of the ineffable distinctions conferred upon his name and hearthstone by Mrs. Swope, flitted about the courtroom like a soiled butterfly, and was as beaming and busy as a master of ceremonies at a high noon wedding. Mr. Swope insisted very heartily that Mr. Lockwood, in consideration of having had the joyous boon of Mrs. Swope's company on the souse ride, ought to pay Mrs. Swope's fine. Mr. Lockwood protested and Mr. Swope paid it himself. Lockwood paid his fine and was allowed to go. He is married and comes of a well-to-do and highly respected family in DeKalb county. The assault and battery case against Lockwood was dismissed.

Other City Court Cases.

Charles Miller, who was turned loose Thursday morning and was rearrested two hours later, was sent over for eleven days, and Tom Hennessey, who was let go Monday and again arrested Thursday, was continued for a day to determine whether or not he has a job to go to.

Jack Welch, Paul Lyton and Bill Andrew, drunks, were turned loose, and Owney Geegan, who was found in a dooryard near the piano factory, stewed red, was continued until Saturday.

Charles Crow and Harry McCall, two young hoboes who were begging on downtown streets, got $5 and costs each for vagrancy.

The case against Theodore Branston, colored, a driver for the Randall Motor Car company, was continued until Monday on a charge of driving a car without a license tag.

Harry Sutton, arrested Friday morning by Detective Sergeant Charles Spillner while trying to sell a valuable carpenter's plane at a Main street pawnshop, was held on loitering charges under $200 bond. Sutton showed fight while being taken to headquarters. He has been in the city several days and will be investigated.

"American Patriotism"—

VILLA READY TO STEP OUT

The convention, according to official reports, received Villa's communication with a tumult of applause. No action was taken on it pending the report of a commission which went to Puebla to notify Carranza of the election of General Guiterrez as provisional president.

Villa's statement is in answer to the stipulations of General Carranza that with his own retirement Villa and Zapata should be eliminated from military authority.

According to reports from American Consul Silliman resistance by Carranza of the convention's orders will depend on the attitude of Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the divisjon of the east. He is at Quertaro with several thousand troops and indications are that he will remain loyal to Carranza. Carranza's visit to Obregon, commander of the division of the northeast it is believed, may have an important bearing on the situation, as Obregon had shown his loyalty to the convention.

Guiterrez has stated to American agents that as soon as he is sworn in as provisional president he will issue the proclamation giving the guarantees desired by the United States before withdrawing its forces from Vera Cruz. Villa has agreed to support Guiterrez in enforcing the proclamation which Carranza declined to issue.

OPENS UP FIELD FOR GOOD CHEER

Investigations in Fort Wayne by the parent-teacher clubs of all of the public schools open up a big field for The Sentinel-Empress good cheer Christmas fund which will be conducted along the same lines that made it a great success last year.

There are in the schools of Fort Wayne this year more boys and girls who are being kept there through the medium of these clubs than in any school year within the experience of the oldest teachers. Pupils are supplied with sufficient clothing to enable them to attend regularly and this is being done so quietly that nobody knows the beneficiaries of these charitable women.

This fact is cited to show that without some public movement the Christmas time will be barren of joy for the tots who have been taught the great story of Nazareth. A doll, a pair of warm mittens, a cap, a toy wagon, a few confections and a bit of fruit will have a tendency to impress more thoroughly upon the minds of the young the story of three wise men and the guiding star that led them to Bethlehem to offer their adoration to the Savior of mankind, whose mission on earth was one of peace, joy and salvation.

Cheerless Christmas. Think of it. Can you do it without sniffling and trying hard to force back that suspicious moisture in your eyes that is so near to tears?

Can you do it without tugging at the strings of your wallet until they are loosened, until a nice little sum of money has found its way from the store to the Christmas fund where every cent will be invested in happiness—every cent means every cent for the reason that there is absolutely no expense?

The Sentinel will collect the funds, the Empress will give its big house and one of its best shows for the little ones and committees from the Fort Wayne Mothers' club will make the distribution.

The story of the empty stocking is old. So is the story of Christmas, but both will endure so long as the world stands. There were few empty stockings in Fort Wayne last year and there was no good reason for a single one.

Every channel of information that might lead to the discovery of a child whose Christmas would have been rendered cheerless by absence of presents was explored and steps taken to prevent such a disappointment.

This year the matter is being put before the public earlier for a number of reasons. The first is that time is needed to make the selection of presents after the money has been subscribed. Secondly, time is needed for making the distributions and arranging for it in a way to avoid confusion and with this in mind the lists will be opened at once and all money received will be duly acknowledged. People were very charitable last year and it is believed that the same generosity will prompt them this year.

INTERESTED IN LECTURES.

Dr. Paul A. Mollan Talks on Hog Cholera and Its Prevention in Allen County.

Unusual interest is being taken in the lectures being given in Allen county by Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterianarian, co-operating with Purdue university.

Friday morning Dr. Mollan gave a demonstration of vaccination for hog cholera at the farm of J. R. McMahan, two and one-half miles north of Sheldon, on the Bluffton road. Friday afternoon he made another demonstration at Hoagland, Madison township, vaccinating several Poland China hogs belonging to Dr. L. Smith.

Thursday afternoon Dr. Mollan gave a demonstration at Markle, Huntington county, under the auspices of the Markle Community association.

Word has been received by Dr. Mollan that the Fowler Gun club at Fowler has shot between 5,000 and 10,000 pigeons in an effort to prevent the spread of cholera in that section.

Dr. Mollan declared in his lecture Thursday evening that farmers are forbidden from shipping cattle at the present time. There is a heavy penalty, he said, for breaking the quarantine.

ELECTRIC MEN TO HOLD MEET

Prominent interurban and electrical men from all sections of the country are expected to be in attendance at the fall meeting of the Central Electric Railway association to be held at the Hotel Anthony Thursday and Friday, November 19 and 20.

A business meeting will be held at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, at which time the reports of the various committees will be named. The report of the standardization committee will be made by R. N. Hemming, of the Union Traction Company of Indiana. W. F. Goltra, president of the W. F. Goltra Tie company, of Cleveland, Ohio, will read a paper on "Treatment of Ties or Wood Preservation," which will be followed by a paper by E. S. Sawtelle, assistant general manager of the Tool, Steel, Gear and Pinion company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, on "Intermating Tool Steel Pinions With Untreated Gears." At 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon a meeting of the Central Electric Traffic association will be held.

Friday's Program.

Another business session will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock, followed by a paper by J. W. Esterline, president and general manager of the Esterline company, of Indianapolis, on "Interurban Headlights." H. F. Smith, an engineer for the Prest-O-Lite company, of Indianapolis, will read a paper on "Oxyacetylene Welding." "Selection of Railway Equipment." is the subject of a paper by J. F. Laying, an engineer for the General Electric company, of Schenectady, New York.

A meeting of the executive committee of the association will be held at the Hotel Anthony November 18, at 7:30 o'clock. E. F. Schneider is president of the association and A. L. Neereamer is secretary. Three meetings are held each year.

CHICAGO FACES SALOON FAMINE

But the Windy City Will Probably Survive the Ordeal.

But, except the "jobless" saloon-keepers, no one is worrying much about that.

When the 7,150 saloon-keepers were called upon November 1 to renew their annual license of $1,000 about 400 of them were missing. The brewers were called upon for help, but brewers are good business men. They refused to finance "bars" that were steadily losing money.

"I have been in the liquor business for twenty-six years," said William Legner, secretary of the Cook County Brewers' association, "and I have never known business to be so dull.

"The saloon-keepers say that the war tax of fifty cents on each barrel of beer, the increase of the 'I don't take anything now club' and the general depression in business have put 'Demon Rum, on the hun and taken the profits out of whisky selling. A few years ago there was such a demand for liquor license in Chicago that a license that cost $1,000 could be sold for $2,000 or $3,000. Today all the licenses wanted may be had for $1,000.

"It's the saloons in the factory districts that are hardest hit this year and in the districts where workingmen live saloons no longer pay. Most of the saloon-keepers who are quitting the business are located in the factory districts, but some of the big places in the loop are also going to hang out a 'for rent' sign."

As a result of the depression in the saloon business Chicago will lose half a million dollars annually in revenue received from the saloon license.

MOOSER GETS THE PLACE.

Township Tie in Elkhart County is Broken by Drawing.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 6.—In Middlebury township, Elkhart county, Gideon M. Lehman, democrat, and David S. Blough, progressive, for trustee, each received 187 votes. To determine the winner under the vote, they, by agreement, placed ten black and ten green marbles in a hat, flipped a coin to decide who should draw first and proceeded on the understanding that the one with a majority of black marbles should get the trusteeship. On the first draw each one had five black marbles and the same result was repeated on the second draw. The third draw made Blough winner.

HUMANS NEED NOT FEAR INFECTION

Meat-Eaters Given Reassurance by Chicago Packing Authorities.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Statements assuring the public that foot and mouth disease, the malady that is raging among live stock in nine states, cannot infect humans through the eating of meat, was issued by officials of Chicago's largest packing companies today.

"Meat eaters need have no fear from the disease," read a statement by J. Ogden Armour. "No particle of meat from an infected animal is used, even for pork (whether or [illegible] Every such [illegible] examined carefully every bit of meat sold by packers and the vigilance has been doubly watchful for a week. The disease is detected quickly and there is not one chance for harm to any meat sold."

There would be no danger in eating meat from infected animals even if it were used, unless the affected parts were brought into contact with dressed meats, according to a statement by Dr. Walter S. Haynes, toxicologist, and member of the Illinois food commission.

The quarantine placed on the Chicago Union Stock yards by federal and state officials will go into effect at the close of today's business. The yards must remain closed for nine days, the government officials ordered, so all cattle cars, pens and other equipment with which infected animals are thought to have come in contact, can be thoroughly disinfected. A force of 1,000 men is employed in the process of fumigation.

FRIEDMANN CURE GIVEN NEW JOLT

Public Health Service Puts Seal of Disapproval on Treatment.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The seal of official disapproval has been placed upon the tuberculosis "cure" brought to this country in 1913 by Dr. Fredrich Friedmann, of Berlin. The announcement was made today by the United States public health service in making public an abstract of the report of its investigations in hospitals and laboratories where tests of the Friedmann cultures were made. It declares that conclusions of the American physicians are in line with Friedmann's claim to the discovery of a specific cure for tuberculosis."

One-fourth of all cases treated under the observation of American physicians developed running sores at the point of injection of the "cure," the abstract states, adding that Dr. Friedmann admitted this to be unfavorable to effecting a cure but declared his method of injection had overcome that obstacle. The report further states that the bacteria germs used for injection by Dr. Friedmann "show that the germ in different varieties of tubercle baccilli commonly known at the present time and that their injection into smaller animals rendered the subject more susceptible to tubercular infection instead of more resistant, as was claimed." No specific cases are reported in the abstract made public nor is any mention made of Dr. Friedmann's method of preparing his culture.

RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN FROM SORE, ACHING JOINTS

What's Rheumatism? Pain only.

Stop drugging! Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica liniment, which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer. Relief awaits you. Old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

NO LIQUOR FIGHT FOR 8 YEARS NOW

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Not only did the voters of California defeat statewide prohibition on Tuesday by a majority that will probably reach 150,000, but they approved a measure designed to prevent a recrudescence of the prohibition movement within a period of eight years.

Amendment No. 47, which provides that there shall not be another vote on the liquor question in that time, was adopted by a much smaller majority. The red light abatement measure appeared today to have gone down to defeat by a narrow margin, although there is still a possibility a majority against it might be upset.

The proposed law prohibiting prize fighting had a margin of more than 20,000 votes on returns in hand with a number of Los Angeles precincts to hear from.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 8

SOWING AND REAPING.

(World's Temperance Lesson.)

LESSON TEXT—Gal. 6:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.—Gal. 6:7.

Nowhere do the Scriptures excuse men from the results of their own sins. The effects of sins, and of blessings alike, are unto the succeeding generations. France is still paying in the physical realm the cost of Napoleon's ambition. Europe will have a greater debt to pay biologically than any which will be charged against its exchequers as the result of this inhuman and uncalled-for war.

I. Those Who Trespass, vv. 1-5. Jesus plainly instructs us that "trespasses must needs come." Our problem is (a) to avoid being the trespasser and (b) the manner of our conduct towards those who do trespass. In this lesson the second question is treated first. Though a man be overtaken in the very act of trespassing, those who are taught and governed by the Holy Spirit (see chapter 5:16-25) are to prove to the world by their conduct that they are thus taught and governed. They are to "restore such an one," considering at the same time themselves lest they, too, stumble. To restore is to replace, "to reduce a fracture," to put a member of the body into its proper place. Every believer is a member of the body of which Christ is the head I Cor. 12:12, 14, 27, and one who falls (stumbles) into sin is a member out of place.

Man's Duty to Man.

The first step is to help our erring brother to bear his burdens (weights) of temptation, weakness, failure and sin, and in so doing we "fulfill the law of Christ," Ch. 5:14; John 13:34; Rom. 15:3. Jesus Christ not only gave us this law, but he also lived it as well, Phil. 2:5-8. The true disciple, who is really trying to help his brother bear his burden, does so with the consciousness not of his own rectitude, but rather that through the grace of God he has been kept from a like fate. Otherwise the man who "thinketh himself to be something" deceives himself, and no one else. God knows, so does the one whom we seek to help, if we are animated by spiritual pride and boastfulness. This is a measuring line whereby we may judge ourselves (v. 4). Pride and criticism of others largely comes from a desire to glory in ourselves, not so much that we condemn the acts of our neighbor. In verse three we are admonished to bear the burdens—"weights"—of others. In verse five we are told that every man must bear his own burden—"load," i. e., the burden of his own responsibility. No man can bear that load for another, whereas all men can share the "weights" of temptation, weakness, failure and sin.

III. Those Who Are Taught, vv. 6-10. Paul clearly sets before us the responsibility of being enlightened. Being taught, we must pass on the knowledge we have been taught, share the "good things" (v. 6) we have received, see Prov. 11:24; II Cor. 9:6. Those who refrain from thus aiding their teachers gain no personal advantage. The word "mocked" means to sneer. Men may sneer at God and think they escape the result of their sin, but like still produces like. Sow corn, reap corn; figs, reap figs; sin, reap sin; Rom. 8:5, 6. In spite of the contempt men have for God and in the face of their acceptance of this principle in other realms they continue in their sin with a strange fatalistic persistence.

Habits Bless or Curse.

This principle has a wide application. Sow shame, reap dishonor; sow hate, reap bitterness; sow love, reap the fruits of love, kindliness, affection and esteem. Every act is a process of sowing. Every appetite fostered, gratified and pampered helps to produce a crop of habits either to bless or to curse. This gives color and significance to the words of verse eight. "He that soweth to his own flesh shall of (his own) the flesh reap corruption." If, however, under the leading of the Holy Spirit (cf. John 6:63; II Cor. 3:6) we sow to the Spirit, we will reap eternal life for "this is eternal life that we may know him."

Sow a thought, reap an act;
Sow an act, reap a habit;
Sow a habit, reap a destiny.

The practical application is in verse nine. If there are such possibilities of development, "let us not weary of well-doing." Our sowing is not a matter of caprice or convenience. Nor should we, through weariness, cease our activity.

The temperance application is all too plain. We must constantly sow in the minds of the youth the "reaping of the flesh" for those who cultivate a taste for liquor. We must sow in the minds of taxpayers the criminal waste and folly of trying to regulate this traffic or seeking to tax it for the support of governments. We must sow in the minds of those poor souls now in the clutch of this damnable evil that there is a way of deliverance—the way of the Cross, a permanent and complete cure for the one who has gone the farthest or sunk the deepest in sin.

MOVING DAY IS SOCIETY'S FOE

Iowa Man Calls It Cardinal Reason for Divorce and Vice.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 6.—Moving day was depicted as one of the greatest foes of modern society and one of the cardinal reasons for divorce and vice by John Hammond, of Des Moines, Iowa, in an address before the International Purity congress here today.

"The re-establishment of the American home is the only remedy for the social evil, and the only hope of democracy," he said. "The constant shifting of families from one section to another prohibits the long acquaintance among young people through which proper life partners can be selected.

"Young people are thrown into contract with strangers, become bold and practice deceptions. As the result marriage frequently is contracted on a guess. The deceptions are discovered and lead to the divorce courts and too often to immorality."

Mr. Hammond asserted "the constant diminution of home ownership among our people and the day of [illegible] of the [illegible] is the [illegible] ulators for the roofs which shelter them," he continued.

"Girls born and reared in tenements are easy marks for white slavers and not infrequently a widowed mother, ground down by the tenantry system, is forced to sacrifice her virtue rather than her children. Go where you will, you will find the greatest degree of immorality and lawlessness where the homeless population is the greatest."

As a remedy Mr. Hammond said he would exempt the homestead from taxation; put the burden of taxes on incomes and constructive ownership of property and re-establishment of rent in tenants based on assessed valuation and graded on sanitation and conveniences.

HOW TO AVOID WEARING UGLY FALSE TEETH

How often you hear the words: "It's too bad such a pretty girl should have such dreadfully poor teeth!" It's positively distressing the way some people allow their teeth to gradually fade away—become broken, elongated, twisted and protruding. It makes people backward and often morbid. In nearly every instance tooth affection comes from microbes. These tiny unseen living organisms bore their way into the hard white enamel under the shelter of brown or pale straw-like yellow spots. Grit and tartar get between the enamel of the teeth and the gums, causing bleeding, sore, sensitive teeth. Then come loosened teeth, protruding teeth, gum boils and gum separation. Your tongue easily rocks the teeth—you notice a kind of gripping of the nerves of the upper and lower jaws after taking hot or cold food or drink, eating sweets or using tobacco.

You can save yourself a world of dental trouble, the necessity to pull out your teeth or fill them with disfiguring gold or porcelain that soon blackens in the mouth from mouth acids, if you will go to your druggist and get about four ounces of fluid organ, merely putting a teaspoonful in your mouth morning, noon and night, and throwing it out after a minute or so. The microbes in the nooks and crannies, cracks and holes of the teeth will be washed out, destroyed; the hard substances foreign to the teeth will be dissolved, your gums will be clean and rosy, your mouth will be dentally clean, the loose teeth will harden in the gums—try [illegible] with your fingers and your own

FORMER ATHLETES WILL RECEIVE "I"

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—United States Senator B. F. Shively, on behalf of Indiana university, of which he is president of the board of trustees, will present a golf "I" to about 150 former athletes of Indiana university at a banquet of the "I" men's organization here tonight, the eve of the Indiana-Ohio football game. Many members of the leading business and professional men of the state are among those who will receive the "I" and a number of reservations for the banquet have been received from outside the state.

Gov. M. Ralston will attend and Thomas M. Honan, attorney general of Indiana will be toastmaster. Senator Shively will occupy a box at the game and will have among his guests Governor and Mrs. Ralston.

YOUMANS' CHARGE TO JURY POSITIVE

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 6.—Crowds were on hand today at the opening of the federal court when the grand jury which will investigate the recent outbreaks in the Hartford Valley coal mining region, was to receive its charge from Judge Frank Youmans.

Judge Youmans, after pointing to the fact that an injunction was issued on May 9, 1914, enjoining the miners and all others from interfering in any way with the operation of Prairie Creek mine No. 4, owned by the Mammoth Vein Coal Mining company, called attention to the various disturbances which constituted violations of that injunction.

These included the outbreak on July 17, when considerable property was destroyed and two mine guards were alleged to have been murdered and the one on Oct. 31, when certain persons, under arrest, were taken from the custody of United States deputy marshals by armed forces. These acts, according to the court, constituted contempt of court and conspiracy, and he instructed that indictments be returned against all [illegible] the evidence to be presented

Hartford, about three miles south of the Prairie Creek mining district. The origin of the blaze was unknown, it was stated.

MOTHER IS ACQUITTED.

Jury Frees Woman for Slaying Man Who Wronged Daughter.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Florence McGowan, a trained nurse, was acquitted by a jury here of the murder of J. Leroy Brown, an attorney, whom she shot to death two months ago for alleged wrongs to her fifteen year old daughter. Her attorney asked a verdict of not guilty on a plea of the "unwritten law." But the judge's instructions to the jury held that she had been proven guilty.

A verdict was reached after six hours.

WAR AIDS POSTAL BANKS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Chicago's postal savings deposits have been increased materially as a result of the European war according to Postmaster Campbell. Much of the money now being deposited was formerly sent abroad through the international money order service.

"Chicago has just set a unique record," said the postmaster, "by reporting a larger gain in deposits for July, August and September than for the entire preceding year. During these three months the net gain was $521,230, making the total on deposit $2,827,271. The new accounts opened in this period numbered 7,110, increasing the number of depositors to 21,659, each of whom has an average balance of $131.

Mrs. A. D. Fox, of West Wayne street, is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Mary King, of Muskegon, Mich.

Mrs. Martha Cox, of Broadway, gave a dinner party on Wednesday in honor of the birthday anniversary of O. E. Johannesson.

Miss Janet McPhail, of Portland, will arrive in the city tomorrow for a visit with her aunts, the Misses McPhail, of Ewing street, of two or three weeks' time.

Miss Dorothy Hill, of Canton, O., who had been visiting Miss Mildred Bowser, and other friends in the city for ten days, will return home the first of the coming week.

Mrs. George Sunderland and children and an aunt of Mr. Sunderland, all of Chicago, are to make a visit with Mrs. Sunderland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Reuss soon. The visitors are coming tomorrow.

Mrs. O. N. Guldlin and Mrs. Lee J. Ninde are going to South Bend tomorrow to talk before a gathering of women's club on Saturday. Mrs. Ninde will talk about the planning of a small house and Mrs. Guldlin along the line of household economics.

Many Fore Wayne friends of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Deming of Litchfield, Conn., will be interested in knowing that they are to spend the winter in New York. Dr. Deming will devote a part of his time to special study in hospitals. Miss Mary Louise Deming and brother, Nelson, will remain in school in Litchfield.

The Jolly Seven is the name of a new club of young girls who met with Miss Velma Bookwalter on West Williams street, last evening. A social time is to be the order of the meetings. The club members are, in addition to Miss Bookwalter, Esther Ehle, Lillian Lankenau, Velma Pfeil, Helen Pohlmeyer, Madeline Rickett and Lela Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ream gave a euchre party last evening as a compliment to Louis Weisenberger, of Denver, who is visiting here. Both the host and Mr. Weisenberger contributed musical selections for the pleasure of the guests and Mrs. Ream served an excellent supper. There were present Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sutherland, Guy Hayes and Charles Lauer.

Miss Blanche Good, of Huntington, a sister of Mrs. Sam Morris, jr., of this city, and who is acquainted with many of the young people here, is the subject of a very complimentary notice in the current issue of the Musical Courier. Miss Good is a pianist and gave a recital in Aeolian hall on Wednesday of this week, besides having appeared at Smith college, Mt. Holyoke seminary and other educational places. Miss Good is said to be "remarkable for her brilliancy of touch, power of tone and beauty of interpretation.

Misses Nellie Pape and Hilda Weimer gave a marshmallow roast for a number of their friends on Wednesday evening in a field near Miss Pape's home and the roast was followed by a merry time at her home. A lunch of substantial things was served after a while spent playing games. There were present at the good time Misses Ruth Bourie, Helen Christian, Esther Glusencamp, Thelma Kruse, Grace Romary, Julia Christian, Alma Stahl and Messrs. William Schmidt, Jay Fish, Edward Castle, John Spoldner, Lawrence Lauer, Theodore Fisher, George Fishering, Herschel Ackerman, Frank Barnett, Howard Gumpper, Frank Schilling.

A "wienie roast" was the principal feature of a good time enjoyed last evening by students of the International Business college in compliment to Misses Smith and Witham. The party was held at the home of friends east of the city and those who participated were Misses Ensley, Shilling, Cape, Puffenberger, Peoples, Schuck, Zimmerman, Wright, Smith, Witham, Radenbaugh, Munk, Spade, Howard, Schubarg, Snyder, Chambers, Kesslen, and Sunday, and Messrs. Bond, Walley, Mowry, Mason, Smith, McClelland Whitmire, Bornhose, Lotz, Danacer and Crommett.

The members of the Junior Orphans' home society will hold another sale on the market place tomorrow morning.

Many friends in this city of Mrs. S. E. Morss and daughter, Mrs. Josephine Morss Loonen, will learn with interest that Mrs. Morss and her daughter have joined the society of the Red Cross and are actively at work. Mrs. Morss took the course of training and Mrs. Loonen has joined her mother in the bandage department. Before going a broad to live a number of years ago the Morss family lived in Indianapolis. Many years ago Mr. and Mrs. Morss lived in this city.

Maude Adams at Majestic Monday.

As the curtain rises on the second act of "The Legend of Leonora," Barrie's new comedy, there is disclosed the Old Bailey, London's most famous criminal court. The jurymen are in their places, but the audience only sees the back of their heads. Two of the acts are laid in this court and never once are the faces of the jurors turned toward the audience. The play is the fifth from the Barrie pen that has been made known in this country by Maude Adams, and it promises to be an even bigger success than any of its predecessors. The reasons for this are that it contains all of the whimsy, fantasy and quaintness that one would expect from Barrie together with that delightful brand of humor that is all his own. Further than this the play furnishes in Leonora the most artistic and agreeable role that Miss Adams has had with which to please and captivate her large and loyal following. The comedy is to be given by Miss Adams at the Majestic theater Monday when it will be found effectively staged and unfolded by a company of all-around excellence.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Thirty years the favorite amusement place of Fort Wayne, and still on the job, is the record the Temple has made, as today the thirtieth anniversary of the opening of the playhouse and it is being celebrated by a bill of such exceptional merit even for the Temple that the week-end bids fair to set a new high water mark. "Marked Money," done by the Readick and Freeman players, is the top attraction on this program. The playlet, written by John J. O'Connor, has elements of pathos and also has its tragic aspects, but through it all is a dominant humor note, and a powerful sermon is brilliantly preached in a manner calculated to register a strong appeal. "The Traveling Salesman," the musical skit done by Goldsmith and Pinard, is some act, as these two comedians are immensely funny, especially Goldsmith in his travesty as Sousinksy, the band-leading king, directing the playing of a group of marches.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Who ever heard of a man balancing himself on an unsupported pole and even walking up stairs on it? And who ever heard of a one-legged man being able to do a feat like that? Well, that's what Paul Stephens, the most wonderful one-legged man in the world is doing at the Empress. And he is one of the many features on this wonderful new bill that is headlined by Frank Morrell.

McDermott and Wallace have a snappy, lively act which they call "A Little Bit of Everything." Trovello is a ventriloquist who varies the usual act of this character in the most novel manner. Menetti and Sidello, two boys who are agile envoys from funland, do a wonderful act with a lot of chairs and six tables. The new bill is a hummer.

THE ORPHEUM.

MARY FULLER.

Charming Mary Fuller, most delightful of all screen stars, comes to the Orpheum today, playing the title role in a romantic drama that gloves her contagious personality perfectly. "His Big Chance" is the story of a royal princess who comes to America and anonymously secures a position as maid in the home of a Mrs. Clifton. During the absence of Mr. Clifton his wife accepts the attentions of a young fop, Trinker, and Mary, coming hastily into a room one day, finds Mrs. Clifton in the arms of her lover. In order to bind the girl to secrecy, Mrs. Clifton promises to fulfill any request she may make, and Mary, in a mischievous moment, orders that she be taken to Newport and introduced as a belle.

On the balance of the program we find one of the uproarious Nestor comedies, running in two reels and bearing the caption "[illegible]" Regiment" march and Leo Feist's wonderful song hit, "You're Here and I'm Here." Miss Lyons sings "Forgotten," one of the most beloved compositions of the noted composer, Cowles.

AT THE LYRIC.

MERRY MINSTRELS MAKE MIRTH AT THE LYRIC.

Sid Carter's Sunny South Merry Makers are tearing it off by the yard at the Lyric theater and will continue to serve it to 'em red hot until Saturday night, when the playhouse again will return to straight vaudeville. The daily shift of first run pictures finds "Mr. Cinderella," a two-reel Thanhouser, on the books for this afternoon and evening. "The Blotted Page" is a powerful sermon against suicide. The story deals with a broken broker's attempt at self-slaughter, being frustrated by a parlor maid, whose own father had killed himself because of financial reverses brought on him by the father of the man whose life she is saving. He gives over his rash determination. The closing scenes of the play are exceptionally strong.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"THE ERRING."

Presents Interesting Problem—Million Dollar Mystery and Pathe War News Special.

Well, they haven't discovered Hargreaves yet, nor unearthed the million dollars or quite decided who will marry Florence. These three perplexing problems are the big motives in the strangest most gripping mystery story ever presented by the camera, the Million Dollar Mystery, and the person who advances the correct solution will be given ten thousand dollars for his or her trouble in arriving at the conclusions. Today's consignment brings us two reels nearer the end of the serial, which is not far off, but it would seem as if this fact had served to make the action swifter and the mystery deeper. In today's episode, Florence again outwits the conspirators after a thrilling escapade in "The Underground River."

Coupled with this thrilling feature, we have another reel of the Pathe War News, bringing with it the latest news from the battle fronts in war-stricken Europe. The intrepid Pathe camera-men must have forgotten the meaning of fear, judging by the audacity they displayed in securing these pictures.

The third number on this very good feaure bill gives us one of the famous Lubin special three act dramas, "The Erring." Displaying a plot of penetrating interest, staged on a tremendous scale of lavishness and acted faultlessly, this production comes up, in every way to the exacting Jefferson standard, which means, of course, that it is perfect.

STORY HOUR AT PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Young Children Will Have Chance Every Saturday at 10 O'Clock.

The story hour for younger children at the public library will begin Saturday morning, November 7, at 10 o'clock and will continue regularly at this time throughout the winter. Children of the kindergarten and first four grades are invited. Stories from the "Kalevala," the national epic of Finland, will be told in series form, as well as miscellaneous stories suitable to the seasons, standard degends and folk stories. The story hour is held with the purpose of interesting children in the library and in good stories, with the ultimate desire to give them a love for good literature and to encourage the reading of good books. The stories are told informally, care being taken to avoid artificiality and self-consciousness.

Artistic blending of velvet and silk—of velour and flowers—produces these newest winter fashions. Particularly attractive are the hats in the new sand shades, cerise color combined with black or navy.

The hat at the top is a snug Frenchy turban, made of silk velour with faille silk facing the crown, trimmed with a beautiful ostrich fantasie on side, finished with French moire bow, $5.00.

These are but two of the many charming hats in this assortment—where styles are distinctive and all equally attractive.

27 NURSES WALK OUT ON STRIKE

New York, Nov. 5.—Following a strike of twenty-seven nurses in the Flushing hospital, five young women yesterday were expelled from the institution. Two of them were accused by Thomas D. Loweree, superintendent, of walking out of the operating room while a patient was in a critical stage of an operation for appendicitis. This happened Saturday afternoon, and soon after, it was said, seventy-two patients, many of them desperately ill, were without the care of nurses.

The superintendent announced that the following nurses had been expelled: Miss May Schultz, Manhassett, L. I.; Miss M. Shapter, Bayside; Miss Ethel Olsen, Flushing, daughter of a member of the board of trustees, and the Misses Schaeffer and Hargrove, of Elmhurst.

The trouble was caused by the action of Mr. Loweree on Friday in asking for the resignation of Miss M. E. Melville, supervisor of nurses, he explained yesterday. Miss Frances Nicholson, supervisor of the operating room, had been allowed to resign, he added, and Saturday he heard that a petition was being circulated among the nurses asking for a public hearing for Miss Melville.

"I understood it was being circulated at the instance of Miss Melville," he said, "and when it was presented I told the nurses that the matter of her dismissal had been up before the hospital executive committee, and the committee had decided that for the good of the service she had better leave. Thereupon one of the petitioners said that the nurses would not be responsible for what happened.

"At a quarter to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon the walk-out occurred," he continued. "At that moment Dr. C. B. Story was performing an operation for appendicitis, and assisting him were Miss Nicholson, Miss Shapter and Miss Schults. There was a rap at the door and Miss Nicholson answered it. Then she whispered to the other nurses and the three of them walked out while the operation was in progress. They joined other nurses, and the strikers even went so far as to awaken night nurses who then were sleeping. Twenty-seven strong, they left the hospital and went to the nurses' home."

With Dr. John McLeod, a staff physician, Mr. Loweree decided that the five later expelled were the ringleaders, he said. He sent Dr. McLeod over to the nurses' home to try to persuade the others to return. Then he communicated with other hospitals, told them his plight and soon fifteen nurses were on the way to help out. Before they arrived, however, Dr. McLeod had succeeded in getting twenty-two of the strikers to return.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you musn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress

WAR BRINGS LARGE ORDERS.

Studebaker Co. to Put 1,500 Men to Work Immediately.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 5.—Large contracts for harness, wagons and other equipment, closed by the Studebaker corporation, will give employment to hundreds of men.

Contracts closed with warring nations of Europe will keep the South Bend plant busy for the next year at least, it is estimated.

It is planned to put approximately one thousand men to work on the war contracts immediately and five hundred other men, who were laid off during the last two weeks will also be employed. This work will be handled in conjunction with other contracts.

A. R. Erskin, vice president of the Studebaker corporation, made the following announcement:

"The Studebaker corporation has closed large contracts for harness, wagons and other of their products for use in the different European countries. The harness contract was very large and consequently a portion of it has been sublet to different harness and saddle manufacturers throughout the country, although our harness department will execute a large portion of the order."

DIVORCES STILL HAVE THE CALL

Unhappy Marriages Holding Larger Place on the Local Dockets.

Ada R. Conrad has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from William J. Conrad, to whom she was married September 18, 1904, and from whom she separated October 1, 1914. She says he treated her cruelly, had an ungovernable temper and that during the last four or five years of their life together greatly abused her with vile language, blows and false accusations of her fidelity. Finally he abandoned her, she says. She asks the custody of a child and has obtained an order restraining him from molesting her.

Says Wife Left Him.

Howard S. Byall, who resides in Aboit township, has commenced suit in the superior court for divorce from Matilda C. Byall. He says they were married in September, 1908, and that in November, 1909, she abandoned and deserted him, since which time they have lived apart.

Calls Him Habitual Drunkard.

Because her husband, Ernest V. Swihart, is a habitual drunkard and does not provide for her, are the reasons given by Ethel Swihart in asking the superior court for a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name of Ethel Tyler. The couple were married July 5, 1910, and separated March 18, 1911.

Notes of the Courts.

William S. Schleicher has brought suit in the superior court against Catherine Miller to foreclose a mechanic's lien, demanding $1,900.

Chester W. Keen brings action in the circuit court against the Colonial works, of Fort Wayne, for $150 on account.

The Athenaeum of Fort Wayne has brought suit in the superior court against Elsie Tobias on an accepted bill of exchange for $100 and $25 attorney's fee.

The suit of Ira C. Chapman vs. the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company has been dismissed from the superior court.

Mrs. J. J. McDonald has been appointed by Judge John W. Eggeman, of the circuit court, to serve as a member of the board of children's guardians to succeed the late Mrs. Helen Fleming.

Judge Yaple, in the superior court, has designated Daniel Sprang as receiver of the Sprang Clay Products company, against which concern suit on account and for receiver was filed Thursday in the superior court by the Fort Wayne Oil and Supply company.

LIQUOR LICENSES GRANTED.

The board of county commissioners on Friday granted the following liquor licenses upon which action had been postponed from Monday: George Abdon 2116 Winter street; Walter Baals, 1415 Hanna street Meyer & Meyer, 507 Calhoun street; James O'Ryan, 1406 Calhoun street; Fred Rodenbeck, 1731 Hanna street; John Lenk, 2003 Maumee avenue; Floyd Hursh, Cedar Creek.

THE DEATHS.

RINEHART.

Theresa Rinehart, wife of William A. Rinehart, of 1205 Taylor street, died Thursday afternoon at the St. Joseph hospital, where she was removed a few days ago. Death was due to complications from which she had been suffering for the past three years. Mr. Rinehart is employed as a blacksmith at the corner of Taylor and Broadway.

The deceased was born and raised in this city and was married May 10, 1891, to Mr. Rinehart. She was a member of the St. Paul's Catholic church and also of the various societies of the same congregation. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Walter, Marie, Helen and Cecelia Rinehart. Other surviving relatives are the father, Anthony Walker, and three sisters, Mrs. William Steckbeck, Mrs. Edward Haffner and Miss Marie Walker, all of this city, and three brothers, Frank J. Walker, of Louisville, Ky.; Joseph Walker, of St. Louis, and Edward Walker, of Danville, Ky.

Funeral services Sturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the residence and at 9 o'clock at the St. Paul's Catholic church. Burial at the Catholic cemetery.

Church Notes.

The regular services will be held Friday evening at the synagogue, corner Wayne and Harrison streets. The subject of the sermon will be "A City's Greatest Assets."

The St. George council No. 31, C. B. L. of L., will give a pedro party Sunday evening in the hall to which the public is invited.

The Get Acquainted circles of the Trinity English Lutheran church will serve a penny supper at the church Saturday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock.

The Emerson male quartet will sing at the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ next Sunday morning. One of the selections they will sing was composed by two members of the quartet. T. W. Bean wrote the words and J. H. Robinson composed the music.

The man or young man who buys a suit or balmacaan tomorrow without first coming to our store will be mighty sick when he compares his garments with some of his firends dho trade here. This is not only "The store that does things," but it is "The store that has things."

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

Claiming indebtedness in excess of $500, a petition was filed in the United States court Friday afternoon by the Grube-Meyering Trunk company, M. C. Lilley & Co. and William H. Noll, asking that the Fort Wayne Trunk and Leather company be declared bankrupt. This action will take the matter out of the hands of the superior court, where some time ago Judge Yaple appointed the Citizens Trust company as receivers.

The Grube-Meyering Trunk company claims that the Fort Wayne concern is indebted to it for goods and merchandise in the sum of $325; the M. C. Lilley & Co. for merchandise in the sum of $121.62 and William H. Noll for rent in the Schmitz building in the sum of $260.

SPECIAL TOMORROW.

We will sell 190 boys' Knickerbocker suits with two pair of Knickers tomorrow at $2.00, all sizes, 5 to 17. They cost you $4.00 in any other store. Extra help tomorrow in our children's department. This is the Store That Does Things.

DR. GILLIE THANKFUL.

Editor The Sentinel—Please express to the voters of Allen county my sincere thanks and appreciation for the splendid vote accorded me at the election last Tuesday. The result shows that I have many friends to all of whom I am most grateful. I assure them all that I am grateful and that I will always remember their kinesses.

Mrs. Irene Westerman, of 825 Madison street, will visit Mr. and Mrs. J. H Thomas, of Huntington, over Sunday.

Miss Estelle Ziegler, of Maple avenue, is expected home in a day or two from Coffeeville and Chanute, Kan.

Mrs. E. H. Olds and Miss Alice Ward have been in Chicago for a few days and may visit Mrs. Frank Lumbard in Evansville before they return.

Mrs. George Vawater, of Pueblo, Col., who has been here for two months visiting relatives and friends in Churubusco and this city, left today for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mann are the guests of their aunt, Mrs. James Treece, of Walnut street. Mrs. Mann, who is a recent bride, was formerly Miss Tressie Rogers, of Adrian, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keel, accompanied by two friends, all of Chicago, are coming here tomorrow to visit over Sunday with Mr. Keel's mother, Mrs. Mary Keel.

Misses Elease Fee, Jane Meriwether and Katherine Cook are going to Lafayette to a house party of the Beta fraternity. Mrs. James Meriwether will chaperon the young ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murray have returned from a few days' visit in Chicago and will go to Richmond tomorrow to visit relatives of Mr. Murray for a few days.

The Avolonte club enjoyed a marshmallow bake in Foster park and after that fun returned to their meeting place, the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ahern, of East DeWald street, where they played games and otherwise had a good time. Those who attended were Misses Nora and Cathedine Adern, Edna Petgen, Edith Keller, Eleanor Oddou, Winifred and Helen Linsky and Messrs. Ralph McClellan, Edward Rinehart, Orlo Kelker, Fred Fitch, Lester Franke, William Wolff, Edward W. Koehl and Frank Oddou.

The members of the Grandmothers' circle of the Wayne Street M. E. church were guests at dinner at noon today of Mrs. George D. Crane, who entertained her friends at the Randall hotel. There were fourteen in the party.

Miss Valera Cromley entertained ten girl friends on Wednesday afternoon at a lovely party in honor of her birthday anniversary. At least that was the plan, but Miss Valera didn't know anything about it until her friends arrived. White and yellow chrysanthemums with baskets of flowers for favors, a luncheon carried out in yellow and white and a birthday cake with yellow candles all helped to make the table pretty and the children to have a good time. Chrysanthemums and autumn leaves were a pretty decoration.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire in this manner to thank friends, neighbors, pall-bearers, also for words of sympathy from Rev. D. H. Guild, in the death of our little Marceille A. Brown; also for floral offerings

ARTHUR BROWN AND FAMILY.

E. A. Crane went to South Bend Friday, where he will attend the convention of the northern Indiana agents of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company.

"How?"

Foley's Honey and Tar Stops those Night Coughs

They Are Weakening, and Disturb the Whole Family.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Keep a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at hand. Use it freely—there is nothing in it that can possibly harm you. But it clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, stops the coughing and tickling, and heals the raw inflamed surfaces.

GEO. D. COBBS, Many, La., says: "My wife was troubled with a terrible cough, and we could get nothing to relieve her until I asked Dr. Self of Hornbeck, who recommended FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR so strongly that I purchased a 50c bottle. Before the contents of this bottle were used, the cough had entirely disappeared and her health was completely restored."

PHIL DESORMEAU, Schaffer, Mich., writes: "Last winter I could not sleep at night on account of a bad cough. It did not bother me during the day, but started up at bedtime and kept me from sleeping. I was very weak and in bad shape. I started using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and was greatly pleased to find that the cough left me entirely, my appetite improved, and I slept soundly at night."

Good druggists are glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND because it always satisfies the customer and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes.

RURAL CARRIER RESIGNS.

Rolland Holmes has tendered his resignation as carried on rural route 14, to take effect Nov. 10.

It's Up to You—Sentinel Wants are here—at your service—but "it's up to you" whether or not you realize the most out of them for yourself. If you read them religiously every day you will benefit largely—but you will profit to a much greater extent if you will employ them for your own use. Remember—every day is a good Want Ad day. We have heard folks advance theories in favor of every day from Monday to Saturday—but The Sentinel goes to the same people every day; and many people get many different kinds of results every day. The best way is to insert your Ad with instructions to run every day until you get results. Phone 173

CIVIC CLUB ORGANIZES.

Patrons of the Blume School in St. Joe Township Hold Meeting.

At a meeting of the students and patrons of the Blume school in St. Joe township Thursday evening a civic discussion club was organized. The principal feature of the meeting was an address by Ross F. Lockridge, secretary of the Citizens' League of Indiana. Mr. Lockridge told of the debating clubs years ago which long since have gone out of existence. He urged a reorganization of such clubs as an aid in making the school a social center.

Miss Grace Smith, a teacher in the Blume school, presided at the meeting, naming the following persons to participate in a discussion to be held on Nov. 19 on the question of whether Indiana needs a new constitution: James Notestine, Ralph Ashley, Virgil Blume, Hubert Martin, Miss Zea Davis and Miss Smith. The following persons were named as members of the constitutional committee: Hubert Martin, Ralph Ashley, Virgil Blume and Harvey Davis. Members of the program committee are: Lemon McNutt, Albert Smith and Miss Esther Davis. Miss Blanche Davis will have charge of the music.

11 STATES GIVE VOTE TO WOMEN

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Women now have full suffrage in eleven states and in the territory of Alaska, according to latest returns last night, which apparently gave the franchise to women in Nevada and Montana. Late tabulation of the vote gave equal suffrage a lead of 1,317 in Montana and 3,500 in Nevada.

In addition to the eleven states now listed as granting full franchise to women, women have the right to vote for certain officers in twenty-two other states. In Illinois, one of the twenty-two, women may vote for all statutory offices, including presidential electors.

The female suffrage states, with the time of granting the franchise, are:

The twenty-two states allowing partial suffrage to women are:

The old saying is "There's nothing new under the sun," but that old saying was made up before there was any JAP-A-LAC in the world—now the old saying is so old it has outlived its usefulness, for JAP-A-LAC makes the old things new—it makes everything under the sun new and beautiful.

There's nothing in the world like JAP-A-LAC for making new old baby carriages, banisters, baseboards, beds, bed springs, bicycles, bookcases, bureaus, chandeliers, cupboards, desks, dining tables, floors (whether hardwood or softwood), garden seats, iron brackets, linoleums, etc.

JAP-A-LAC is made in 21 beautiful colors and Natural (Clear) and it's so easy to use that any clever woman can get beautiful results with it. It comes in all sizes from 10c cans up. Ask to see it in our paint department.

And these are only fifteen out of many hundred too. The specials we advertise in this issue are duplicated in value many times in our large stock in each of our four stores.

GERMANS ARE NOW STRIKING ANOTHER MIGHTY BLOW

SEEK ANEW TO BLAST WAY THROUGH TO SEA

London, Nov. 6.—(1:33 p. m.)—What has now become another well defined stage of the battle in West Flanders—that is to say, a second concerted attempt of the German army to blast its way through to the sea—was flaming and roaring from Nieuport to the French frontier today without definite result so far on either side.

The area near the coast, formerly held by the extreme German right and from which the invaders were forced by the allies after many days of hard fighting, is held only by dead, dying and wounded, the inundation having made the vicinity uninhabitable for the living and having prevented an advance of the British, French and Belgian allies.

Hundreds of Germans left behind in the retreat doubtless will perish, as many were marooned like drift wood on a lowland in time of flood. Thousands more on both sides are yet to perish in the struggle now progressing, the outcome of which decides whether the Germans are going to reach the French coast this winter.

An official dispatch from the British army headquarters at the front today pays tribute to the way the invaders are meeting with death and speculates as heretofore whether this is due to patriotism or to ironclad discipline. Whatever the explanation, Col. E. D. Swinton, of the British army intelligence department, who writes these eye-witness accounts, says:

"The German troops have won our respect for the way in which they have advanced."

Only a vague picture can be formed up to the present as to what is happening on the Russo-Turkish frontier or in Egypt. Experience has shown that both sides will for days claim the first victories as their respective troops clash near the borders.

FIGHTING IS VIOLENT.

Paris, Nov. 6.—(2:50 p. m.)—The French official announcement give nout in Paris this afternoon says yesterday passed without any perceptible modification on the front. The fighting between Dixmude and the Lys continued without any marked advance or retirement.

The text of the communication follows: "There was no perceptible modification during yesterday anywhere on the front. The fighting continued between Dirmude and the Lys with the same characteristics as previously and without any marked advance or retirement at any point. There was violent cannonading to the north of Arras, and also directed upon Arras, without result for the enemy.

"The German effort in Belgium and in the north of France continues. The Germans seem to have undertaken changes in the composition of their forces which are operating in this region and are reinforcing their reserve corps, composed of new organizations which have been severely tested with active troops with the idea of undertaking a new offensive movement or at least to mitigate the bloody checks which have been inflicted upon them.

"Between the Somme and the Oise and between the Oise and the Meuse there have been minor actions. We have consolidated our advance on the village of Andechy, to the west of Roye. A column of German wagons has been destroyed by the fire of our artillery at long range in the region of Nampoel, to the northeast of the forest of Aigue.

"Near Berry-au-Bac we have retaken the village of Sapignul which had been captured by the Germans.

"There has been a furious fight in the Argonne, where, as a result of fighting with the bayonet, our troops drove the Germans back."

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Germany is striking another mighty blow along the whole line of battle. Recrudescence of activity is indicated by today's official French statement which mentions severe encounters at various points between Flanders and the Swiss border.

Meanwhile, fighting is proceeding actively by land and sea in the new war zone created by Turkey's entrance into the conflict and a British warship is said to have met with disaster in the attack on the Dardanelles.

The battle in Belgium has resulted in no decisive advantages for either side. The fiercest encounters center about a sharp bend in the German line forming a triangle, with the northern base at Dixmude, the southern at Ypres and the apex at Roulers. Around this comparatively small area are compressed great bodies of men engaged in so deadly a struggle that heedless of the effectiveness of artillery fire, the opposing forces have pushed forward until they have come into actual physical contact. Only sheer weight of men and metal is sufficient to win a temporary advance. The plains of Flanders thus have been transformed into something like a gigantic football field.

Reports from British and French sources make the claim that the German attack is weakening and that the allies have a reasonable hope of driving back their foes to the interior of Belgium and thus compelling a general retirement along the rest of the line. German advices, however, offer no basis for such a conclusion.

Apparently the Germans are bringing in heavy reinforcements with the determination of increasing instead of decreasing the fury of their attack. Emperor William is said to be at the scene personally directing the attack. Forty heavy German guns from the Krupp works at Essen are on their way to Arras at which point the attack is developing with violence in pursuance of the supposede new plan of the Germans to pierce the French line at that point. Along the rest of the line the offensive generally remains with the Germans.

In the east the Russians claim a decisive victory over the Austrians. They have recaptured the town of Jaroslau, near the fortress of Przemysl, Petrograd reports, capturing 5,000 Austrian prisoners. The Austrians are now said to be in retreat.

Russia is prosecuting vigorously the war against Turkey. Petrograd advices are that Russian forces have entered Armenia by two routes and that several Turkish regiments have been captured. The Turkish fleet has bombarded the fortified Russian seaport of Bakum.

BOTH BRANCHES ARE DEMOCRATIC

Indianapolis, Nov. 6.—A resume of Tuesday's voting for members of the Indiana legislature which meets next January, shows that the democrats retained a good working majority in both branches. The membership will be as follows:

House—Democrats elected 59; republicans, 40; progressives, 1; total, 100.

Complete official and revised unofficial returns from every precinct in Indiana give the following: For United States senator: Benj. F. Shively, democrat, 272,902; Hugh Th. Miller, republican, 222,389; A. J. Beveridge, progressive, 108,396. Shively's plurality, 50,513.

The vote for secretary of state was: Homer L. Cook, democrat, 262,036; Ed Jackson, republican, 232,683; W. A. Pierson, progressive, 92,775. Cook's plurality, 29,353. The rest of the democratic state ticket was elected by pluralities ranging between the pluralities of Shively and Cook. Cook, according to incomplete returns, ran far behind the rest of his ticket. Returns have not been received on the socialist and prohibition tickets.

BITTLER, POWERS AND UNDERWOOD

Especial interest attached to the Allen county vote received by the three Twelfth district men who were nominees on the state tickets—George A. Bittler, democrat, for treasurer of state; Homer C. Underwood, progressive, and Frank M. Powers, democrat, for judge of the appellate court for the Second district.

Allen county gave Mr. Bittler 8,816 votes as against 5,479 for Job Freeman republican, making Mr. Bittler's plurality in the county 3,337.

Judge Powers, of Angola, received 7,903 votes in Allen county as against 5,684 for his nearest republican competitor, and led the democratic state judicial nominees in this county. Mr. Underwood's vote in Allen county for the same position was 1,310. He led the progressive candidates for the place.

DRY VICTORY CERTAIN.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 5.—With only 200 small precincts unreported the vote on the prohibition amendment stands: For, 169,497; against, 157,029; prohibition majority, 12,468. The republican majority in the next legislature will be even larger than in the present body.

STEEL RAILWAYS WIN BY RULING

Washington, Nov. 6.—In a supplemental decision today in the industrial railways case, the interstate commerce commission directed trunk line railroads to re-establish allowances or divisions with United States Steel Corporation railways which are concededly common carriers. Tens of thousands of dollars annually will accrue to the industrial lines through the decision.

In its conclusions the commission said: "We shall expect the trunk line railroads under the modification here made of our original findings to re-establish allowances, divisions, or demurrage, or per diem arrangements with the industrial roads only in instances in which the transaction is bona fide and in which it is clearly lawful and proper. Each case must be judged by its own facts and merits."

The commission modified its original findings on account of the decision of the supreme court in the tap line cases.

Powdery Scab Discovered in Two New York Counties.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Discovery of powdery scab in Franklin and Clinton counties, New York, caused the department of agriculture to consider today the advisability of putting into effect in that state federal quarantine regulations against this potato disease. A decision will not be reached, however, until after a public hearing on the question to be held Nov. 13 at the department.

ILLINOIS BANKER DIES.

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 6.—Henry D. Sexton, president of the Southern Illinois National bank and a member of the executive committee of the currency association, died at his home today.

DIDN'T KNOW HE WAS RUNNING; IS ELECTED.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 6.—Perry H. Stevens, who did not know that he was a candidate, learned that he had been elected a member of the advisory board yesterday. Stevens was drafted when a vacancy occurred on the ticket and he failed to notice his name on the ballot when he voted.

VILLA READY TO STEP OUT

HAS SO NOTIFIED THE CONVENTION

News is Received With a Tumult of Applause by Delegates.

Washington, Nov. 6.—General Villa has formally notified the national convention at Aguas Calientes of his willingness to resign command of his troops and retire to private life if that is necessary to bring about the elimination of General Carranza.

HILL HAS 1,800 MEN ABOUT NACO

Washington, Nov. 6.—Conditions on the battlefield around Naco, Sonora, reported today by Brigadier General Bliss, were summarized in this statement by Secretary Garrison:

"General Hill is entrenched in a semicircle about Naco, Mex. He has about 1,800 men, well armed with plenty of ammunition and about 100 cavalry, fourteen machine guns and one small field gun. After the recent engagement Maytorena withdrew and now has about 1,000 men at Villavordo, about 18 miles southwest on the railroad to Cananea. He also has 500 men at Cananea and 900 Yaqui Indians about seven miles north of Villavorde but not on the railroad. He also has 250 men at San Cedo, between Delrio and Nogales. It is rather thought that Maytorena will not attack Hill in his present position unless he can assemble larger forces than he now has, but there may be long range fighting.

SOLDIERS REACH PRAIRIE CREEK

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 6.—The arrival of federal soldiers to preserve order in the Prairier Creek mining district, the concerning of the special grand jury in the United States court and the burning of two more buildings at Hartford, marked the march of events today in the judicial an dmilitary departments of the federal government to bring peace to Hartford valley. According to telephone reports from Hartford two stores were burned there early today. The origin of the fire was unknown. That the state authorities have failed to do their share in pacifying the mining regions, where arson, murder, assault and pillage have been perpetrated in the last six months, was intimated by Judge Frank Youmans in his charge to the grand jury.

FIVE YEARS IN PRISON.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 6.—M. B. Summers, former cashier of the First National bank of West Union, W. Va., and C. B. Martin were yesterday sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary by Federal Judge A. G. Dayton today on a charge of embezzling $30,000 of the bank's funds. The men were associated together in a brokerage business. The court expressed regret in imposing sentence upon Summers, and that he could not make the penalty lighter as the convicted man had turned state's evidence.

DANIELS VERY INDIGNANT.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Secretary Daniels was indignant today when he received a report that four bluejackets in uniform, had been barred from a New York theater. "This is nothing less than an outrage," said Secretary Daniels, "and I shall instruct the commandant of the New York yard to see that the rights of the men in question are protected when the complainants come up for hearing."

ANOTHER PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

New York, Nov. 6.—Thomas Dewitt Cuyler of Philadelphia, one of the twenty-one directors or former directors of the New York New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, who were indicted last Monday, appeared before Jude Foster in the criminal branch of the federal district court here this afternoon and entered a plea of guilty. He was given ten days in which to change his plea and was released on a bond of $5,000.

PLAGUE IS NOW IN TEN STATES

Washington, Nov. 6.—Federal quarantines to check the spread of foot and mouth disease were extended today over the states of Iowa and Massachusetts by Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture.

Department officials stated that as no new cases had been found outside the infected areas in Michigan and Indiana they hoped they had the epidemic under control in these two states.

The presence of suspected cases in Mississippi became known through a letter addressed to the secretary of agriculture. The owner of a herd at Como stated that for some time his cattle had been afflicted with sores about the mouth and hoofs and in treating them he seemed to have contracted the disease himself. The symptoms were those of foot and mouth disease.

The infection was discovered in Massachusetts at South Attelboro, Bristol county. The Iowa cases were discovered at Parnell. The disease has now appeared among cattle in ten states.

Stock yards at Buffalo, Pittsburg and Peoria, Ill., are among the new points to close as a safeguard against the disease.

COLORADO QUARANTINES.

Denver, Col., Nov. 6.—On account of the foot and mouth disease prevalent among live stock in the central and eastern states, Governor E. M. Ammons last night issued a proclamation quarantining any movement of cattle, sheep or swine from the territory east of the Missouri river, including all stock yards at Missouri river points, into the state of Colorado.

STOCK YARDS TO CLOSE.

East St. Louis, Nov. 6.—The stock yards here will be closed for fumigation for several days, beginning tomorrow. An order to this effect was received from government officials today.

BULLETIN.

London, Nov. 6.—(4:10 a. m.)—An Amsterdam dispatch to the General News states that forty heavy guns arrived at Aix-la-Chapelle yesterday from Essen, destined for Arras. Twelve long empty trains are also proceeding to Nomur and sixty armored automobiles, with mitrailleuses, have left Aix-la-Chappelle for Ostend, according to the same advices.

SWIFT CALL OF WET BET

Washington township, outside the city held an option election Wednesday and gave a wet majority of 18.

Following this verdict at the polls a prompt, not to say precipitate, effort has been made to reopen the notorious Hiser roadhouse, which was put out of business several months ago by the county commissioners.

In a morning newspaper Friday, November 6, within thirty-six hours after the result of the election was made public, Lewis Smith gave legal notice to the citizens of Washington township of his intention to apply to the board of county commissioners on Monday, December 7, 1914, for permission to open a saloon "in a room fronting on the Goshen road in said Washington towpship, Allen county, Indiana, on the ground floor of a one-story frame building situated in the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section twenty-one (21), north, range twelve (12), east, Washington township, Allen county, Indiana." This and further detail describe the location and premises of the old Hiser roadhouse.

Remonstrance Only Recourse.

By reason of the election held Wednesday there can be no other option election held within a period of two years from that date. The township has been declared wet and the only recourse of the people is to file a remonstrance. This will have to be on file in the auditor's office not later than Wednesday, December 2, in order to be valid and effective.

Both wets and drys in Washington township were nonplused when they learned Friday that an effort to reopen the Hiser roadhouse had followed so fast upon the heels of Wednesday's election. Several persons who voted wet as a matter of principle forthwith declared they

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

CLAIMS GREATEST RUSSIAN VICTORY.

Paris, Nov. 6.—(4:25 p. m.)—Grand Duke Nicholas, commander in chief of the Russian forces in the field, has sent a telegram to General Joffre, commander in chief of the French forces, saying that Russians have gained in East Prussia the greatest victory since the beginning of the war.

CALLS MUSSULMEN TO THE FAITH.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—According to information given out in official quarters today to the press the Sheik-ul-Islan, the chief ecclesiastical dignitary of Mohammedism in Turkey, has issude a decree in Constantinople saying that in the fighting with Russia, England and France the duty of every Mussulman is to his faith. This decree has been spread throughout the Mohhamedan world.

HEAR HEAVY FIRING OFF DOVER.

Dover, England, Nov. 6.—(Via London, 1:14 p. m.)—Heavy firing was heard off Dover this morning. It could not be ascertained whether the artillery exchanges were on the Belgian coast or indicated a naval engagement in the North sea.

WILL BE COUNTED OUT, WOMEN FEAR

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Fear that delay in returns from Anaconda presages an attempt to "count out" enough of the equal suffrage vote of Montana to wipe out the present indicated lead, is expressed in a telegram received here today.

It was sent by Miss Jeanette Rankin, president of the Montana Equal Suffrage association, to Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the National American Woman's Suffrage association. It follows:

"Incomplete returns give 2,000 majority now. Country districts mostly to hear from. But holding up results at Anaconda makes us fear conspiracy to count us out on last county from state. Am on watch. Give us your advice. With fair count will carry by 5,000 majority."

WRIT OF ERROR ACTS AS STAY.

New York, Nov. 6.—William J. Hartley and James J. Farmer, recently convicted of using thte mails to defraud purchasors of rare books, were sentenced today to serve terms of two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. The Anglo-American Authors association was fined $2,000. Counsel for Hartley and Farmer filed with the court a writ of error, which acts as a stay, and bail was fixed at $10,000 each.

The extent of the swindle charged against the defendants and others associated with them was approximately $10,000,000, according to the government's experts.

GIVES A LINE ON TRADE CURRENTS

Washington, Nov. 6.—Two months' experience has developed certain facts of great importance regarding the probable trade currents through the Panama canal. Nearly six hundred thousand tons of cargo passed through the waterway from the opening up to October 15.

Based on this traffic the conclusion is reached that about half of the canal's business has been the traffic between the east and west coasts of the United States, conducted in American bottoms. This shipping would have been exempt from toll and the canal would have been deprived of 50 per cent. of its revenue had not congress repealed the section of the Panama calan act exempting American shipping from such charges.

This purely American trade included manufactured goods of great variety, which was carried on forty-nine American ships.

Next in volume and importance was the traffic between the western coast of the United States and the western coast of South America, including large quantities of nitrates from Chile and raw material generally from South America coming northward, and manufactured goods from Europe and America passing southward. Sixteen vessels engaged in this trade during the two months, of which thirteen came northward with raw materials.

The Pacific coast grain trade, including British Columbia with Europe, was carried in ten heavily laden vessels passing eastward, while freight vessels passed westward in ballast to return with grain cargoes.

Eight vessels made the passage with petroleum from the Atlantic seaboard and Gulf of Mexico to China and Japan. Finally the coal traffic between the middle Atlantic seaboard states and the Pacific coast of North and South America showed a notable development, employing seven vessels carrying 24,545 tons of coal. It is understood these will return with Pacific coast cargoes.

WARSHIPS CONVOY INTERNED LINER

Bar Harbor, Me., Nov. 6.—The three months' stay here of the interned North German Lloyd line steamer Kronprinzessin Cecelie ended today, when, convoyed by the United States destroyers Terry and Lamson, she started for Boston. The weather was fair with a moderate breeze when the steamer, with a destroyer a short distance ahead and the other close astern, departed at 4 p. m. It was expected that she would reach Boston late in the afternoon.

The change in the port of internement was made because it was considered that the anchorage here would be dangerous during the winter storms. Although it was intended to steam within the three-mile limit so far as possible, no interference was anticipated, as the governments at war with Germany had given official assurance that none of their war vessels would molest the steamer on her voyage to Boston.

BULLETIN.

Berlin, via The Hague and London, Nov. 6.—(8:20 a. m.)—A newspaper of Ansbach, Bavaria, prints a letter from a post in the field, dated Oct. 28, in which the writer mentions attending a dinner on the previous evening to celebrate the return of two aviators from the vicinity of London, who had dropped bombs near over.

KAISER'S TROOPS IN STAND ALONG WARTHE

London, Nov. 6.—(10:00 a. m.)—The latest reports from the western battle front reaching London from Dutch sources indicate that the Germans have retired from the Yser, but the fighting is said still to be proceeding within the triangle of Ypres, Dixmude and Roulers.

The latest official communications give evidence that the German assaults are becoming less intense and there are some indications of teh resumption of the offensive ono the part of the allies with the Belgians reported as occupying both banks of the Yser and forcing the Germans in that neighborhood to retire on Bruges.

Allies Not Overconfident.

In spite of these reports, however there is no disposition among the allies to be overconfident. Some hint of this feeling is found in the revived interest in London in the Russian military campaign. Many military critics are voicing the hope that the advance on the east German frontier will become such a menace that Berlin will be compelled to recall several seasoned corps from the western front to meet the new danger.

It is not believed here that Turkey's entrance into the field of combat will greatly affect the Russian campaign against the Teutonic allies. Russia has three army corps in the Russian Caucasus, none of which has been drawn for service elsewhere. Russia is said to have successfully invaded Armenia with four army corps and the Turkish forces in that district are said to be today much weaker than they have been for some weeks past.

Russian troops are reported as already well across the Turkish border and the fighting is proceeding along a battle front estimated at from 100 to 100 miles.

To Check the Russians.

Berlin reports little activity along the Russian border and indications are not lacking that the German forces, having reached selected positions along the river Warthe, are prepared to check the onrush of the Russian armies. Vienna admits the Russians have crossed the river San, but the Austrian armies facing the Russian left wing evidently are still intact and in a position to maintain a stubborn defense.

England's warfare against Turkey is still naval and is likely so to remain until Turkey invades Egypt. Such a move, the allies hope, will prove the final straw to induce Italy to embark her fortunes with the entente powers Great Britain, France and Russia, for the reason that such an invasion would be a direct menace to Italy's newly won African possessions.

War on non-combatants among the alien enemies in the countries of the various belligerents has reached such an acute stage that both sides have virtually asked the diplomatic intervention of the United States. The police in the British Isles have lessened their activity in rounding up alien enemies because the military authorities are unable to supply quarters for their internement but the sensational newspapers are demanding that every German and Austrian in the country, including those recently naturalized, be interned. The German press is equaly keen in demanding retaliation, and both sides are making charges of ill-treatment of prisoners. It is in connection with this phase that the United States has been requested to make investigation.

England, still without official news of the naval battle in the South Pacific is consoling itself with the hope that the German reports of this engagement may prove exaggerated for the reason that the British diplomatic representatives in Chile cable that no evidence of the battle in the form of wreckage has been washed ashore.

BERLIN SHOCKED BY BIG CRUISER'S LOSS

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Only the scantiest details of the sinking of the German cruiser Yorck are available here. The admiralty has received from Wilhelmshaven little beyond the announcement of the time and place of the accident and the number of men saved. A fuller report it is expected, will probably be available soon.

It is definitely announced, however, that the sinking was due to a German mine and not hostile attack. The ship, which was under way, presumably swung outside of the channel through a mine field and touched one of the powerful German mines which made short work of the big cruiser.

The conduct of the crew in the moment of disaster, is described as exemplary and there is much regret over the destruction of the cruiser, the heaviest individual loss as yet sustained by the German navy.

The loss of the Yorck is counterbalanced in the German opinion by the news of the daring raid of a German squadron into British home waters to indulge in what is described here as "a bit of raiding on its own account."

The commander of the squadron states that the Germans suffered no loss or damage to men or material and returned safely to its base, wherever that may be.

The retirement of the German squadron, it is stated here, may not properly be described in the much abused term as a "strategic retirement" designed to draw its pursuers into difficulties. The names of the German ships engaged will not be published and there is the same reticence regarding the identity of the submarine which sank the cruiser Hermes.

In well informed quarters the British report of the sinking of a German submarine by the destroyer Badger is strongly questioned. So far as known no German submarines have been destroyed beyond those whose loss was reported earlier.

The admiralty authorize a positive denial of the assumption that the mines off the northwestern coast of Ireland were laid by commercial steamers under a neutral flag. The mines it is stated, were laid in a manner fully conformable to the usages of war. The exploits of the German submarines and the appearance of a German squadron at Yarmouth, it is pointed out, are the clearest indications that the Germans do not need to resort to any illegal methods to conduct activities in British waters.

The British announcement warning neutral ships using the northern entrances to the North sea is regarded here as merely a step in the campaign to control neutral shipping which might possibly benefit German industry and is not based on actual danger. The potentialities of mine-laying in those regions, it is said, are practically null because of the depth of the water. It is also stated that the route commended by the British via the channel on the contrary is invested with mines, while the southern half of the North sea bristles with floating mines torn loose from their anchorage.

LOUISIANA STANDS ALONE.

Only State Where 20-Round Fights May Be Legally Staged.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—After it became known that the anti-prize fight measure had been passed in California a contract was let here for the erection of a fight arena that is expected to seat at least 10,000 persons. Louisiana is now said to be the only state in which twenty-round boxing contests may be legally staged.

FIVE TOWNSHIPS TO REPUBLICANS

The republicans elected their trustees, assessors and other township officers in five townships out of the twenty in Allen county at Tuesday's election. The official figures show that the republicans elected the following trustees and assessors:

Cedar Creek—Trustee, Henry S. Miller; assessor, Harry Bender.

Scipio—Trustee, Harry Foote; assessor, Harry McCurdy.

Democratic Townships.

Wayne—Trustee, Henry P. Scherer; assessor, Edwin W. Miller.

Lafayette—Trustee, George Meyers; assessor, W. E. Clark.

Milan—Trustee, Abner Lantz; assessor, Charles Snyder.

Pleasant—Trustee, Enoch Smith; assessor, William Krauss.

St. Joseph—Trustee, Orson Smith; assessor, Frank Sordelet.

Washington—Trustee, Leonard Stolte; assessor, Adolph Grosjean.

At Large—Byron H. Hattersley 8,275; Louis A. Centlivrt, 8,032; John C. Wertz, 8,137.

BULLETIN.

Amsterdam, Nov. 6.—via London, (12:26 p. m.)—The Vossiche Zeitung has published a dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, stating that Turkish cruisers have successfully bombarded the Russian fortified seaport of Batum, on the east shore of the Black sea.

14 STATES ON DRY LIST NOW

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Fourteen states now have laws prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages as a result of Tuesday's election on the face of late returns, which show that prohibition was adopted in Arizona, Washington, Oregon and Colorado. The states which prohibit the sale of liquor are: Arizona, Colorado, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, North Dakota.

Alabama at one time adopted a prohibition amendment but later rescinded it. South Carolina is largely prohibition under various acts. A score of states have local option laws.

While the population of France increased in 1913 by 41,901, that of Germany increased by about eight hundred thousand.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passage; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Garrett Man Out for Honors of Next Indiana House.

Garrett, Ind., Nov. 6.—That Fred L. Feick will be the speaker of the 1915 Indiana house of representatives is more than a possibility.

Mr. Feick is one of the strongest men elected to the assembly in the state Tuesday and he has a large following among the legislators.

Through his work for a dozen years as the trainmen's legislative chairman, he formed a valuable acquaintance with the politicians. His thorough knowledge of legislative affairs makes him very conspicuous for a first-term member.

Since he was nominated for representative last April many of Mr. Feick's influential friends have been active in promoting his candidacy for the speakership. Now that the people of DeKalb have given him such a great vote his strength will be increased.

The speaker will be chosen by the house immediately upon the convening of the legislature in January. DeKalb county would certainly appreciate having Mr. Feick thus highly honored by his selection.

HAS PAID LOSSES OF $12,000.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 6.—That the amount of loss to the DeKalb County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company was $12,252.09 for the past fiscal year and that 81 per cent. of this loss was by fire, 10 per cent. by lightning on buildings and 9 per cent. on live stock by lightning is brought out in the report of Phillip S. Carper, the secretary of the company. The total amount of loss to the rodded properties for the year was $8,370.14, and the amount of loss to unrodded properties $3,881.95. The insured capital of the Farmers' Mutual is $6,955,230, and the rate this year is 17 cents on each $100 and 2 cents additional.

TRACE STOLEN AUTOMOBILE.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Police officers from Ligonier and the owner of the Ford automobile which was stolen on Tuesday evening from that place arrived in this city on Thursday afternoon in search of the lost car. The car has been traced to the vicinity of this city and the officers have every reason to believe that Raymond Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, now of Ligonier, but formerly of this city, is in possession of the car. Young Cook's past record and the fact that he was seen in this city on Wednesday, have convinced the officers in their belief that he is the thief.

FARMER BUYS ROAD BONDS.

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 6.—The first sale of bonds for the Washington township gravel roads that were voted upon some time ago was made Thursday by the county treasurer when he delivered to David Brodbeck, Cleveland township, twenty bonds amounting to $6,720, and received in return for the same their equivalent in cash. The bonds are the ones that represent road number six in Washington township and are in denominations of $336 each and they bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent. per annum.

SELLS 1,000 BUSHELS OF NEW CORN

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 6.—Ernst Isch, living east of Bluffton, near the Wells-Adams county line, has just marketed 1,000 bushels of new corn and the remarkable part of the transaction was that the 1,000 bushels of corn was all shelled. Farmers report that it is unusual for new corn to be marketed shelled this early in the season. Mr. Isch's corn brought him over $1,100.

YOUNG FARMER DROPS DEAD.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 6.—Russell Reed, 32, died unexpectedly at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, northeast of this city. The cause of death was due to hardening of the liver and enlargement of the heart. Mr. Reed had just returned from Montpelier to make preparations for a trip to a Fort Wayne hospital with the intention of undergoing an operation if necessary. Returning home he began taking off his hoes, remaking to his mother that it was no use. "I'm going to die. Goodbye," he said as he fell forward dead.

MUCH CHOLERA IN STEUBEN.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 6.—Ellsworth DeWitt, a farmer living near Salem Center, Steuben county, was in Kendallville Thursday getting some hog cholera medicine. He says there is a great deal of cholera among the herds of farmers in his vicinity and that already Steuben county farmers have suffered heavy losses. He asserted that Sumner Hugres, who lives near to him, has already had 30 head die and has others that are sick. Others have lost from ten to twenty-five head.

KOSCIUSKO PIONEER IS DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 6.—Allan Morehead, one of the oldest residents of Kosciusko county, is dead at his home near North Webster. He was 82 years of age and had resided in the community practically all his life. His death followed an illness of about one week. The deceased is survived by two brothers, Frank and Joseph Morehead, of North Webster, and one sister, Mrs. Maggie Huffman, of Los Angeles, Cal.

WINTER'S CHILL HITS WAR ZONE

But It's Not the Real Arctic Variety of Cold on the Field.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—They won't be able to build trenches in the snow and bridges of ice in the war zones of east and west Europe.

Prof. Charles F. Talman is the European weather shark in the United States weather bureau at Washington and he dug up a lot of data for the Sentinel about temperature and such things in the districts where they are fighting.

In the extreme northwestern part of France, in Belgium, and in southern Germany, the average of the lowest temperatures reached from year to year is 14 degrees above zero, Fahrenheit. Within this area, which includes practically all of the present western battlefield, the lowest temperatures ever recorded have been 13 and 14 degrees below zero. This area includes Lille Amiens, Calais, the Belgian towns, Metz, Nancy, Strassburg and the Vosges mountain region.

Taking the month of January as the typical winter month, the temperature line which shows the prevailing average temperature of 35 degrees above zero for that month over a long period of years, runs from the coast through Belgium just north of Brussels, curves south just east of Wiesbaden, passes south to Switzerland, thence west just north of Trieste, and passes east through the Black sea.

In the eastern battlefield in Russian Poland and East Prussia and Galicia the weather is considerably colder. The average of the low temperatures from year to year shows that the thermometer may normally be expected to fall frequently to 5 degrees above zero and further east in Russia the records show average low temperatures of 4° degrees below zero. This means that the thermometer frequently goes below these figures, and in fact temperatures as low as 27 degrees below zero have been recorded in this region.

Prof. Talman turned to the Encyclopedia Britannica and read as follows:

"While the average summer temperature of Germany is 60 to 62 degrees, the January temperature average falls to 26 to 28 degrees in West Prussia, Posen and Silesia, and 22 to 26 degrees in East Prussia, and upper Silesia. The navigation of the rivers is regularly interrupted by frost. Similarly the upper basin of the Danube on the Bavarian plain has rather inclement climate in winter, the average for January being 25 to 26 degrees."

"That may be taken as authoritative," said the professor.

The January average temperature at Berlin, 32 degrees, is the same as the January average for Philadelphia, Pa.; Wichita, Kas., St. Louis, Mo., and Cincinnati, O. The January temperature at Posen and Breslau, which is 29 degrees, compares with the temperature of New Haven, Conn., 28 degrees; Indianapolis, Ind., 28; Columbus, O., 29; Denver, Colo., 29, and Santa Fe, N. M., 29.

While the bureau has no records of snowfall in either of the battle areas the temperature records show, and the fact is, that snowfall is frequent. Already the troops are reported to be suffering from cold and wet, with snow in the mountains on the border of France and Germany.

Easy to Darken Your Gray Hair

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—Adv

Head Stopped Up? Can't Breathe? Try the New External Treatment

Vapor treatments are best for all inflammation of the air passages. The vapors carry the medication direct to the inflamed surface without disturbing the stomach as do internal medicines. A cheap and very convenient vapor treatment is a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve over the throat and chest, covered with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases vapors of Thymol, Eucalyptol, Menthol, Camphor, and Pine Tar, that are inhaled with every breath, through the air passages to the lungs. These vapors open the air passages, loosen the phlegm, and heal the raw surfaces. If the cold is in the chest, apply hot wet towels to open the pores. Vick's is then absorbed through the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness.

A little Vick's applied up the nostrils and over the temples is very beneficial for head colds and catarrh and will relieve most cases of headache and neuralgia. Vick's is also excellent for Asthma, Hay Fever, and Bronchial Troubles. Three sizes, at all dealers—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

VICK'S Croup and Pneumonia SALVE

Saving Babies to Be Doctor's Topic

Boston, Nov. 4.—What science is doing to save the babies of America will be set forth when the American Medical Association for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality meets November 12 in Boston.

Dr. A. B. Emmons, of Boston, one of several well known physicians who will attend the convention, will present the results of his recent investigation into the causes of infant mortality.

DISCUSS AUDITORIUM.

Regular Meeting of Commercial Club Directors is Held Thursday Evening.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Commercial club Thursday evening the proposition of a convention hall for Fort Wayne was discussed at length. As the matter is now before the city council no recommendations were made. Several members of the board will attend the meeting of the council Friday evening.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 32:1-11.

1 After these things and the establishment thereof, Sennacherib king of Assyria came, and entered into Judah, and encamped against the fenced cities, and thought to win them for himself.

2 And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib was come, and that he was purposed to fight against Jerusalem,

3 He took counsel with his princes and his mighty men to stop the waters of the fountains which were without the city; and they did help him.

4 So there was gathered much people together, who stopped all the fountains, and the brook that ran through the midst of the land, saying, Why should the kings of Assyria come, and find much water?

5 Also he strengthened himself, and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made darts and shields in abundance.

6 And he set captains of war over the people, and gathered them together to him in the street of the gate of the city, and spake comfortably to them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous, be not afraid nor dismayed for the king of Assyria, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with us than with him:

8 With him is an arm of flesh; but with us is the Lord our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 After this did Sennacherib king of Assyria send his servants to Jerusalem, (but he himself laid siege against Lachish, and all his powers with him,) unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of Assyria, Whereon do ye trust, that ye abide in the siege in Jerusalem?

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1914.

Measuring a Man's Worth.

Walter Johnson wants $20,000 a season, which is at the rate of about $600 for pitching each ball game.

Caruso gets $2,000—or is it $3,000?—a night for singing a role in opera. Is he worth that?

Who knows? We confess we don't. Those who want to hear Caruso sing appear to be willing to pay at a rate to make his fee possible. And Walter Johnson is to baseball what the Italian is to song.

This is to be said of both men: Neither has any strangle hold on his job. If a better singer than Caruso should appear, or a better pitcher than Johnson, it isn't in the power of anybody else to stop him from entering the competition. The field in which each works is an open one, with the chances pretty fair.

So who can say what is the measure of either's commercial value? The only thing of which you may be sure is that excellence soon or late tends to command its price.

Hence the obvious moral is: Do your best. And then try each day to do a little better. Whether the basis of the world's recognition be in money, blue ribbons or monuments after you are dead, the surest thing of all is that you won't get it unless you strive.

And if you are in the job that fits, the more striving will be the greatest reward.

Two Years Ahead.

Striking an average throughout history, conservatism and liberalism have run about neck and neck, with radicalism far ahead as pacemaker.

The course of business during the next eighteen months will most likely determine whether the next president shall be a progressive or standpatter.

The election just past fell at a time when, on top of the disturbance to business resulting from tariff and currency changes, there had come the unforeseen shock of a world-wide war. It found many Americans out of work and many other scared.

Such a condition is not permanent. From the war scare and from the war hurt there will be a rebound. To the tariff and currency changes business is already adjusting itself and, once adjusted, will not wish a new disturbance.

A month, six months, a year hence, the course of business may be onward and upward with a rush. The signs are plain that it is to be better, though no man can foresee how swift the improvement will be or how far it will carry us.

Therefore, while there is fascination in the pastime of political guessing, we confess that we don't take much stock in the prophecies for 1916 which are being spawned in 1914.

In these tumultuous times, two years make a long and a risky stretch for prophecy to span.

Fort Wayne's need for a convention hall is so pressing that it is much to be hoped some way may be found to supply the need that will grow increasingly greater until an adequate auditorium is provided. Admitting that the question of providing funds for the project will require some ingenuity and not a little effort, the matter is so important that it is amply worth the endeavor. Fort Wayne simply must have that convention hall—and the sooner the better.

Terre Haute is still running true to form. There are charges of fraud and threats of a contest of some of the election results in that city.

"South Cannot Dictate."

Troy Record:—"The new system will make the presidential and vice presidential candidates of the republican party represent the feeling of the party. The south cannot dictate a decision when it is unable to deliver a single electoral vote."

"The Issue in 1912."

Washington Post:—"What effect the reapportionment will have upon the progressive party cannot be predicted with certainty, but in view of the fact that this was the one issue on which the republican party split in 1912 it would seem that a complete reunion should now be possible."

"Republicans to Be Congratulated."

Pittsburgh Post:—"The republicans are to be congratulated upon the opportune time for the introduction of this reapportionment reform. When the convention of 1916 is convoked there will be no officeholders to bow beneath the lash of the patronage dispenser."

"Reform Through Chastisement."

Boston Post:—"After many years comes reform through chastisement, a reform that might, had it been brought about earlier, have changed the whole trend of national politics and perhaps the national destiny itself, but hardly for the better."

"Removes a Grievance."

New Orleans Times-Picayune:—"The change is designed to remove a familiar grievance and prevent the recurrence of conditions in the party convention that many republicans openly denounced as 'scandalous.'"

"Provide Against Conflicts."

Pittsburgh Dispatch:—"In addition to the readjustment of representation the new rules provide against conflicts between state laws or rules and the national organization's requirements. This will remove one of the chief sources of contesting delegations."

"South Accepts."

New York Evening Post:—"The convention of 1916 will have eighty-nine fewer delegates than the convention of 1912, and most of this loss will be in the delegations from the south. It is noteworthy that the south itself has accepted the reduction. Texas being the only state to vote against it."

HASTY MATRIMONY.

(Indianapolis News.)

According to a news item, $800 is the price an Indiana woman paid to find that a man in Rochester, N. Y., who had advertised for a wife, was a swindler first and a lonely bachelor, willing and anxious to take a life partner, afterward. Another dispatch says that within two years five persons in one county in Maryland have gone into matrimony with persons whose acquaintance they made through advertisements. It is said that a weekly journal flourishes on such advertisements, and in addition prints news of matrimonial prospects in various sections of the country. Brokers do a thriving business in some cities, interviewing a client and agreeing to undertake the search for a desirable partner.

These are merely a few of many instances which go to show that this is a country of cheap matrimony. That women and men are constantly being duped by fake advertisements is evidence not only of the gullibility of the victims, but of the popular tendency to look lightly upon a very serious institution. It is possible that now and then such alliances turn out well enough to warrant the unconventional means by which they were brought about, but to the average man or woman who undertakes the obligations of matrimony only after a considerable period of friendship, the thought of advertising for a husband or wife is peculiarly repellant.

With a persistence worthy of a better cause, an elderly spinster appears year after year before the Massachusetts legislature in an endeavor to get a bill passed compelling bachelors to pay an annual tax of $5. Massachusetts has 56,000 more women than men, but this difference would hardly be diminished to any appreciable extent by such a law. It would only serve to emphasize a view of matrimony which is entirely too material for the well-being of that or any other state.

Emperor Nicholas of Russia has the distinction of being the first ruler to establish a government department of sports. It bears the name of the department of physical culture and is under the direction of a cabinet minister.

TAKES GOATS WITH HIM.

California Man, Going East on a Visit, Clings to His Pets.

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 6.—Will L. Te Wilt, of 710 Sacramento street, has a herd of ten Toggenburg milk goats which he values so that he will allow no one else to care for them or to milk them, even for a day.

They are his pets and have grown very fond of him. When he learned that he would have to make a business trip to his former home in Anguilla, Miss., he was in a dilemma—for a while. He did not know what to do with his blue-blooded "kids." And had he not cared so much for them he would have found them a few "white elephants" on his hands. But because of his fondness for them he soon found a way out of his trouble. They make the trip with him. He had them shipped by express and paid $100 for the "tickets" one way.

He got permission to ride in the car with them whenever he wished, so that everything possible could be done to make them comfortable and so that he could milk them three times a day.

J. J. Hill Cables Money as Gift to King Albert and His People.

St. Paul, Nov. 6.—James J. Hill, railroad builder, has cabled $25,000 to King Albert, of Belgium.

The dire need of the Belgian king and nation was the only reason assigned by the railroad builder for his action.

This was Hill's personal contribution to King Albert for relief of the war-stricken country. It is not part of the fund Miss Clara Hill is raising, nor connected with the supplies gathered in St. Paul last week by Mrs. L. W. Hill and others for Belgian war victims.

Mr. Hill is personally acquainted with King Albert, who was a guest at the Hill home when he was in the United States several years ago.

Rockefeller's New Labor Investigator Active Sort of Citizen.

(Who is MacKenzie King, recently appointed, at a salary of $12,000 by John D. Rockefeller's $100,000,000 foundation, to investigate the whole problem of capital and labor in the United States and find a remedy for the bitter enmity between the two? King is a Canadian, and the following is written by a Canadian who is friendly to him and knows him like a book.—Editor.)

(By W. B. Berry, Canadian parliamentary correspondent.)

Ottawa, Canada, Nov. 5.—If sociologists and labor leaders in the United States expect W. L. MacKenzie King just appointed director of the world-wide Rockefeller investigation into labor troubles, to do anything sensational, or to precipitate action of any kind against the vested interests, they are in for a distinct disappointment.

Mac Kenzie King

In spite of the fact that he comes from a fiercely violent liberal stock, in spite of the fact that he is a great-grandson of William Lyon Mackenzie, fiery chieftain of the famous 1837 rebellion, Mackenzie King is a man of the most conservative instincts.

Yet he is a thorough student of labor problems.

After Mackenzie King had taken all the degrees possible at Toronto university, and a few more at Chicago university, and a degree at Harvard with the privilege of traveling abroad, expenses paid, he came back to his latest American alma mater and settled down for the time being as a Harvard instructor in sociology.

Sir Wilfred Laurier was leading the then liberal government of Canada, and he knew all about young Mackenzie King, and his distinguished lineage. When King returned to Toronto and joined the staff of the Toronto Globe, Sir Wilfred Laurier's unerring eye still rested upon him. And one day Laurier made him deputy minister of labor, a position then dependent from the postmaster general.

Pretty soon King made his job so big that the deputy part of it began to interfere with the chief, and the only solution was to make a new job and take on Mackenzie King. Sir Wilfred Laurier therefore created another cabinet portfolio and Mackenzie King held the new labor ministry up to September 21, 1911, when the Laurier government was driven out of power. Since then Mackenzie King has been seen at the drawing rooms and other formal functions, in his minister's uniform—a gorgeous and resplendant affair of gilt and knee breeches.

But what are the ideas of this student with regard to labor? What has been his attitude toward it?

Just one speech, made in the house of commons on the subject of the Springhill coal strike in 1911, sums up significantly his ideas on a certain phase of the labor war:

"The company owning the mines," he said, "is not willing to recognize the organization, and the men say they will not go back to work until the organization is recognized. I do not know any power that can settle a difference of that kind. I am afraid that as long as the resent attitude is maintained by each of the parties, the present struggle will continue."

Mackenzie King's acts, however, despite his conservative tendency, have been admirable. His last act, almost before the Laurier government went out of power was to negotiate with the United States owners of the sesqui-sulphide patents so that they could be freely used by Canadians in the manufacture of matches, thus taking away from the cruel and selfish manufacturers who were apparently responsible for the terrible "phossy jaw" disease, their last excuse for making the wicked old phosphorous match in Canada.

In legislation regulating the sale of habit-forming drugs, in the abolishment of sweat shops, King has been the absolute pioneer in Canada. Under his direction a "fair wage" policy was adopted, and laws were passed against the importation of strike-breakers under unjust conditions.

Agriculturists in the Bombay district are advised by the government to raise wheat and other grains instead of cotton.

Knitting is a Scotch invention of the fifteenth century. Soon after its invention a guild of stocking knitters was formed, with St. Fiarce as its patron saint. Hand knitting was supplemented by machinery as early as 1589, when William Lee invented the knitting frame.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS---25 CENT DANDERINE

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.—Adv.

ROMANCE NOT ENTIRELY LOST

London, Nov. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Horrible as the experiences of the refugees from Louvain, Malines, Antwerp and Ostend have been, romance has not been entirely lost in the wave of agony and sorrow which the war has brought to English shores. Dulwich was the scene of a wedding two days after the fall of Ostend which joined the fortunes of two luckless wanderers who fled for weeks before the oncoming Germans.

When Brussels was about to be taken the bride became separated from her father and mother just on the eve of her marriage. The entrance of the Germans upset all wedding plans, but the young girl found her fiance a few days later among refugees at Malines. They drifted with friends into Antwerp and finally found their way to England. Not being able to communicate with her parents, the young woman decided to marry even if her relatives could not attend the wedding. The mayor and mayoress of Camberwell honored the young couple with their presence at the wedding and the wedding guests were other refugees who had shared the hardships of the contracting parties in their flight from Belgium.

Failure of Germany to exhaust its supply of petrol is attributed by writers in the London press to a supply of oil supposed to be shipped from the United States to Germany by way of Norway, Denmark and Sweden. According to Albert Lidgitt, who contributed an article on this subject to the current issue of a prominent motor journal, Germany has planned to get its petrol in ships flying the Danish, Swedish and Norwegian flags and carrying the oil in barrels.

H. Massac Buist, writing in the Sunday Observer, says: "There is proof positive that up to the end of the last month Germany had received some thousands of tons of motor spirits in this manner, and according to the present chartering arrangements that other large consignments are either being loaded or are on the Atlantic at this moment on the way to Denmark, Norway or Sweden." He says that up to the corresponding period last year there had been shipped from America to Denmark 16,275 gallons of motor spirits, but owing to the mysterious activity in cargoes of late the motor spirit shipments to Copenhagen alone have been nearly 12,000,000 gallons this year, of which half a million gallons left during the last week in September.

Army Set Welcomes New Social Leader

Mrs. Allen

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—After a long residence in the Philippines Mrs. Henry P. McCain, wife of the new adjutant general, has returned to Washington to take her place in army and navy society.

BEST COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburg one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. INJURED WABASH MEN RECOVERING

John Ross, W. A. Brumfield and W. Ruby Will Soon Leave Hospital.

The injured Wabash employes will recover, according to the news brought here by Assistant Trainmaster A. F. King this morning. Mr. King dropped off here to look after some railway business while on his way from Toledo to Peru. While in the first named city he called upon Engineer W. A. Brumfield and Fireman William Ruby, who were injured in a wreck at Liberty Center, Ohio, about a week ago. Engineer Brumfield suffers from a sprained back and two broken ribs and Fireman Ruby had his skull fractured and had to have a piece of the bone removed from the forehead, over the right eye. Both patients will be out soon, Mr. King says. John Ross, the passenger engineer, who had both feet injured by falling from his engine in the Toledo round house, two months ago, is still in the Peru hospital, but is recovering and will soon be able to work. He is walking around now with the assistance of canes. All of the injured are former Fort Wayne men and are well known in the city. The frequent inquiries as to their condition is evidence of the interest their friends are taking in them.

WILL HOLD SOCIAL.

Electro-Technic Club Plans Nice Time for Members.

The next entertainment to be given by the Electro-Technic club will be on the evening of November 27 at the assembly hall at the Fort Wayne Electric works and it will be for members only. This arrangement is the result of the meeting of the club members last night, who named J. B. Mills as chairman of the entertainment committee for the occasion. Mr. Mills has not fully made up the program, but one feature will be a moving picture show of the great works of the General Electric company at Schenectady, showing every department in operation. There will also be other moving pictures, but their character has not been determined and Mr. Mills could not announce them today. A "big eat" and a smoker will close the entertainment.

A HUSTLER FOR MEMBERS.

H. A. Philley Adds 92 to Y. M. C. A. in a Month.

Hiram A. Philley, who last August took temporary charge of the secretaryship of the local Railroad Y. M. C. A., to work until the management secured a successor to W. S. Whitbeck, resigned, has proven to be one of the best hustlers for membership the association ever had. When he took hold there were 113 names on the roll; today there are over 300. During the month of October Mr. Philley got ninety-two new members, the greater portion of them being railway men. December 1, when Mr. Philley will turn the office over to A. J. Cash, the membership will probably have passed the 350 point. On that date Mr. Philley will resume his duties as chief clerk to Road Foreman of Engines C. K. Colmey, of the Pennsylvania.

YARDMASTER AT DECATUR.

G. R. & I. Places Appointment on David Rowan.

Decatur, at present the greatest freight producing point in Indiana for the Grand Rapids and Indiana company, has developed so much business for the company that it has become necessary to locate a yardmaster there. Conductor David Rowan, one of the old men in point of service on the road, has been assigned to the position and has commenced the duties of the office. The railway company has maintained a switching crew and engine at Decatur to take care of the business at the sugar beet factory and other industries for three or four weeks.

WILL TALK TO TOILERS.

Rev. A. J. Folsom Plans Series of Sermons for Workingmen.

Rev. A. J. Folsom, of Plymouth Congregational church, has planned a series of Sunday evening lecture-sermons especially for the workingmen of Fort Wayne. The series is:

Nov. 8—"The Wage-Earner and His Problem."

Nov. 15—"The Syndicate vs. The People."

Nov. 22—"The Voice of Humanity."

MANY ATTENDED MEETING.

The second annual meeting of the Ladies' Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers of the state closed at Peru yesterday. It was attended by 200 ladies representing the local societies in Peru, Fort Wayne, Huntington, Logansport, Elkhart, Terre Haute and Indianapolis. Hyacinth lodge, No. 38, of Fort Wayne took an active part in the work and received praise for its excellence. The Peru Chronicle says: "The ritualistic work was demonstrated in a beautiful manner by members of Hyacinth lodge No. 38, of Fort Wayne."

The next meeting will be held in Indianapolis.

REPAIRED SIX ENGINES.

During the thirty-two hours which constitute the working schedule at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this week, six engines were given general repairs and turned over to the operating department for service. This was at the rate of an engine every five hours, which "is not so bad," one of the shop foreman said. The shops were closed on election day.

GENERAL MANAGER MILLER HERE.

Henry Miller, general manager of the Wabash, passed through the city in his private car on train No. 1 at 1 o'clock today. He had been in New York and is en route to St. Louis, his headquarters city. Mr. Miller is accompanied over the line by the superintendents of the various divisions and some of the other division officials.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Yard Firemen E. W. Mahrt, of the Pennsylvania, reported for work last night. He was sick several days.

E. C. DesPrez, who had been sick, was able to resume work at the Pennsylvania erecting shops this morning.

Claim Agent John P. Murray, of the Pennsylvania, was in Chicago yesterday on business for the department.

C. A. Sweeney, Grand Rapids and Indiana dispatcher, left last evening for Rome City.

T. E. Blackwell, Pennsylvania dispatcher, is quarantined at his home for diphtheria. One of his children is ill with the disease.

N. J. Turner, Grand Rapids and Indiana freight brakeman, went to Ridgeville yesterday to be at the bedside of his mother, who is ill.

The G. R. & I. paymaster completed his work in Fort Wayne at noon today and left for Grand Rapids to begin his cash distributing trip over the Northern division.

Pennsylvania Baggageman Henry Henschen is off duty on account of the illness of Mrs. Henschen, who sustained a light and temporary attack of paralysis a few days ago.

Mrs. Ida Remley, daughter of Dietrich Schiefer, Wabash tinner, arrived yesterday from New York city for a few weeks' visit here. Mrs. Remley recently returned from Europe.

The Wabash shops will be operated eight hours tomorrow to meet the requirements of a forty hours' week for the employes. The shops were closed on election day.

Foreman George Swart, of the air brake department of the Wabash shop, has returned from a three days' hunting expedition, well supplied with rabbits and other game not protected by law.

D. C. Moon, general manager; General Superintendent A. S. Ingles, Assistant General Superintendent F. H. Wilson and M. L. Reynolds, of the Lake Shore, spent the night in the city. They are inspecting the Lake Shore property.

The American Steel Dredge company has just completed a revolving steam shovel for general contract work, which will be found, the management says, of great service to contractors. One of the shovels is on exhibition at the works.

Factory Superintendent E. A. Barnes, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, and Dr. Fred Schulz, the factory surgeon, will witness the football game at Ann Arbor tomorrow afternoon. They will leave for that city early Saturday morning.

A. T. Klotz, assistant cashier of the Wabash freight office, resigned his position yesterday to take up other work, and he was succeeded by O. O. Goddard, a clerk there. E. Sullivan, son of Conductor Sullivan, of the Wabash, succeeded Goddard.

The Panhandle shops at Logansport, which were placed on a fifty-five hour weekly schedule a month ago, are now being operated upon a forty hour weekly schedule. This cut is made because of the greatly decreased business on the road, which handled a good deal of livestock before the foot and mouth disease broke out in the Union Stock yards in Chicago.

B. J. Torbron, who has been appointed division freight agent at Toledo of the Lake Shore, began his railway career at Toledo when President W. H. Canniff, of the Nickel Plate, was the division superintendent of the Lake Shore at that point. In 1886 he became chief clerk to the division freight agent; a few years later he became commercial agent and in 1911 he was transferred to Youngstown in the capacity of division freight agent.

IS INVENTION OF ENGLISHMAN

Shrapnel Bears Name of Officer Who Devised It Long Ago.

London, Nov. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Shrapnel, which has done far more damage to the allies than the German rifle fire, is a British invention over a century old. Its inventor was General Shrapnel, an English officer who was born in 1761 and given a commission in the royal artillery in 1779. The thought came to him during the war in Flanders, where he was impressed by the trifling effect of round shot against troops and the limited range of grape. His shell, filled with balls and powder and ignited by a time fuse, was adopted by the British army in 1802 and played an important part in the Peninsular war under Wellington and also at Waterloo. The secret of its action was unknown outside of Britain until 1834.

With the customary ingratitude of governments, General Shrapnel was never reimbursed for the expense of his experiments. All he received was 1,200 pounds a year ($6,000 and the offer of a baronetcy he could not afford to accept. He died in 1842 a bitter old man.

Dr. Louis Seaman, the American expert who has visited the hospitals of the allies at the front, says that the German shells break into large pieces and do little damage compared with those used by the Japanese against Russia, which were torn into showers of steel splinters. But the shrapnel bullets make ragged wounds and also carry infecting material with them, causing a large percentage of deaths from blood poisoning.

Only in cotton spinning is British industry suffering. In addition to supplying the expeditionary force and the new army with clothing and equipment, Russia has placed orders for a million pairs of boots and the British woolen mills and shoe factories have other contracts they are yet unable to place, which could be easily taken by American manufacturing agents, were they in the field.

The greatest wastage in the war has been in the motor vehicle line. Not only are the cars racked to pieces by hard service, but large numbers are destroyed by shell. British manufacturers have not the equipment to supply this wastage.

Russia is not a manufacturing country, and the factories of France have been largely destroyed in the north and in other parts are shut down because of the lack of hands.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticidal, but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.—Adv.

THIS IS THE CLOTHING STORE

THAT THE MEN AND YOUNG MEN OF FORT WAYNE ARE PATRONIZING

Fort Wayne's Banner Clothing Store—a store that knows no competition because it has no equal in either values, quality or assortments. It's the one different, greater and better store that men look forward to with keen interest because they know from experience that at no other Clothing Store such Clothes values are possible to buy. We charge you the same price for Sherman's Clothes NOW as in January. We never have any sales, buy good, honest Clothes Values 365 days of the year.

FROM OUR FACTORY DIRECT TO YOU—THERE IS NO MIDDLEMAN'S PROFIT

You save that $5.00 to $8.00 on your new suit or overcoat which some retail merchant would call his profit. COME TOMORROW, SATURDAY, and investigate these values and convince yourself that you are buying the same garment for $10 that some other Clothing Store would be forced to charge you $15.00 to $18.00 for.

THE OVERCOATS:—Every new fabric and style, the all-wool Kerseys, Meltons, Patent Beavers, Chinchillas and many novelty weaves, in every color. Regular cut Overcoats—Chesterfields—smart 42 inch double and single breasted shawl collar coats—Astrakhan collar coats, 44, 46 and 50 inches, single and double breasted Ulsterettes with shawl and convertible collars, belted back, sizes to fit men of every build.

THE SUITS:—All-wool wool worsteds, all-wool Oswego blue serges and fancy blue striped serges, chalk stripes with blue or black background—silk-mixed worsteds and dark mixtures, cassimeres in gray, brown, blue or tan. Some made in English models for the young men, others in the more conservative styles for the older men. Sizes to fit all men.

THE BALMACAANS AND TOP COATS:—The many nobby styles in Balmacaans are all represented here. You have to see these in order to appreciate their real attractive appearances. Top-coats in black unfinished worsteds, some silk faced to the edge, others in dark Oxfords and mixtures.

Academician Writes Letter to Man Who Never Gets One.

Paris, Nov. 6.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A well known member of the academy has written a "letter for the man who never gets one," to be distributed in the French trenches. In it he says:

"Apparently there are very few amongst our soldiers who never receive any letters. But if there is such a one it is to him that I address this letter.

"I see you from here, my dear young fellow, I see your disappointment and your sadness when the quartermaster appears in sight with a number of letters in his hand and calls out first this name and that, and deals out to eager hands envelopes which contain the good wishes of the family and a mother's kisses. Everyone is grave, and everyone listens for his name to be called out. Nothing for you. * * *

"You fight, however, just as well as your comrades. And whilst you only do as well as they do, you really do something more. The other soldiers are fighting for the homes of their ancestors and for the defense of their property. You have neither home nor ancestors nor property, and you fight with as much courage as those who are getting letters by every post. * * *

"Don't be ashamed because no one has written to you. Be proud. Others have been born in a family whose position is made. You will have the satisfaction and the pride of making your own.

"Once more, my son, courage and good luck. And let me send you a kiss, I who have no son, and you who have no father.

"French Academician."

How an unnamed lieutenant colonel in the French army stiffened the courage of his men and his own, when they were about to charge the enemy for the first time, is told in the Figaro. The colonel, wounded, but convalescent, is described as relating the anecdote on the train as follows:

"It was in the course of one of the numerous battles on our right wing. For the first time my regiment was about to go under fire. The moment was decisive; the regiment had their battle formation and now it was necessary, over open ground, to march straight and resolutely at the enemy. Their fire was hot, and already had produced ravages in our ranks. It was scourging. I had taken my position at the head of the regiment and given the order 'forward,' but, separated from their base, my men hesitated. In vain I repeated the command. Then returning toward them I said:

"'What? You flinch? All you will gain out of this turn-about is death on the spot without having been of any use. Attention! Take my arm one of you, and all of you lock arms, and arm in arm, gun in hand, we'll advance. You'll find that's not so bad.'

"My word! the idea decided them, and arm in arm we started forward. They soon got warmed up and for a little I was nearly forced to hold them back. Oh! the brave fellows."

A lady who was listening said:

"It was fortunate, colonel, that you yourself were not afraid." "Not afraid," exclaimed the colonel. "Oh, madam, if you knew what shivers went through me! But when I saw them hesitate, I had to set an example. I was bluffing."

Colored Preacher Pays for License from Collection Basket.

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—Not until he had taken up a collection in his church was the Rev. James W. Dupiee, colored, able to secure enough money to take out a marriage license.

According to the story he told at the office of the clerk of the court of common pleas, he had waited some time for the necessary financial aid. He paid for the license in pennies, dimes and nickels, the fruit of the collection basket. He gave the name of his bride-to-be as Mary M. Courtney.

American Mediation Woman's Peace Plea

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—With credentials from women's organizations in twenty-six European countries, Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, peace advocate, has come to the United States from Hungary to plead for American mediation in the European conflict.

Mme. Schwimmer will present her "peace plan" to the American people in a series of addresses. She will be one of the speakers at the National Woman's Suffrage association convention November 12, at Nashville, Tenn.

DESPONDDENCY DUE TO INDIGESTION.

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa.: "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried every thing that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Plant Life Fiber

What is it? Here is the answer. The latest scientific method of growing bulbs without earth. A fine fertilized fiber properly mixed so as to give every possible nourishment to the plant that it may need to insure a quicker growing and larger flower. No earth required. Just place the bulb in the fiber in a non-porous vase. Keep fiber well moistened and a surprising fast growth will follow. Full directions on "How to use and apply plant life" given on request. Fall bulbs are now ready.

WILL ENTERTAIN HIS BROTHER.

Milton M. Greist, of Pittsburg, sales manager fo rthe Carnegie Coal company, will be the guest of his brother, Acting Master Mechanic E. E. Greist, of the Pennsylvania, and his family, tomorrow and Sunday. Business for the coal company called Mr. Greist in this section of the country and he takes advantage of it to visit his brother.

Boilermaker J. J. Kelley, who has been sick for three weeks, was able to get down to the Pennsylvania pay car yesterday and will be at work in a week or two.

E. L. Slater, Pennsylvania boilermaker, is off duty on account of sickness.

Foreman B. F. Sarver, of the Pennsylvania boiler department, has returned from a business trip east.

Mrs. Opatz, wife of Blacksmith Foreman Frank A. Opatz, of the Pennsylvania, is going to Indianapolis to spend Sunday with her parents, who reside in that city.

C. B. Atrer and C. M. Moore, of the Pennsylvania tool room, will be guests of friends in Bucyrus over Sunday. They will go to that city tomorrow.

Machinist Fred Goerken, who was sick a few days, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

J. B. Fowler and Henry Heine, of the Pennsylvania store room, will fish and hunt mud hens and rabbits at Rome City tomorrow.

J. T. Conick, general foreman of the Pennsylvania round house at Chicago, was in the city today on business for the company.

Printed and detailed notice of the embargo on stock, hay and grain have been received by the local railway officials. It was published in The Sentinel yesterday, and the official notice does not contain any additional news concerning the matter.

The man or young man who buys a suit or balmacaan tomorrow without first coming to our store will be mighty sick when he compares his garments with some of his friends who trade here. This is not only "The store that does things," but it is "The store that has things."

DISCUSSES EXPORT TRADE.

Papers Read by Charles J. Scheiman Before the Quest Club Friday.

"Export Trade" was the subject of an interesting paper read Friday noon by Charles J. Scheiman, treasurer of the Packard company, at the regular weekly meeting of the Quest club at the Commercial club. The paper followed the customary banquet.

Mr. Scheiman dealt principally with the importance of this country building up its foreign trade, methods of preparing goods for foreign shipment and the necessity of complying with the foreign methods of doing business, even though they differ from the methods in vogue in this country. He declared that the United States ships only 4 per cent. of what it produces to foreign lands, and now has only 15 per cent of the otal foreign trade.

Mr. Scheiman said that the shippers in this country cannot sell abroad unless they buy and that it is imperative to build up the banking system in this country so as to be able to lend money to foreign peoples.

REMEMBERS MOLLY PITCHER.

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 6.—In excellent health in spite of her advanced years Mrs. Samuel Sipe, Cumberland county's oldest resident, a personal friend of Molly Pitcher, the heroine of Monmouth, has just celebrated her 102d birthday.

Her health is good, and although she is unable to walk, she can hear clearly and her mind is a marvel for cleverness of recollection. Mrs. Sipe was born in Switzerland, October 5, 1812, and came with her parents when only six years of age to this country. The trip was made in a sailing vessel and the voyage consumed sixteen weeks. She lived in Philadelphia for a time and came to Carlisle ninety-five years ago. She remembers the old stage coaches that made this a stopping point on the road to Pittsburgh, and also the running of the first train on the Cumberland Valley, July 4, 1857.

BIG YEAR FOR ASPHALT PLANT

Superintendent Droege, of the city asphalt repair plant, has just submitted to the board of works his report of the operations of the plant for the present year. In the five months of operation 15,730 square yards of sheet asphalt was placed on streets that had gone out of guarantee. There were put down 107 square yards of concrete 1,045 square yards of binder, 633 square yards of cushion mixture and five square yards of asphaltic concrete mixture. The department has sent out bills amounting to $3,473 to private parties for repair work done. The cost of the asphalt laid for maintenance of streets out of guarantee has been 91 cents per square yard, which, in view of the $1.35 formerly paid to contractors to do the work, means a great saving to the city. The plant has closed down for the year.

DEFER ACTION ON THE WALL.

The board of works at Thursday night's meeting decided to postpone until next Monday confirmation of the resolution for constructing a concrete wall along the St. Joe boulevard drive from Columbia avenue to Forest avenue. This was done because the petitioners for the improvement reached agreement that instead of building the wall up to Forest avenue it should be continued from McDougall avenue, where the plans provide that it shall leave the river, along the banks to State street, thus affording protection to property lying west of the original line of the wall. Two of three remonstrances filed against the resolution were withdrawn, one of them being by residents dwelling between the river and the proposed line. They object to the earlier plan because it would simply hold water against them in case of flood. Residents of Spy Run, Bloomingdale and Nebraska had signed petitions remonstrating against the wall on the ground that it would serve to make their condition worse in event of an overflow. Dr. M. W. Tinkham appeared at the meeting to advocate the attitude of the petitioners and he charged Lakesiders with being selfish and having no thought for dwellers in other exposed regions of the city. L. P. Sharp, of Lakeside, warmly replied to Dr. Tinkham, saying that residents in other parts of the city were not prevented from taking measures for their own protection as Lakeside was doing. Dr. Tinkham declared dikes were futile as a flood preventive measure, and urged greater channels as the solution of the flood problem.

Assessment rolls were confirmed for the paving of some streets and for the construction of several cement sidewalks. The board awarded to Hilgeman & Schaaf the contract for a sewer in the alley west of Calhoun street, Rudisill to Lexington. The firm owns the real estate affected.

TO TALK CONVENTION HALL.

Council Committee of the Whole to Listen to Discussions.

Notwithstanding the confusion that has been injected into the municipal convention hall project by the expression of many conflicting views as to law, public policy and financial ability, the city council will meet in committee of the whole Friday night and open the meeting to the big crowd that is expected to be present to urge some action by the council. The meeting for Friday night has been scheduled since the last regular meeting of the council, and a large attendance is looked for. By some it has been urged that the project be switched to another track so as to take advantage of the memorial hall law by which the county may co-operate with private efforts to obtain from public sources, to be augmented by individual subscriptions. Under this law the county may raise two-thirds of the amount needed if the people approve it. It likewise has been suggested that the legislature soon to assemble be asked to include Fort Wayne in the operation of the law passed to enable Indianapolis to procure a convention hall, which would authorize the city to pay two-thirds the cost. The matter will be given a thorough thrashing out before the committee of the whole.

WILL FILE AFFIDAVITS.

Secretary J. H. Gilpin, of the board of health, announces that he will vigorously prosecute persons who persist in hauling manure to the city dump on Clinton street and unloading it there. He says he has one case on hand that he means to prosecute. Some time ago the dumping of manure there was forbidden, but this week there have been some violations and the manure caught fire, the stench almost driving Spy Run avenue people from their homes.

BOULEVARD RESOLUTION UP.

At the Saturday meeting of the park board the principal business of the session will be the hearing on the confirmation of the resolution for grading Anthony boulevard from the Maumee river to State street.

The man or young man who buys a suit or balmacaan tomorrow without first coming to our store will be mighty sick when he compares his garments with some of his friends who trade here. This is not only "The store that does things," but it is "The store that has things."

HARDSHIPS MADE HIM AN UMPIRE

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

Jack Sheridan is dead. Dean of the umpires, one of the grandest veterans of the game, he ended thirty-two years of service as player and umpire at Oakland, Cal., where, early in his career, he came as a star infielder.

Off the field Sheridan was one of the few umpires who loved to mingle with players and owners, and who enjoyed a yarn or a fanning match as well as any. On the field he was a good fellow, respected by the players, patient yet firm, and even when he was bad, or had a bad day the players remembered and were considerate.

Sheridan had one yarn he told. It was of his start.

"I had been playing in the Southern," he said, "and was sold to the Oakland club on the coast. They sent me money to come on—but the landlord or someone took it and I could not get to the coast. The Oakland team was going in bad form. I think it lost fourteen of the first sixteen games.

"The club sent me more money and I wired I would be there. The next three days the Oakland papers were printing seven column lines announcing that Sheridan, the greatest of all second basemen, was coming to rescue the team; that Sheridan would make the team a champion.

"They printed my picture five columns wide, and got out extras announcing that I was approaching, and bulletins announcing my progress were posted all over the city. The whole town turned out to meet me and escorted me to the ball park. That afternoon I made five errors and kicked away the game.

"The next day I made seven errors and the next day six. At the end of that game the long suffering public leaped from the stands. I saw them coming and fled.

"Hour after hour I fled, with the sounds of wild pursuit, cries of 'Lynch him' following me. At dark I had outdistanced them and at midnight I threw myself exhausted in a giant redwood forest.

"The next day I dodged through the forest, going further and further from Oakland until at last I came upon a lumber camp. I was hungry and desperate. I was glad to see that they did not recognize me and I applied for work. The boss gave me an ax, took me into the forest and marked two redwood trees for me to cut down.

"All day I worked, chopping at that tree. It was late afternoon before I got through the bark. I chopped around and around and, toward nightfall the boss came with a team of oxen expecting to drag in two logs. He was angry and cursed me. I was starting to fight when a windstorm came up, blew down the tree which fell upon the oxen and killed them.

"The man seized an ax and sprang toward me. Again I turned and fled deeper and deeper into the forest. For days and days I fled, subsisting upon the bark of trees, roots and herries. I dared not go near the haunts of man. On the eighth day, exhausted and worn I sat down upon a log in the depths of the forest and soliloquized:

"'Here I am,' I said bitterly, 'an outcast, a pariah, hated and hunted by all men; an Ishmael, driven from the haunts of man; a fugitive with all human beings seeking my life.'

"I sat there, thinking thus bitterly for an hour. Then suddenly an inspiration came. I brightened up.

"'Why, then, shouldn't I make a good umpire?'

How would that sound to you, Mr. Fan, if the megaphone boy at Navin field should shout it out some fine day next spring? It would be strange no doubt, but when you come to think it over, not so hard to take.

There is a possibility that it will go through too. President Navin is prepared to talk business with the veteran lefthander and is willing to offer Eddie a good salary to come here. He has not made any advances as yet and will not do so until he talks with Connie Mack.

"I would not want to pay any big money for Plank," said Mr. Navin, "but if I can get him to come here I will hand him a contract for one year. I couldn't afford to take a chance on him with a long contract, but would be willing to pay him just as long as he delivered the goods.

"You never can tell how long one of those old fellows is going to last. He may lose his arm at any time and he may be good for several years but it would be foolish to pay much for his release. There is no doubt that Mack is through with the veteran southpaw, and I do not think that he will expect to get very much for him. He will be disappointed if he puts a fancy price on the player. As soon as I find out just what Connie is really up to, I'll be prepared to talk to Eddie himself.

"It would be better to give the pitcher the money in the form of a contract or bonus than to pay the Philadelphia club cash for him. If he were getting the coin he would do his best to earn it, while he might not exert himself if Mack made all the profit."

Plank might be a very valuable asset to the Tigers for a season or two. He proved in 1914 that he still retains his cunning. He is not able to work as often as he once could, but by nursing him along, Jennings should be able to get fifteen victories a season out of him as long as his arm lasts. It would be a good investment to buy the antique hurler for Detroit just to keep him from pitching against the Tigers. He has been a thorn in the side of the Jungaleers for years, almost always giving them trouble when right. His percentage of victories over Detroit probably is as high as that of any curver in the business, barring Walter Johnson.

DODG HIS OWN SURGEON.

New York, Nov. 6.—"Medical degrees are not conferred upon canines," remarked H. T. Galpin, owner of the life-saving Great Dane Jim," but if they were my dog Jim ought to have one, summa cum laude.

"When Jim was struck by a big automobile some months ago and crippled in the hip, besides receiving other injuries, I sent him to the dog hospital for a week and he had the attention of two veterinaries. They got him all right except the hip, and that kept him lame until last week and seemed to get no better.

"Two weeks ago I took him up the state with me—he loves an auto even if one did nearly kill him—and one morning Jim showed up with two holes knawed in his ham, one about six inches lower than the other, over the affected spot, and so situated as to act as a drain. They were not good to look at, but Jim was in better spirits than usual, and within two days he was walking almost as good as new, and now the wounds have healed, and I guess it won't be much longer before his leg is all right.

"He did what the vets couldn't do or didn't do, and just how he knew how to do it is more than I can tell you."

MANY JOIN THE ARMY.

Increase at Local Recruiting Office in October Over Same Month in 1913.

According to Allen L. Seiler, of the Fort Wayne recruiting station of the United States army, the enlistments during the month of October were much greater than during the same month last year. However, October did not prove as good a month as September.

ROUT THE GERMS FROM FOOT BALL

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—These are germless days for Harvard football players out practicing in the stadium, or if there are any germs about they keep out of sight. They were shunted off from the players' clothing by sterilizers long ago. And now, when the tin dipper drinking cups have kissed themselves goodbye, microbes are said indeed.

The latest wrinkle to protect the football players from the intrusion of the "bugs" is that of the individual drinking cup. There are no more drinks on Soldiers' field any more, for every fellow on the squad has his own little water cup—not one, in fact, but as many as he likes.

Dr. F. H. Nichols, '96, professor at the medical school, athletic committee member, erstwhile baseball coach and for many years medical and surgical adviser of the football men, inaugurated the new precaution, and if the microbes are sore on any one it should be on him. But the reform has come to stay.

No more will the football crowds see the players rush to the water bucket between the halves to quench their thirst first hand from the flowing bowl itself, from the rusty dippers or even from the rubbers' dripping sponges. Hereafter the drinks on and off the field are going to be pure, or there will be no drinks at all. It will be the kiss of death on the side line and the rough stuff is a thing of the past.

The new drinking envelopes which soon are to be discarded for real cutglass stems, it is said, are pretty little things. They have no monograms on or handles, but hold water, all that a thirsty football player should be allowed to drink at one sitting. "Pooch" Donovan, the trainer, is head water inspector, of course, but his handy man, Bob Fowler, is the dispenser in chief. Bob is an old Marathon runner, but he's now the handiest little fellow in the world with the water supply.

In the old days Bob had time to practice drop kicking while the varsity was working and there was time also for him to entertain the substitutes with his stories about his gruelling races. There are no stories now. Bob is busy—eternally busy—filling up the water envelopes. He has a little tray with a handle on it and there is room on the tray for about twenty-two cups—one for every player—for naturally no one shares his drink. Bob takes the refreshment out onto the field also, and then, when the melee is over, he picks up the empties—some 100 a day there are—and these belong to Bob if he wants them.

"Pooch" Donovan thinks the scheme is a dandy. He dislikes "bugs" as much as Dr. Nichols does, but passes the palm to "Nick" because the doctor thought of the individual drinking cups first, while "Pooch" only had figured that maybe if the players used individual straws and dipped them in the same bucket the germ might forget to slide through.

It used to be—"So here, you blinkety-blankety, wooden-headed chump, where have you been with those golf balls, and why in Halifax don't you bring me sticks?"

But that was before golf was reformed, before it knew the refining influence of the "girl caddie."

Soon, but not yet, the conversation of the links may be like this: "My dear, Miss Gwendoline, pawdon me for this intrusion, bbut may I be so presuming as to awsk you to lug that bag of sticks over to the 'steenth hole, and is it awsking too much to put a dozen balls in the bag, and if you don't mind I'll awsk you to lug my sweater along. Oh, thanks, awfully. Charmed to have had a moment's chat with you."

The girl caddie was an established institution on French golf links before Frenchmen threw aside golf balls to play with cannon balls, and some American golfers who have played abroad rather like the idea of having "sweet young things" tote their golf sticks about for them, and they feel sure that Miss Caddie would have a refining effect on the "tired business man" who isn't permitted to do his cussing at home.

© A. B. K. Co.; 1914

Has met with universal favor, not only because of its thorough workmanship, but for the cosmopolitan style that in nowise detracts from its serviceability. The shawl collar means warmth and ample protection, and the convenient length is an additional aid to comfort.

There are Chinchillas and Chinchillas, but to be on the safe side buy one of the new Kirschbaum Overcoats just received from the tailoring shop. You know it's only short knap chinchilla this season; the kind that give good service.

All wool, too.

The True Mirror of Mid-Season Coat Styles

Belted models are also very much favored, and these are placed at the normal as well as below the waist line.

All collars, no matter how they differ as to lines, are such that they may be worn high at the throat and the new military collar and coat is fast coming to the front.

We invite you tomorrow to a special exposition and sale of these new developments in coat styles which will now emphasize the style situation through the winter.

Coats at 10.00, 11.50 and 12.50

Broadcloth, zebelines, Persiana, chinchilla, plaids, checks and many novel weaves in excellent grades of cloaking. Every garment at either of these prices is offered with the assurance that the values are incomparable and the styles the very newest. A splendid assortment at these prices awaits the coat buyer tomorrow.

Coats at 15.00, 16.75 and 18.50

FUR TRIMMED COAT 19.75

This garment reflects a world of beauty and smartness. Large plaid zibeline is used. The coat has a front belt effect below normal, straight back and shows a large collar of blended opossum. Self covered and large fancy buttons materially aid in the trimming as well as for practical use in the fastening.

BLACK BROADCLOTH COAT 25.00

A HANDSOME CAPE COAT 40.00

For the price it should be handsome. This coat is of imported broadtail pile fabric with beaver collar and reveres and trim of beaver on cuffs. It has a deep cape effect which makes it unusually attractive. Both cape and coat are lined throughout with Skinner satin. Can be worn for any occasion.

Miscellaneous Special Values

$3.95 WALKING SKIRTS TOMORROW ... 2.95

$7.50 WORSTED DRESSES; REDINGOTE STYLE, AT 5.95

Made of fine French serge showing V shaped yoke and flaring collar of white pique. A becoming style, a good quality fabric and a very special value for this price.

$5.00 GIRLS' COATS, MILITARY STYLE, AT 3.95

$5.00 PILE FABRIC MUFFS AT 3.50

Hindu Lynx, Persiana, broadtail, plush—If you have a coat in any of these fabrics or if you buy a new coat in any of them, you can match a muff at the above low cost.

New Distinctive Blouses

Our own people who "live among the blouses" are stirred to unusual enthusiasm at the beautiful blouses which are now coming into the department.

The Cossack or basque, the flaring and standing collars, the waistcoats and girdles—a bewildering collection of delightful blouses exceeding any blouse collection of recent months.

Prices also are of the usual moderate kind.

BLACK AND WHITE VEILED WAISTS; $5.00 VALUES, AT 3.75

VELVET JUMPERS AT 2.50

Velvet and messaline jumpers are amongst the latest things shown in the waist department. They can be worn with a gulmp or over a lace waist with wonderful results in beauty effect. We've just secured a jumper made of good velveteen, fastening with a medium size jet button and having a messaline bow at back. At $2.50 it is a splendid value.

WHITE MESSALINE SILK BASQUES AT 5.00

An exceptionally handsome and striking model in a basque blouse of fine white messaline silk with collar and cuffs of black messaline. The below normal waist line is added to in effect by the addition of a long sash forming a large bow at back. The blouse showing the front effectively shirred and fastening with large self covered buttons. Value important for the price.

would sign a remonstrance against the granting of the license and there is certain to be one filed.

It was stated there would be no great difficulty to get a majority of the legal voters of the township to sign a remonstrance.

Lewis Smith, who applied for the license, is not known to the commissioners. The only Lewis Smith given in the directory is described as a farmer residing in rural route 3 and owning 137 acres of land assessed at $4,500 and situated in section 7 of Washington township.

The commissioners decline to state what action they will take on the application, but point out that there must be valid reasons for refusing a license and that should they peremptorily refuse Smith one he still would have recourse on appeal to higher courts.

Hiser Place Long an Eyesore.

For many years the Hiser roadhouse on the Goshen road had been notorious as a boozing ken much resorted to by men and women from Fort Wayne. Complaints from residents of Washington township were numerous, but Hiser somehow always "got by" and continued to run his place until a few months ago, when the commissioners put Hiser out of business and the place was closed.

Since the closing of the old roadhouse there had been different rumors that the place was to reopen. Notice of an application for license was published but it was withdrawn. In fear the place might be finally licensed again people of the township several weeks ago petitioned for a local option election, hoping that the township, which now has no saloons outside the city, might be voted dry and kept so for at least two years. Many voters who are opposed to reopening the roadhouse were opposed to voting the township dry and the wets carried the election by a small margin.

JOYRIDE BUNCH HEAVILY FINED

Drunken Layout That Made Assault on Gaskins Pay Penalty.

For driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated George C. Lockwood, of Auburn, was fined $50 and costs, and for assault and battery on Fred Gaskins Al McKee, an alleged Fort Wayne prize fighter, was fined $35 and costs and given a suspended sentence of thirty days, Judge Kerr promised Lockwood that he would exert his efforts to have his automobile license revoked by the secretary of state. Cora Smith, Anna Fisher and Eva Swope were fined $5 and costs each on charges of disorderly conduct. The cases were tried in the city court Friday morning and grew out of a drunken joyride taken Wednesday evening by McKee, another man unknown, and the three women in Lockwood's car. After spending some time drinking in a downtown saloon McKee, his unidentified pal and the three females picked up Lockwood and the sextet drove out to the Four Mile house on the New Haven road and spent three hours drinking. After entering the city limits upon their return trip about 9 o'clock Lockwood's car broke down. Fred Gaskins, who was walking along Maumee avenue, stopped to inquire about the trouble and the drunken auto crew became abusive and when this treatment was resented McKee and the unknown man assaulted him, knocked him down and then gave him the boot. Mr. Gaskins was seriously cut and bruised about the head and face. When Officers Brown, Fry and Buuck reached the scene soon after Mr. Gaskins had reported the affair the unknown man had escaped and the Fisher woman avoided arrest by yprotesting that she was merely an onlooker attracted from her nearby home by the racket. McKee, Lockwood, Mrs. Swope and Mrs. Smith were locked up. The Fisher woman was arrested Thursday. It was brought out by the Fisher woman's testimony that Mrs. Smith was keeping an immoral place upstairs at 310 East Columbia street, and that the Fisher woman had been taking men there. McKee pleaded that he had not been under arrest for three years, and that, moreover, he is to make a California girl his happy, happy bride the 22nd of this month. He couldn't pay his fine and went to jail, as did Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Fisher. Mr. Swope, proud of the ineffable distinctions conferred upon his name and hearthstone by Mrs. Swope, flitted about the courtroom like a soiled butterfly, and was as beaming and busy as a master of ceremonies at a high noon wedding. Mr. Swope insisted very heartily that Mr. Lockwood, in consideration of having had the joyous boon of Mrs. Swope's company on the souse ride, ought to pay Mrs. Swope's fine. Mr. Lockwood protested and Mr. Swope paid it himself. Lockwood paid his fine and was allowed to go. He is married and comes of a well-to-do and highly respected family in DeKalb county. The assault and battery case against Lockwood was dismissed.

Other City Court Cases.

Charles Miller, who was turned loose Thursday morning and was rearrested two hours later, was sent over for eleven days, and Tom Hennessey, who was let go Monday and again arrested Thursday, was continued for a day to determine whether or not he has a job to go to.

Jack Welch, Paul Lyton and Bill Andrew, drunks, were turned loose, and Owney Geegan, who was found in a dooryard near the piano factory, stewed red, was continued until Saturday.

Charles Crow and Harry McCall, two young hoboes who were begging on downtown streets, got $5 and costs each for vagrancy.

The case against Theodore Branston, colored, a driver for the Randall Motor Car company, was continued until Monday on a charge of driving a car without a license tag.

Harry Sutton, arrested Friday morning by Detective Sergeant Charles Spillner while trying to sell a valuable carpenter's plane at a Main street pawnshop, was held on loitering charges under $200 bond. Sutton showed fight while being taken to headquarters. He has been in the city several days and will be investigated.

The convention, according to official reports, received Villa's communication with a tumult of applause. No action was taken on it pending the report of a commission which went to Puebla to notify Carranza of the election of General Guiterrez as provisional president.

Villa's statement is in answer to the stipulations of General Carranza that with his own retirement Villa and Zapata should be eliminated from military authority.

According to reports from American Consul Silliman resistance by Carranza of the convention's orders will depend on the attitude of Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the division of the east. He is at Quertaro with several thousand troops and indications are that he will remain loyal to Carranza. Carranza's visit to Obregon, commander of the division of the northeast it is believed, may have an important bearing on the situation, as Obregon had shown his loyalty to the convention.

Guiterrez has stated to American agents that as soon as he is sworn in as provisional president he will issue the proclamation giving the guarantees desired by the United States before withdrawing its forces from Vera Cruz. Villa has agreed to support Guiterrez in enforcing the proclamation which Carranza declined to issue.

OPENS UP FIELD FOR GOOD CHEER

Investigations in Fort Wayne by the parent-teacher clubs of all of the public schools open up a big field for The Sentinel-Empress good cheer Christmas fund which will be conducted along the same lines that made it a great success last year.

There are in the schools of Fort Wayne this year more boys and girls who are being kept there through the medium of these clubs than in any school year within the experience of the eldest teachers. Pupils are supplied with sufficient clothing to enable them to attend regularly and this is being done so quietly that nobody knows the beneficiaries of these charitable women.

This fact is cited to show that without some public movement the Christmas time will be barren of joy for the tots who have been taught the great story of Nazareth. A doll, a pair of warm mittens, a cap, a toy wagon, a few confections and a bit of fruit will have a tendency to impress more thoroughly upon the minds of the young the story of three wise men and the guiding star that led them to Bethlehem to offer their adoration to the Savior of mankind, whose mission on earth was one of peace, joy and salvation.

Cheerless Christmas. Think of it. Can you do it without sniffling and trying hard to force back that suspicious moisture in your eyes that is so near to tears?

Can you do it without tugging at the strings of your wallet until they are loosened, until a nice little sum of money has found its way from the store to the Christmas fund where every cent will be invested in happiness—every cent means every cent for the reason that there is absolutely no expense?

The Sentinel will collect the funds, the Empress will give its big house and one of its best shows for the little ones and committees from the Fort Wayne Mothers' club will make the distribution.

The story of the empty stocking is old. So is the story of Christmas, but both will endure so long as the world stands. There were few empty stockings in Fort Wayne last year and there was no good reason for a single one.

Every channel of information that might lead to the discovery of a child whose Christmas would have been rendered cheerless by absence of presents was explored and steps taken to prevent such a disappointment.

This year the matter is being put before the public earlier for a number of reasons. The first is that time is needed to make the selection of presents after the money has been subscribed. Secondly, time is needed for making the distributions and arranging for it in a way to avoid confusion and with this in mind the lists will be opened at once and all money received will be duly acknowledged. People were very charitable last year and it is believed that the same generosity will prompt them this year.

INTERESTED IN LECTURES.

Dr. Paul A. Mollan Talks on Hog Cholera and Its Prevention in Allen County.

Unusual interest is being taken in the lectures being given in Allen county by Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterinarian, co-operating with Purdue university.

Thursday afternoon Dr. Mollan gave a demonstration at Markle, Huntington county, under the auspices of the Markle Community association.

Word has been received by Dr. Mollan that the Fowler Gun club at Fowler has shot between 5,000 and 10,000 pigeons in an effort to prevent the spread of cholera in that section.

Dr. Mollan declared in his lecture Thursday evening that farmers are forbidden from shipping cattle at the present time. There is a heavy penalty, he said, for breaking the quarantine.

ELECTRIC MEN TO HOLD MEET

Prominent interurban and electrical men from all sections of the country are expected to be in attendance at the fall meeting of the Central Electric Railway association to be held at the Hotel Anthony Thursday and Friday, November 19 and 20.

A business meeting will be held at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, at which time the reports of the various committees will be named. The report of the standardization committee will be made by R. N. Hemming, of the Union Traction Company of Indiana. W. F. Goltra, president of the W. F. Goltra Tie company, of Cleveland, Ohio, will read a paper on "Treatment of Ties or Wood Preservation," which will be followed by a paper by E. S. Sawtelle, assistant general manager of the Tool Steel Gear and Pinion company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, on "Intermating Tool Steel Pinions With Untreated Gears." At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon a meeting of the Central Electric Traffic association will be held.

Friday's Program.

Another business session will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock, followed by a paper by J. W. Esterline, president and general manager of the Esterline company, of Indianapolis, on "Interurban Headlights." H. F. Smith, an engineer for the Prest-O-Lite company, of Indianapolis, will read a paper on "Oxyacetylene Welding." "Selection of Railway Equipment," is the subject of a paper by J. F. Laying, an engineer for the General Electric company, of Schenectady, New York.

A meeting of the executive committee of the association will be held at the Hotel Anthony November 18, at 7:30 o'clock. E. F. Schneider is president of the association and A. L. Neereamer is secretary. Three meetings are held each year.

CHICAGO FACES SALOON FAMINE

But the Windy City Will Probably Survive the Ordeal.

But, except the "jobless" saloon-keepers, no one is worrying much about that.

When the 7,150 saloon-keepers were called upon November 1 to renew their annual license of $1,000 about 400 of them were missing. The brewers were called upon for help, but brewers are good business men. They refused to finance "bars" that were steadily losing money.

"I have been in the liquor business for twenty-six years," said William Legner, secretary of the Cook County Brewers' association, "and I have never known business to be so dull.

"The saloon-keepers say that the war tax of fifty cents on each barrel of beer, the increase of the 'I don't take anything now club' and the general depression in business have put 'Demon Rum, on the bum and taken the profits out of whisky selling. A few years ago there was such a demand for liquor license in Chicago that a license that cost $1,000 could be sold for $2,000 or $3,000. Today all the licenses wanted may be had for $1,000.

"It's the saloons in the factory districts that are hardest hit this year and in the districts where workingmen live saloons no longer pay. Most of the saloon-keepers who are quitting the business are located in the factory districts, but some of the big places in the loop are also going to hang out a 'for rent' sign."

As a result of the depression in the saloon business Chicago will lose half a million dollars annually in revenue received from the saloon license.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 6.—In Middlebury township, Elkhart county, Gideon M. Lehman, democrat, and David S. Blough, progressive, for trustee, each received 187 votes. To determine the winner under the vote, they, by agreement, placed ten black and ten green marbles in a hat, flipped a coin to decide who should draw first and proceeded on the understanding that the one with a majority of black marbles should get the trusteeship. On the first draw each one had five black marbles and the same result was repeated on the second draw. The third draw made Blough winner.

HUMANS NEED NOT FEAR INFECTION

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Statements assuring the public that foot and mouth disease, the malady that is raging among live stock in nine states, cannot infect humans through the eating of meat, was issued by officials of Chicago's largest packing companies today.

"Meat eaters need have no fear from the disease," read a statement by J. Ogden Armour. "No particle of meat from an infected animal, is used, even for soap fertilizer or leather. Every such animal is shot and buried in quick lime at once. Government inspectors have examined carefully every bit of meat sold by packers and the vigilance has been doubly watchful for a week. The disease is detected quickly and there is not one chance for harm to any meat sold."

There would be no danger in eating meat from infected animals even if it were used, unless the affected parts were brought into contact with dressed meats, according to a statement by Dr. Walter S. Haynes, toxicologist, and member of the Illinois food commission.

The quarantine placed on the Chicago Union Stock yards by federal and state officials will go into effect at the close of today's business. The yards must remain closed for nine days, the government officials ordered, so all cattle cars, pens and other equipment with which infected animals are thought to have come in contact, can be thoroughly disinfected. A force of 1,000 men is employed in the process of fumigation.

200 pair of Men's $1.75 Corduroy Pants will be sold at $1.00.

FRIEDMANN CURE GIVEN NEW JOLT

Washington, Nov. 6.—The seal of official disapproval has been placed upon the tuberculosis "cure" brought to this country in 1913 by Dr. Fredrich Friedmann, of Berlin. The announcement was made today by the United States public health service in making public an abstract of the report of its investigations in hospitals and laboratories where tests of the Friedmann cultures were made. It declares that conclusions of the American physicians are in line with previous reports both in this country and abroad "which have refuted Dr Friedmann's claim to the discovery of a specific cure for tuberculosis."

One-fourth of all cases treated under the observation of American physicians developed running sores at the point of injection of the "cure," the abstract states, adding that Dr. Friedmann admitted this to be unfavorable to effecting a cure but declared his method of injection had overcome that obstacle. The report further states that the bacteria germs used for injection by Dr. Friedmann "show that the germ in different varieties of tubercle baccilli commonly known at the present time and that their injection into smaller animals rendered the subject more susceptible to tubercular infection instead of more resistant, as was claimed." No specific cases are reported in the abstract made public nor is any mention made of Dr. Friedman's method of preparing his culture.

RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN FROM SORE, ACHING JOINTS

What's Rheumatism? Pain only.

Stop drugging! Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica liniment, which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer. Relief awaits you. Old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

NO LIQUOR FIGHT FOR 8 YEARS NOW

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Not only did the voters of California defeat statewide prohibition on Tuesday by a majority that will probably reach 150,000, but they approved a measure designed to prevent a recrudescence of the prohibition movement within a period of eight years.

Amendment No. 47, which provides that there shall not be another vote on the liquor question in that time, was adopted by a much smaller majority. The red light abatement measure appeared today to have gone down to defeat by a narrow margin, although there is still a possibility a majority against it might be upset.

The proposed law prohibiting prize fighting had a margin of more than 20,000 votes on returns in hand with a number of Los Angeles precincts to hear from.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 8

(World's Temperance Lesson.)

LESSON TEXT—Gal. 6:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.—Gal. 6:7.

Nowhere do the Scriptures excuse men from the results of their own sins. The effects of sins, and of blessings alike, are unto the succeeding generations. France is still paying in the physical realm the cost of Napoleon's ambition. Europe will have a greater debt to pay biologically than any which will be charged against its exchequers as the result of this inhuman and uncalled-for war.

I. Those Who Trespass, vv. 1-5. Jesus plainly instructs us that "trespasses must needs come." Our problem is (a) to avoid being the trespasser and (b) the manner of our conduct towards those who do trespass. In this lesson the second question is treated first. Though a man be overtaken in the very act of trespassing, those who are taught and governed by the Holy Spirit (see chapter 5:16-25) are to prove to the world by their conduct that they are thus taught and governed. They are to "restore such an one," considering at the same time themselves lest they, too, stumble. To restore is to replace, "to reduce a fracture," to put a member of the body into its proper place. Every believer is a member of the body of which Christ is the head I Cor. 12:12, 14, 27, and one who falls (stumbles) into sin is a member out of place.

Man's Duty to Man.

The first step is to help our erring brother to bear his burdens (weights) of temptation, weakness, failure and sin, and in so doing we "fulfill the law of Christ," Ch. 5:14; John 13:34; Rom. 15:3. Jesus Christ not only gave us this law, but he also lived it as well, Phil. 2:5-8. The true disciple, who is really trying to help his brother bear his burden, does so with the consciousness not of his own rectitude, but rather that through the grace of God he has been kept from a like fate. Otherwise the man who "thinketh himself to be something" deceives himself, and no one else. God knows, so does the one whom we seek to help, if we are animated by spiritual pride and boastfulness. This is a measuring line whereby we may judge ourselves (v. 4). Pride and criticism of others largely comes from a desire to glory in ourselves, not so much that we condemn the acts of our neighbor. In verse three we are admonished to bear the burdens—"weights"—of others. In verse five we are told that every man must bear his own burden—"load," i. e., the burden of his own responsibility. No man can bear that load for another, whereas all men can share the "weights" of temptation, weakness, failure and sin.

III. Those Who Are Taught, vv. 6-10. Paul clearly sets before us the responsibility of being enlightened. Being taught, we must pass on the knowledge we have been taught, share the "good things" (v. 6) we have received, see Prov. 11:24; II Cor. 9:6. Those who refrain from thus aiding their teachers gain no personal advantage. The word "mocked" means to sneer. Men may sneer at God and think they escape the result of their sin, but like still produces like. Sow corn, reap corn; figs, reap figs; sin, reap sin: Rom. 8:5, 6. In spite of the contempt men have for God and in the face of their acceptance of this principle in other realms they continue in their sin with a strange fatalistic persistence.

Habits Bless or Curse.

This principle has a wide application. Sow shame, reap dishonor; sow hate, reap bitterness; sow love, reap the fruits of love, kindliness, affection and esteem. Every act is a process of sowing. Every appetite fostered, gratified and pampered helps to produce a crop of habits either to bless or to curse. This gives color and significance to the words of verse eight. "He that soweth to his own flesh shall of (his own) the flesh reap corruption." If, however, under the leading of the Holy Spirit (cf. John 6:63; II Cor. 3:6) we sow to the Spirit, we will reap eternal life for "this is eternal life that we may know him."

Sow a thought, reap an act;
Sow an act, reap a habit;
Sow a habit, reap a destiny.

The practical application is in verse nine. If there are such possibilities of development, "let us not weary of well-doing." Our sowing is not a matter of caprice or convenience. Nor should we, through weariness, cease our activity.

The temperance application is all too plain. We must constantly sow in the minds of the youth the "reaping of the flesh" for those who cultivate a taste for liquor. We must sow in the minds of taxpayers the criminal waste and folly of trying to regulate this traffic or seeking to tax it for the support of governments. We must sow in the minds of those poor souls now in the clutch of this damnable evil that there is a way of deliverance—the way of the Cross, a permanent and complete cure for the one who has gone the farthest or sunk the deepest in sin.

The markings on a graduated measuring glass invented in Germany are made along a zigzag line instead of a vertical one and, having wider spaces between, are said to be read more accurately.

MOVING DAY IS SOCIETY'S FOE

Iowa Man Calls It Cardinal Reason for Divorce and Vice.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 6.—Moving day was depicted as one of the greatest foes of modern society and one of the cardinal reasons for divorce and vice by John Hammond, of Des Moines, Iowa, in an address before the International Purity congress here today.

"The re-establishment of the American home is the only remedy for the social evil and the only hope of democracy," he said. "The constant shifting of families from one section to another prohibits the long acquaintance among young people through which proper life partners can be selected.

"Young people are thrown into contract with strangers, become bold and practice deceptions. As the result marriage frequently is contracted on a guess. The deceptions are discovered and lead to the divorce courts and too often to immorality."

Mr. Hammond asserted "the constant diminution of home ownership among our people and the day of privacy of the family life is the greatest menace threatening our free institutions today.

"About 70 per cent. of our people are actual tenants and dependent on speculators for the roofs which shelter them," he continued.

"Girls born and reared in tenements are easy marks for white slavers and not infrequently a widowed mother, ground down by the tenantry system, is forced to sacrifice her virtue rather than her children. Go where you will, you will find the greatest degree of immorality and lawlessness where the homeless population is the greatest."

As a remedy Mr. Hammond said he would exempt the homestead from taxation; put the burden of taxes on incomes and constructive ownership of property and re-establishment of rent in tenants based on assessed valuation and graded on sanitation and conveniences.

HOW TO AVOID WEARING UGLY FALSE TEETH

How often you hear the words: "It's too bad such a pretty girl should have such dreadfully poor teeth!" It's positively distressing the way some people allow their teeth to gradually fade away—become broken, elongated, twisted and protruding. It makes people backward and often morbid. In nearly every instance tooth affection comes from microbes. These tiny unseen living organisms bore their way into the hard white enamel under the shelter of brown or pale straw-like yellow spots. Grit and tartar get between the enamel of the teeth and the gums, causing bleeding, sore, sensitive teeth. Then come loosened teeth, protruding teeth, gum boils and gum separation. Your tongue easily rocks the teeth—you notice a kind of gripping of the nerves of the upper and lower jaws after taking hot or cold food or drink, eating sweets or using tobacco.

You can save yourself a world of dental trouble, the necessity to pull out your teeth or fill them with disfiguring gold or porcelain that soon blackens in the mouth from mouth acids, if you will go to your druggist and get about four ounces of fluid orgran, merely putting a teaspoonful in your mouth morning, noon and night, and throwing it out after a minute or so. The microbes in the nooks and crannies, cracks and holes of the teeth will be washed out, destroyed; the hard substances foreign to the teeth will be dissolved, your gums will be clean and rosy, your mouth will be dentally clean, the loose teeth will harden in the gums—try them with your fingers—and your own white of the teeth will appear when the yellow spots are washed away. When you get up in the morning your breath will be sweet and you will have a dentally clean mouth. 11-6-12-11

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—United States Senator B. F. Shively, on behalf of Indiana university, of which he is president of the board of trustees, will present a golf "I" to about 150 former athletes of Indiana university at a banquet of the "I" men's organization here tonight, the eve of the Indiana-Ohio football game. Many members of the leading business and professional men of the state are among those who will receive the "I" and a number of reservations for the banquet have been received from outside the state.

Gov. M. Ralston will attend and Thomas M. Honan, attorney general of Indiana will be toastmaster. Senator Shively will occupy a box at the game and will have among his guests Governor and Mrs. Ralston.

In a transfer of land in Dearborn Mich., a deed seventy-nine years old was recorded for the first time. At that time the value of the land was $393, since then it has increased in value more than forty thousand dollars.

YOUMANS' CHARGE TO JURY POSITIVE

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 6.—Crowds were on hand today at the opening of the federal court when the grand jury which will investigate the recent outbreaks in the Hartford Valley coal mining region, was to receive its charge from Judge Frank Youmans.

Judge Youmans, after pointing to the fact that an injunction was issued on May 9, 1914, enjoining the miners and all others from interfering in any way with the operation of Prairie Creek mine No. 4, owned by the Mammoth Vein Coal Mining company, called attention to the various disturbances which constituted violations of that injunction.

These included the outbreak on July 17, when considerable property was destroyed and two mine guards were alleged to have been murdered and the one on Oct. 31, when certain persons, under arrest, were taken from the custody of United States deputy marshals by armed forces. These acts, according to the court, constituted contempt of court and conspiracy; and he instructed that indictments be returned against all whom the evidence to be presented pointed to as guilty.

Reports were received here today that two stores were burned early today at Hartford, about three miles south of the Prairie Creek mining district. The origin of the blaze was unknown, it was stated.

MOTHER IS ACQUITTED.

Jury Frees Woman for Slaying Man Who Wronged Daughter.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Florence McGowan, a trained nurse, was acquitted by a jury here of the murder of J. Leroy Brown, an attorney, whom she shot to death two months ago for alleged wrongs to her fifteen year old daughter. Her attorney asked a verdict of not guilty on a plea of the "unwritten law." But the judge's instructions to the jury held that she had been proven guilty.

A verdict was reached after six hours.

WAR AIDS POSTAL BANKS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Chicago's postal savings deposits have been increased materially as a result of the European war according to Postmaster Campbell. Much of the money now being deposited was formerly sent abroad through the international money order service.

"Chicago has just set a unique record," said the postmaster, "by reporting a larger gain in deposits for July, August and September than for the entire preceding year. During these three months the net gain was $521,339, making the total on deposit $2,827,271. The new accounts opened in this period numbered 7,116, increasing the number of depositors to 21,650, each of whom has an average balance of $131.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Robert Millard gave the first of a number of small parties she expects to preside over during the winter season in the way of a breakfast this morning at her home in honor of the ladies from South Bend who are visiting Mrs. E. F. Keller. The visitors are Mrs. Herr, Mrs. Knobloch and Mrs. Horace Green. There were ten at the breakfast, including the hostess.

* * *

Honoring her mother, Mrs. Charles R. Dreyer, who has in recent weeks returned to Fort Wayne to live, Mrs. Fred B Shoaff entertained quite informally this afternoon a number of her mother's friends. The guests were served a most appetizing supper after their sewing.

* * *

Mrs. Norman Olds, who has recently resumed her residence in this city, after an absence of several years in California, met a number of old neighborhood and other friends at a wholly informal gathering which Mrs. Frank Bohn gave this afternoon. Mrs. Bohn served tea amid a pretty decoration of chrysanthemums and bittersweet as the guests visited. Mr. and Mrs. Olds are now at home in their own residence in Nelson street.

* * *

Mrs. Martha Cox, of Broadway, gave a dinner party on Wednesday in honor of the birthday anniversary of O. E. Johannesson.

Miss Janet McPhail, of Portland, will arrive in the city tomorrow for a visit with her aunts, the Misses McPhail, of Ewing street, of two or three weeks' time.

Miss Dorothy Hill, of Canton, O., who had been visiting Miss Mildred Bowser, and other friends in the city for ten days, will return home the first of the coming week.

Mrs. George Sunderland and children and an aunt of Mr. Sunderland, all of Chicago, are to make a visit with Mrs. Sunderland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Reuss soon. The visitors are coming tomorrow.

Mrs. O. N. Guldlin and Mrs. Lee J. Ninde are going to South Bend tomorrow to talk before a gathering of women's club on Saturday. Mrs. Ninde will talk about the planning of a small house and Mrs. Guldlin along the line of household economics.

Many Fore Wayne friends of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Deming of Litchfield, Conn., will be interested in knowing that they are to spend the winter in New York. Dr. Deming will devote a part of his time to special study in hospitals. Miss Mary Louise Deming and brother Nelson, will remain in school in Litchfield.

The Jolly Seven is the name of a new club of young girls who met with Miss Velma Bookwalter on West Williams street, last evening. A social time is to be the order of the meetings. The club members are, in addition to Miss Bookwalter, Esther Ehle, Lillian Lankenau, Velma Pfeil, Helen Pohlmeyer, Madeline Rickett and Lela Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ream gave a euchre party last evening as a compliment to Louis Weisenberger, of Denver, who is visiting here. Both the host and Mr. Weisenberger contributed musical selections for the pleasure of the guests and Mrs. Ream served an excellent supper. There were present Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sutherland, Guy Hayes and Charles Lauer.

Miss Blanche Good, of Huntington, a sister of Mrs. Sam Morris, jr., of this city, and who is acquainted with many of the young people here, is the subject of a very complimentary notice in the current issue of the Musical Courier. Miss Good is a pianist and gave a recital in Aeolian hall on Wednesday of this week, besides having appeared at Smith college, Mt. Holyoke seminary and other educational places. Miss Good is said to be "remarkable for her brilliancy of touch, power of tone and beauty of interpretation.

Misses Nellie Pape and Hilda Weimer gave a marshmallow roast for a number of their friends on Wednesday evening in a field near Miss Pape's home and the roast was followed by a merry time at her home. A lunch of substantial things was served after a while spent playing games. There were present at the good time Misses Ruth Bourie, Helen Christian, Esther Glusencamp, Thelma Kruse, Grace Romary, Julia Christian, Alma Stahl and Messrs. William Schmidt, Jay Fish, Edward Castle, John Spoldner, Lawrence Lauer, Theodore Fisher, George Fishering, Herschel Ackerman, Frank Barnett, Howard Gumpper, Frank Schilling.

A "wienie roast" was the principal feature of a good time enjoyed last evening by students of the International Business college in compliment to Misses Smith and Witham. The party was held at the home of friends east of the city and those who participated were Misses Ensley, Shilling, Cape, Puffenberger, Pooples, Schuck, Zimmerman, Wright, Smith, Witham, Radenbaugh, Munk, Spade, Howard, Schuburg, Snyder, Chambers, Kessler, and Summday, and Messrs. Bond, Waller, Mowry, Mason, Smith, McClelland Whitmire, Bornhose, Lotz, Danner and Crommett.

The members of the Junior Orphans' home society will hold another sale on the market place tomorrow morning.

Many friends in this city of Mrs. S. E. Morss and daughter, Mrs. Josephine Morss Loonen, will learn with interest that Mrs. Morss and her daughter have joined the society of the Red Cross and are actively at work. Mrs. Morss took the course of training and Mrs. Loonen has joined her mother in the bandage department. Before going a broad to live a number of years ago the Morss family lived in Indianapolis. Many years ago Mr. and Mrs. Morss lived in this city.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Tomorrow Harry Lauder Day in Fort Wayne.

William Morris will present Harry Lauder, the great Scotch comedian, at the Majestic theater tomorrow matinee and night. Lauder is engaged on his seventh tour in America under the personal direction of William Morris. A number of noted artists secured by William Morris for the forthcoming tour include Alfred Lattell and Elsa Yokes in "A Dog of Fantasy;" Irene Berresny, a Hungarian gypsy cimbalist; Albert Donnelley, the silent humorist; Erno Rapee, a noted Hungarian pianist; Martinetti and Sylvester and Jed and Ethel Dooley.

Mr. Lauder's new repertoire will include "It's Nice to Get Up in the Mornin' But Nicer to Lie in Bed," "Ta! Ta! My Bonnie Maggie Darlin'," "The Scdger," "It's Nice When You Love a Wee Lassie," "Same as His Faither Did Before Him," "I'm the Saftest o' the Family," "Roamin' in the Gloamin'," "She's the Lass for Me," "A Wee Deoch-An-Doris," "I Love a Lassie," "She's Ma Daisy" and "The Kilty Lads."

Maude Adams at Majestic Monday.

As the curtain rises on the second act of "The Legend of Leonora," Barrie's new comedy, there is disclosed the Old Bailey, London's most famous criminal court. The jurymen are in their places, but the audience only sees the back of their heads. Two of the acts are laid in this court and never once are the faces of the jurors turned toward the audience. The play is the fifth from the Barrie pen that has been made known in this country by Maude Adams, and it promises to be an even bigger success than any of its predecessors. The reasons for this are that it contains all of the whimsy, fantasy and quaintness that one would expect from Barrie together with that delightful brand of humor that is all his own. Further than this the play furnishes in Leonora the most artistic and agreeable role that Miss Adams has had with which to please and captivate her large and loyal following. The comedy is to be given by Miss Adams at the Majestic theater Monday when it will be found effectively staged and unfolded by a company of all-around excellence.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Thirty years the favorite amusement place of Fort Wayne, and still on the job, is the record the Temple has made, as today is the thirtieth anniversary of the opening of the playhouse and it is being celebrated by a bill of such exceptional merit even for the Temple that the week-end bids fair to set a new high water mark. "Marked Money," done by the Readick and Freeman players, is the top attraction on this program. The playlet, written by John J. O'Connor, has elements of pathos and also has its tragic aspects, but through it all is a dominant humor note, and a powerful sermon is brilliantly preached in a manner calculated to register a strong appeal. "The Traveling Salesman," the musical skit done by Goldsmith and Pinard, is some act, as these two comedians are immensely funny, especially Goldsmith in his travesty as Broadway, the band-leading kike, directing the playing of a group of marches.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Who ever heard of a man balancing himself on an unsupported pole and even walking up stairs on it? And who ever heard of a one-legged man being able to do a feat like that? Well, that's what Paul Stephens, the most wonderful one-legged man in the world is doing at the Empress. And he is one of the many features on this wonderful new bill that is headlined by Frank Morrell.

McDermott and Wallace have a snappy, lively act which they call "A Little Bit of Everything." Trovello is a ventriloquist who varies the usual act of this character in the most novel manner. Menetti and Sidello, two boys who are agile envoys from funland, do a wonderful act with a lot of chairs and six tables. The new bill is a hummer.

THE ORPHEUM.

MARY FULLER.

Charming Mary Fuller, most delightful of all screen stars, comes to the Orpheum today, playing the title role in a romantic drama that gloves her contagious personality perfectly. "His Big Chance" is the story of a royal princess who comes to America and anonymously secures a position as maid in the home of a Mrs. Clifton. During the absence of Mr. Clifton his wife accepts the attentions of a young fop, Trinker, and Mary, coming hastily into a room one day, finds Mrs. Clifton in the arms of her lover. In order to bind the girl to secrecy, Mrs. Clifton promises to fulfill any request she may make, and Mary, in a mischievous moment, orders that she be taken to Newport and introduced as a belle.

On the balance of the program we find one of the uproarious Nestor comedies running in two reels and bearing the caption, "Those Were the Happy Days." The musical arrangement will include a rendition of the popular "Pride of the Regiment" march and Leo Feist's wonderful song hit, "You're Here and I'm Here." Miss Lyons sings "Forgotten," one of the most beloved compositions of the noted composer, Cowles.

AT THE LYRIC.

MERRY MINSTRELS MAKE MIRTH AT THE LYRIC.

Sid Carter's Sunny South Merry Makers are tearing it off by the yard at the Lyric theater and will continue to serve it to 'em red hot until Saturday night, when the playhouse again will return to straight vaudeville. The daily shift of first run pictures finds "Mr. Cinderella," a two-reel Thanhouser, on the books for this afternoon and evening. "The Blotted Page" is a powerful sermon against suicide. The story deals with a broken broker's attempt at self-slaughter, being frustrated by a parlor maid, whose own father had killed himself because of financial reverses brought on him by the father of the man whose life she is saving. He gives over his rash determination. The closing scenes of the play are exceptionally strong.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

"THE ERRING."

Well, they haven't discovered Hargreaves yet, nor unearthed the million dollars or quite decided who will marry Florence. These three perplexing problems are the big motives in the strangest, most gripping mystery story ever presented by the camera, the Million Dollar Mystery, and the person who advances the correct solution will be given ten thousand dollars for his or her trouble in arriving at the conclusions. Today's consignment brings us two reels nearer the end of the serial, which is not far off, but it would seem as if this fact had served to make the action swifter and the mystery deeper. In today's episode, Florence again outwits the conspirators after a thrilling escapade in "The Underground River."

Coupled with this thrilling feature, we have another reel of the Pathe War News, bringing with it the latest news from the battle fronts in war-stricken Europe. The intrepid Pathe camera-men must have forgotten the meaning of fear, judging by the audacity they displayed in securing these pictures.

The third number on this very good feaure bill gives us one of the famous Lubin special three act dramas, "The Erring." Displaying a plot of penetrating interest, staged on a tremendous scale of lavishness and acted faultlessly, this production comes up, in every way to the exacting Jefferson standard, which means, of course, that it is perfect.

Artistic blending of velvet and silk—of velour and flowers—produces these newest winter fashions. Particularly attractive are the hats in the new sand shades, cerise color combined with black or navy.

The hat at the top is a snug Frenchy turban, made of silk velour with faille silk facing the crown, trimmed with a beautiful ostrich fantasie on side, finished with French moire bow, $5.00.

Young Children Will Have Chance Every Saturday at 10 O'Clock.

The story hour for younger children at the public library will begin Saturday morning, November 7, at 10 o'clock and will continue regularly at this time throughout the winter. Children of the kindergarten and first four grades are invited. Stories from the "Kalevala," the national epic of Finland, will be told in series form, as well as miscellaneous stories suitable to the seasons, standard legends and folk stories. The story hour is held with the purpose of interesting children in the library and in good stories, with the ultimate desire to give them a love for good literature and to encourage the reading of good books. The stories are told informally, care being taken to avoid artificiality and self-consciousness.

27 NURSES WALK OUT ON STRIKE

New York, Nov. 5.—Following a strike of twenty-seven nurses in the Flushing hospital, five young women yesterday were expelled from the institution. Two of them were accused by Thomas D. Lowerese, superintendent, of walking out of the operating room while a patient was in a critical stage of an operation for appendicitis. This happened Saturday afternoon, and soon after, it was said, seventy-two patients, many of them desperately ill, were without the care of nurses.

The superintendent announced that the following nurses had been expelled: Miss May Schultz, Manhasset, L. I.; Miss M. Shapter, Bayside; Miss Ethel Olsen, Flushing, daughter of a member of the board of trustees, and the Misses Schneffer and Hargrove, of Elmhurst.

The trouble was caused by the action of Mr. Lowerese on Friday in asking for the resignation of Miss M. E. Melville, supervisor of nurses, he explained yesterday. Miss Frances Nicholson, supervisor of the operating room, had been allowed to resign, he added, and Saturday he heard that a petition was being circulated among the nurses asking for a public hearing for Miss Melville.

"I understood it was being circulated at the instance of Miss Melville," he said, "and when it was presented I told the nurses that the matter of her dismissal had been up before the hospital executive committee, and the committee had decided that for the good of the service she had better leave. Thereupon one of the petitioners said that the nurses would not be responsible for what happened.

"At a quarter to 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon the walk-out occurred," he continued. "At that moment Dr. C. B. Story was performing an operation for appendicitis, and assisting him were Miss Nicholson, Miss Shapter and Miss Schults. There was a rap at the door and Miss Nicholson answered it. Then she whispered to the other nurses and the three of them walked out while the operation was in progress. They joined other nurses, and the strikers even went so far as to awaken night nurses who then were sleeping. Twenty-seven strong, they left the hospital and went to the nurses' home."

With Dr. John McLeod, a staff physician, Mr. Lowerce decided that the five later expelled were the ringleaders, he said. He sent Dr. McLeod over to the nurses' home to try to persuade the others to return. Then he communicated with other hospitals, told them his plight and soon fifteen nurses were on the way to help out. Before they arrived, however, Dr. McLeod had succeeded in getting twenty-two of the strikers to return.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you musn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

WAR BRINGS LARGE ORDERS.

Studebaker Co. to Put 1,500 Men to Work Immediately.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 5.—Large contracts for harness, wagons and other equipment, closed by the Studebaker corporation, will give employment to hundreds of men.

Contracts closed with warring nations of Europe will keep the South Bend plant busy for the next year at least, it is estimated.

It is planned to put approximately one thousand men to work on the war contracts immediately and five hundred other men, who were laid off during the last two weeks will also be employed. This work will be handled in conjunction with other contracts.

"The Studebaker corporation has closed large contracts for harness, wagons and other of their products for use in the different European countries. The harness contract was very large and consequently a portion of it has been sublet to different harness and saddle manufacturers throughout the country, although our harness department will execute a large portion of the order."

SUPREME BISON COMING.

National Head of the Buffaloes Will Visit Fort Wayne Sunday.

Word has been received by local officers of the Buffaloes that Supreme Bison Lee Simons, of Louisville, Ky., and other national officers of the order, will be visitors in Fort Wayne next Sunday. Arrangements are being made for a banquet to be given in their honor.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

Claiming indebtedness in excess of $500, a petition was filed in the United States court Friday afternoon by the Gruhe-Meyering Trunk company, M. C. Lilley & Co. and William H. Noll, asking that the Fort Wayne Trunk and Leather company be declared bankrupt. This action will take the matter out of the hands of the superior court, where some time ago Judge Yaple appointed the Citizens Trust company as receivers.

The Gruhe-Meyering Trunk company claims that the Fort Wayne concern is indebted to it for goods and merchandise in the sum of $325; the M. C. Lilley & Co. for merchandise in the sum of $121.62 and William H. Noll for rent in the Schmitz building in the sum of $260.

They Are Weakening, and Disturb the Whole Family.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Keep a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at hand. Use it freely—there is nothing in it that can possibly harm you. But it clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, stops the coughing and tickling, and heals the raw inflamed surfaces.

GEO. D. COBBS, Mady, La., says: "My wife was troubled with a terrible cough, and we could get nothing to relieve her until I asked Dr. Self of Hornbeck, who recommended FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR so strongly that I purchased a 50c bottle. Before the contents of this bottle were used, the cough had entirely disappeared and her health was completely restored."

PHIL DESORMEAU, Schaffer, Mich., writes: "Last winter I could not sleep at night on account of a bad cough. It did not bother me during the day, but started up at bedtime and kept me from sleeping. I was very weak and in bad shape. I started using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and was greatly pleased to find that the cough left me entirely, my appetite improved, and I slept soundly at night."

Good druggists are glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND because it always satisfies the customer and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes.

Mrs. Irene Westerman, of 825 Madison street, will visit Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thomas, of Huntington, over Sunday.

Miss Estelle Ziegler, of Maple avenue, is expected home in a day or two from Coffeeville and Chanute, Kan.

Mrs. E. H. Olds and Miss Alice Ward have been in Chicago for a few days and may visit Mrs. Frank Lumbard in Evansville before they return.

Mrs. George Vawater, of Pueblo, Col., who has been here for two months visiting relatives and friends in Churubusco and this city, left today for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mann are the guests of their aunt, Mrs. James Treece, of Walnut street. Mrs. Mann, who is a recent bride, was formerly Miss Tressie Rogers, of Adrian, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keel, accompanied by two friends, all of Chicago, are coming here tomorrow to visit over Sunday with Mr. Keel's mother, Mrs. Mary Keel.

Misses Elease Fee, Jane Meriwether and Katherine Cook are going to Lafayette to a house party of the Beta fraternity. Mrs. James Meriwether will chaperon the young ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murray have returned from a few days' visit in Chicago and will go to Richmond tomorrow to visit relatives of Mr. Murray for a few days.

The Avolonte club enjoyed a marshmallow bake in Foster park and after that fun returned to their meeting place, the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ahern, of East DeWald street, where they played games and otherwise had a good time. Those who attended were Misses Nora and Catheline Adern, Edna Petgen, Edith Keller, Eleanor Oddon, Winifred and Helen Linsky and Messrs. Ralph McClellan, Edward Rinehart, Orlo Kelker, Fred Fitch, Lester Franke, William Wolff, Edward W. Koehl and Frank Oddon.

The members of the Grandmothers' circle of the Wayne Street M. E. church were guests at dinner at noon today of Mrs. George D. Crane, who entertained her friends at the Randall hotel. There were fourteen in the party.

Miss Valera Cromley entertained ten girl friends on Wednesday afternoon at a lovely party in honor of her birthday anniversary. At least that was the plan, but Miss Valera didn't know anything about it until her friends arrived. White and yellow chrysanthemums with baskets of flowers for favors, a luncheon carried out in yellow and white and a birthday cake with yellow candles all helped to make the table pretty and the children to have a good time. Chrysanthemums and autumn leaves were a pretty decoration.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire in this manner to thank friends, neighbors, pall-bearers, also for words of sympathy from Rev. D. H. Guild, in the death of our little Marcelle A. Brown; also for floral offerings.

DIVORCES STILL HAVE THE CALL

Unhappy Marriages Holding Larger Place on the Local Dockets.

Ada R. Conrad has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from William J. Conrad, to whom she was married September 18, 1904, and from whom she separated October 1, 1914. She says he treated her cruelly, had an ungovernable temper and that during the last four or five years of their life together greatly abused her with vile language, blows and false accusations of her fidelity. Finally he abandoned her, she says. She asks the custody of a child and has obtained an order restraining him from molesting her.

Says Wife Left Him.

Howard S. Byall, who resides in Aboit township, has commenced suit in the superior court for divorce from Matilda C. Byall. He says they were married in September, 1908, and that in November, 1909, she abandoned and deserted him, since which time they have lived apart.

Calls Him Habitual Drunkard.

Because her husband, Ernest V. Swihart, is a habitual drunkard and does not provide for her, are the reasons given by Ethel Swihart in asking the superior court for a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name of Ethel Tyler. The couple were married July 5, 1910, and separated March 18, 1911.

Notes of the Courts.

Chester W. Keen brings action in the circuit court against the Colonial works, of Fort Wayne, for $150 on account.

The Athenaeum of Fort Wayne has brought suit in the superior court against Elsie Tobias on an accepted bill of exchange for $100 and $25 attorney's fee.

The suit of Ira C. Chapman vs. the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company has been dismissed from the superior court.

Mrs. J. J. McDonald has been appointed by Judge John W. Eggeman, of the circuit court, to serve as a member of the board of children's guardians to succeed the late Mrs. Helen Fleming.

Judge Yaple, in the superior court, has designated Daniel Sprang as receiver of the Sprang Clay Products company, against which concern suit on account and for receiver was filed Thursday in the superior court by the Fort Wayne Oil and Supply company.

LIQUOR LICENSES GRANTED.

THE DEATHS.

RINEHART.

Theresa Rinehart, wife of William A. Rinehart, of 1205 Taylor street, died Thursday afternoon at the St. Joseph hospital, where she was removed a few days ago. Death was due to complications from which she had been suffering for the past three years. Mr. Rinehart is employed as a blacksmith at the corner of Taylor and Broadway.

The deceased was born and raised in this city and was married May 10, 1891, to Mr. Rinehart. She was a member of the St. Paul's Catholic church and also of the various societies of the same congregation. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Walter, Marie, Helen and Cecelia Rinehart. Other surviving relatives are the father, Anthony Walker, and three sisters, Mrs. William Steckbeck, Mrs. Edward Haffner and Miss Marie Walker, all of this city, and three brothers, Frank J. Walker, of Louisville, Ky.; Joseph Walker, of St. Louis, and Edward Walker, of Danville, Ky.

Funeral services Sturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the residence and at 9 o'clock at the St. Paul's Catholic church. Burial at the Catholic cemetery.

BRICKER.

Shortly after he had returned from the business district of the city, Thursday afternoon, Conrad Bricker, aged 77 years, was stricken with heart trouble and a short time later died at his home on Thomas street. Death was a shock to all those who knew him as he had apparently been in the best of health and had conversed with a few of his friends a short time before death intervened.

The deceased was a retired engineer of the G. R. & I. road and had worked for that company for many years. He was also a civil war veteran and a member of the Lawton-Wayne post, G. A. R. veterans, and always took an active part in the work of the organization.

He is survived by the widow and a son, Homer A. Bricker, who resides at home, 2126 Thomas street, and two brothers, one living in Pasadena, Cal., and the other in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 1:30 at the residence when the Union Veteran Legion will hold flag service and the G. A. R. wil have charge of the services at the grave.

NEWHAUS.

Ronald J. Newhaus, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Newhaus, of 1002 Archer avenue, died Thursday evening at 9:30 o'clock. Death was due to exhaustion and came at the age of twenty-two days. Besides the parents he is survived by one brother and one sister.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at the residence at 1:30 o'clock and at 2 o'clock at the Precious Blood Catholic church, Rev. Father Hummer officiating. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Fear of extensive crop damage in Argentina gave a lift today to the price of wheat. The opening, which varied from ⅛@¼c off to ⅛@⅜c up, was followed by a moderate rise all around.

Shorts made the provision market firm. Offerings were scanty owing to the stoppage of hog receipts here, beginning tonight.

REAL ESTATE. REAL ESTATE.

BE OPTIMISTIC AND FORT WAYNE WILL CONTINUE TO GROW.

In our judgment prosperity is coming. The increase in export trade has only commenced and continued increase and demands from abroad will not only help the farmer but will help our manufacturers as well.

MORAL—Buy real estate this fall while you can get it cheap, as we can look for a big boom in the spring. If you do not buy of us, who always have the largest list, at least buy a bargain of someone.

MONROE W. FITCH & SONS. PHONES 1360 AND 1361.

Above agency does not only sell the earth but insure everything on it, and they also are agents for Fellsmere lands, the greatest thoroughly drained, black dirt proposition ever offered in Florida.

Here's some fine bargains. Four acres, and seven acres, and ten acres with fine buildings, and five acres, ten acres, and fifteen acres, without buildings, at the interurban, convenient to Fort Wayne. See me for price and inspection. Good, dandy new house with 17 large lots; it's a mighty good investment proposition. I have a dandy close-in small farm proposition to exchange for city property.

11 STATES GIVE VOTE TO WOMEN

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Women now have full suffrage in eleven states and in the territory of Alaska, according to latest returns last night, which apparently gave the franchise to women in Nevada and Montana. Late tabulation of the vote gave equal suffrage a lead of 1,317 in Montana and 3,500 in Nevada.

In addition to the eleven states now listed as granting full franchise to women, women have the right to vote for certain officers in twenty-two other states. In Illinois, one of the twenty-two, women may vote for all statutory offices, including presidential electors.

The twenty-two states allowing partial suffrage to women are:

The old saying is "There's nothing new under the sun," but that old saying was made up before there was any JAP-A-LAC in the world—now the old saying is so old it has outlived its usefulness, for JAP-A-LAC makes the old things new—it makes everything under the sun new and beautiful.

JAP-A-LAC is made in 21 beautiful colors and Natural (Clear) and it's so easy to use that any clever woman can get beautiful results with it. It comes in all sizes from 10c cans up. Ask to see it in our paint department.

And these are only fifteen out of many hundred too. The specials we advertise in this issue are duplicated in value many times in our large stock in each of our four stores.

At a meeting of the students and patrons of the Blume school in St. Joe township Thursday evening a civic discussion club was organized. The principal feature of the meeting was an address by Ross F. Lockridge, secretary of the Citizens' League of Indiana. Mr. Lockridge told of the debating clubs years ago which long since have gone out of existence. He urged a reorganization of such clubs as an aid in making the school a social center.

Miss Grace Smith, a teacher in the Blume school, presided at the meeting, naming the following persons to participate in a discussion to be held on Nov. 19 on the question of whether Indiana needs a new constitution: James Notestine, Ralph Ashley, Virgil Blume, Hubert Martin, Miss Zoa Davis and Miss Smith. The following persons were named as members of the constitutional committee: Hubert Martin, Ralph Ashley, Virgil Blume and Harvey Davis. Members of the program committee are: Lemon McNutt, Albert Smith and Miss Esther Davis. Miss Blanche Davis will have charge of the music.

There's a Difference in Drug Buying

Drug buying is an art. There's truth in the statement that "Goods well bought are half sold." This is due to the fact that it is easier to sell people what they want and need than to sell them just anything.

If you are a particular drug buyer and appreciate right quality, right service and right prices, then you should come to our store.

A Neglected Cough May Become Chronic
